G. O. P. LEADERS HAIL MIDWEST VOTE VICTORIES

Viewed as Rebuff to Roosevelt Regime.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., April 2.—Overturns in yesterday's municipal elections in favor of the Republicans in St. Louis, Duluth, and other midwestern cities were hailed by Republican leaders today as significant of popular dissatisfaction with the record of the Democratic party in control of the national government.

"St. Louis had a Democratic mayor and went Democratic in the November election," said Representative Joseph W. Martin Jr. of Massachusetts, Republican leader of the house and chairman of the Republican National committee. "Yesterday St. Louis elected a Republican mayor by a large majority. In Duluth there was a similar party overturn when a Republican was elected mayor of that city.

"The evidence is impressive that the Republican trend manifested in the middle west in the November elections is continuing with increasing momentum.

"A month ago a Republican was elected to the State Supreme court in southern Illinois for the first time in a century.

"No less impressive is the big vote the new Republican congressman, Joseph C. Baldwin, received in the recent by-election in New York City. There is no doubt in my mind that these Republican victories signify a deep seated reaction against the party in power in Washington."

BEATS 2-TERM DEMOCRAT

St. Louis, Mo., April 2 (AP).—A Republican whose slogan was "Smash Boss Rule," will replace two term Bernard F. Dickmann, Democrat, as mayor of St. Louis.

William Dee Becker, judge of the St. Louis court of appeals, won yesterday's election, 183,112 to 147,428 votes, after a bitterly waged campaign in which he charged Dickmann with heading a machine that tried to steal the governorship.

Yesterday's reversals suffered by the Democrats, who also were beaten in aldermanic contests, were in contrast with the voting last November when Democratic majorities ranged up to 40,000.

REPUBLICAN WINS DULUTH

Duluth, Minn., April 2 [Special].—Edward H. Hatch, a leader in county and city Republican politics, was elected mayor today of this lake port city of more than 100,000 which had voted decisively Democratic in the last two national elections.

Returns from yesterday's voting showed Hatch defeated the incumbent, Mayor C. R. Berghult, by a substantial margin. Hatch was chairman of the St. Louis county Republican committee, but ran as an independent in the nonpartisan election.

SWEEP COURT ELECTIONS

In Tuesday's elections in Illinois, Republicans swept three special judicial elections and regained the office of mayor from Democrats in two key cities.

Republican judges elected were State Senator George C. Dixon of Dixon, who defeated Louis F. Reinhold, Freeport Democrat, to fill a vacancy in the 15th circuit; Earl Knox, elected Henderson county judge over M. E. Nolan, Democrat, and William Coppel, who defeated Kenneth H. Lemmer, Democrat, for Macon county judge.

E. N. Woodruff, Republican mayor of Peoria on and off for 20 years, was returned to office. He defeated William C. Whalen, Democratic alderman. A Democrat, David McClugage, has been Peoria's mayor for the last four years.

Leo W. Lenane, Democratic mayor of Quincy for eight years, met defeat at the hands of Edward J. Schneidman, Adams county campaign manager for Gov. Dwight Green.

Mayor Mark B. Hayes of Bloomington, a Republican, who won by 39 votes four years ago over Louis F. Wellmerling, Democrat, increased his margin to 600 votes in winning reelection over the same opponent.

MASS 50 MILES FROM CAPITAL; ATTACK FEARED

Two Serb Ships Hit Own Mines; Sink.

BELGRADE, Jugo-Slavia, April 3, Thursday (AP).—Formidable concentrations of German motorized blitzkrieg units were reported in diplomatic messages early today to be concentrating in Nazi occupied Rumania just across the frontier from the Jugo-Slav town of Bela Crkva. That border point is less than 50 miles from Belgrade.

The report caused alarm in the capital because it would be one of the logical points from which the Germans might launch an attack on Belgrade itself. Other diplomatic dispatches said fast German divisions were massing near Szeged, in southern Hungary across from Jugo-Slavia. Nazi troops also were reported moving westward across Bulgaria.

The entire German legation staff with the exception of the chargé d'affaires was ordered by Berlin today to leave Jugo-Slavia immediately.

Jugo-Slavia, watching the German moves closely, dispatched more troops to its northern and eastern frontiers.

Two Ships Sunk by Mines.

Secretly sown Jugo-Slav mines sank two Jugo-Slav passenger ships in the Adriatic sea late yesterday as the vessels sped toward home ports in fear of war.

The ships were the 1,293 ton Karadjordje and the 1,726 ton Prestolonaslednik Petar, which went down in the bay of Obrovac, 23 miles east and north of the Italian city of Zara, which is on the Dalmatian shore. All crewmen were saved.

The sinkings disclosed the mining, which apparently had been carried out within the week.

Adding to the tension was a statement attributed to Vladimir Macek, Croat Peasant leader, that Jugo-Slavia's chances of peace with Germany were extremely slim.

Undecided on Government Post.

Macek has not yet fully decided to accept the proffered vice-premiership in the new Jugo-Slav government. Macek's associates said he favored peace at almost any cost.

A statement that the Croat-Serb question had been settled was made by Dr. August Kosutitch, who has represented Macek in Belgrade the last week. Kosutitch said Macek would come to Belgrade late today.

For the second time in 24 hours the Berlin press and radio campaigns, reminiscent of those launched by Germany before the attack on Poland which began the war, brought a brief and firm government denial of charges of "atrocities."

Sound Air Raid Alarm.

Skolpje, important Jugo-Slav city which lies midway between Bulgaria and Albania in the militarily important Vardar river valley, had an eight minute air raid alarm yesterday. It was caused by three foreign planes of undisclosed nationality which flew high apparently on reconnaissance.

These developments led diplomats here to conclude, like Macek, that the chances of war were greater than ever. This was notwithstanding attempts of the Italians to stave it off by what the diplomats called feeble maneuvering.

Refuses Italian "Aid."

The Italians were said to be attempting to get Premier Gen. Dusan Simovitch to go to Rome and seek Premier Mussolini's "aid" toward satisfying Adolf Hitler. This, said circles close to the government, Simovitch refuses to do.

[Other dispatches said the Italian minister, S. Mamelli, left the Jugo-Slav foreign office late Wednesday afternoon at the end of a one hour visit and Jugo-Slav cabinet conferences began immediately afterward.]

The Italian desire to stave off war here was seen by some diplomats as prompted by Fascist fear that the Jugo-Slavs would join the Greeks in fighting in Albania.

[Newspaper dispatches received in Budapest, Hungary, reported that two Rumanian trains carrying wheat and oil to Italy were confiscated by the Jugo-Slav government.]

Balk 6 Indiana Felons' Daring Plot to Escape

Six convicts—five of them lifers—made a desperate break for liberty from the Indiana state prison at Michigan City late last night. The attempted escape was balked just as four of them were about to scale the walls.

The daring attempt covered a period of nearly two hours, during which two prison guards were seized and made prisoner. Prison officials identified the convicts as follows:

Alphonse Skusewich, 22 years old, serving two life sentences for accessory to murder; Richard Sweet, 28, serving a life sentence for kidnaping, for which he was originally condemned to death; Paul Pierce, 41, serving life for murdering an Indianapolis detective; Fred Adams, 29, serving life for murder; Kenneth Rogers, serving life for causing injury while committing a felony, and Theodore Hulbert, 30, serving 12 years for robbery.

Four Have Escaped.

The last four have each escaped one or more times from either the prison or the prison farm. Skusewich and Sweet made a sensational attempt to escape June 27, 1939, by taking possession of a prison office and holding a social worker, Mrs. Ruth Joiner, as a hostage with a knife at her throat.

All six convicts were regarded as among the toughest in prison. They were confined in a third floor section officially known as seclusion row, but referred to by convicts as the "Little Alcatraz." Each man was kept in an individual cell with one inch thick bars.

Some time ago—perhaps weeks or months—they secretly came into possession of hack saws. With these each man cut thru three bars of his cell—a total of 18 bars. They soaped the cuts to conceal their work until all were ready.

All Armed with Knives.

At 9 o'clock last night the six desperadoes broke out of their cells. Each was armed with a knife, some homemade. They overpowered James Copeland, section guard, and held him captive an hour while they made ropes out of bedsheets. During this time he was forced to make regular phone calls to his office that all was well. There was an unconfirmed report that Copeland was stabbed. The guards do not carry firearms.

The convicts then entered an outdoor room on the third floor. While Sweet and Adams held Copeland, Skusewich, Pierce, Rogers, and Hulbert lowered themselves to the ground. There they met and captured another guard, Joe Bukowski.

A few minutes later the desperadoes raised a 30 foot pipe to the main prison wall. Rogers started to climb up. A tower guard saw him under the flood lights and fired two shots. Rogers jumped down, fracturing both wrists. At the same time other guards, headed by Capt. J. K. Farrell, ran up and placed them in custody. Sweet and Adams were seized, too.

BRITAIN'S FAR EAST CHIEF IN MILITARY PARLEY AT MANILA

MANILA, P. I., April 2 (AP).—Sir Robert Brooke-Popham, commander of British forces in the far east, arrived today by plane from Singapore. He conferred with Admiral Thomas C. Hart, commander of the United States Asiatic fleet, and Gen. Douglas MacArthur, retired, now military adviser to the Philippines.

The visit was unofficial, authoritative sources emphasized, and was not to be interpreted as meaning any new move toward closer Anglo-American coöperation in the far east.

VIRGINIA WOOLF, NOVELIST, FEARED DROWNING VICTIM

LONDON, April 2 (AP).—The Press association said today that Mrs. Virginia Woolf, British novelist, was feared by her family to have been drowned while walking near her home at Lewes last Friday. She was about 50 years old. Leonard Woolf, her husband, told the Press association: "Mrs. Woolf is presumed to be dead. She went for a walk Friday, leaving a letter behind. It is thought she has been drowned." Contents of the letter were not disclosed. The River Ouse runs by the Woolf home. Among her works are "The Years," "Three Guineas," "The Waves," "Flush," and "The Second Common Reader."

Gunman Holds Up Bank and Shoots Its Competitor

Wilber, Neb., April 2 [Special].—A gunman held up the Saline State bank today but fled without money when he heard an employé in a back room. Apparently excited, he fired a shot wildly and the bullet struck the foot of Henry Jelinek, cashier of the rival Wilber State bank, who was in the Saline bank on business.

Save America from Ruinous Policy—Dewey

An appeal to the American people to protest against administration measures which "may mean complete bankruptcy and possibly the destruction of our democracy" was made yesterday by Congressman Charles S. Dewey of Chicago. He spoke before the Chicago Association of Commerce at a luncheon in the Palmer House.

Charles S. Dewey.

Under the guise of measures vital to national defense, Dewey charged, many extravagant and unnecessary expenditures are being authorized. He characterized the administration's proposal for the St. Lawrence seaway as such a measure.

Asks for Common Sense.

"It is the people who must demand that this foolishness stop," he said. "Don't sit by, stunned, and say, 'It's only another billion.' I am not a defeatist. We will come out of this all right if we use common sense.

"Remember that it is your money and your standard of living that are being jeopardized. Be practical. Demand that the administration and the congress be practical. In this way only can we do our duty to ourselves and to civilization."

46½ Billion Appropriated.

At no time, Dewey charged, has the administration given any indication of how far its policy of vast expenditures may be carried without bankrupting the nation, nor has any administration leader suggested a sound, comprehensive fiscal policy and tax system to support the "all out" program.

Since Jan. 1, 1940, congress has appropriated 46½ billion dollars, Dewey pointed out. This includes 31½ billions for national defense, the 7 billions to finance the lease-lend bill, and ordinary nonmilitary expenses of the government during this period of 8 billion dollars.

Dewey, formerly an assistant secretary of the treasury and from 1927 to 1931 financial adviser to the republic of Poland and director of its national

Seek to Settle Ford Strike in Parleys Today

BY HAL FOUST.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

(Pictures on page 8 and back page.)

Detroit, Mich., April 3, Thursday.—Attempts to reopen the Ford Motor company's River Rouge plant, a half billion dollar industrial giant employing 85,000 men, are to be resumed at conferences this morning. The plant was closed yesterday after the CIO United Automobile Workers went on strike amid scenes of violence.

Federal Labor Conciliator James F. Dewey announced the plan to continue the conference today after a three hour executive session with five representatives of the motor factory headed by Harry Mack, Dearborn branch manager, delegated to speak for the Ford company.

Keep Plant in Condition.

"Most of last night's meeting," said Dewey, "was consumed in straightening out details of an agreement reached in the afternoon by Gov. Murray Van Wagoner's mediation board. The company is to make no attempt to resume production during the negotiation. The union is to permit office help, clerks, timekeepers, and the like, about 1,500 of them, to report for work. Maintenance men [about 3,500] are to remain on the job.

"These details approved by the company representatives also were approved by labor representatives."

While the factory men met with Dewey and the governor's mediation board on the sixth floor of a downtown hotel, union officers were in a room a few floors above. Dewey, limping painfully from arthritis, hobbled from one camp to the other.

More Sessions Today.

"Some matters were discussed for the company officials to ponder until noon," Dewey continued. "With the state's mediators we are to meet with them again here at 11 o'clock this morning. At 1 o'clock this afternoon the labor men will meet with the mediators and me."

"Was any mention made of resuming work on Ford's 150 million dollar's worth of armament contracts?" he was asked.

"We haven't reached that point," he replied. "I've been in touch with Secretary of Labor Frances Perkins and with the Office of Production Management [William Knudsen's office] but I am not at liberty to tell the substance of these conversations."

At the plant in the industrial suburb of Dearborn, there was quiet during the night where a few score heads had been slugged during the previous 24 hours. CIO officials aided in dispersing pickets that sometimes during the day numbered 20,000. This was part of the agreement with Gov. Van Wagoner that both the company and the strikers would aid state police in preserving order.

Conflict Four Years Old.

Before yesterday's violence began the company had invited all workers, except the eight CIO organizers who were discharged Tuesday, to return to their jobs, precipitating a showdown in a conflict that has been brewing since 1937. The company contends the CIO members are a minority among its 85,000 employés. A few thousand workers who showed up this morning were turned back by pickets.

In this fight by Henry Ford to maintain his independence in the operation of the industrial empire that is his own creation, his agreement to negotiate was not interpreted as surrender. For four years he has fought against New Deal legislation and litigation, usually losing on his contention that what is his is his, not to be regulated by CIO or federal labor authorities.

"Communistic Terrorism."

The fighting spirit of the 76 year old individualist was seen in a telegram to President Roosevelt.

"Unlawful sitdown strike," said the wire, "followed by seizure of highway approaches and entrances to the plant in a communistic demonstration of violence and terrorism have prevented the vast majority of our 85,000 employés from going to work today. Communist leaders are actively directing this lawlessness. Agitators schooled in communist tactics of mass action have been imported from neighboring states of Ohio and Indiana, and from other automobile plants in this locality.

"Local and state law enforcement agencies appear to be unable to cope with the situation. Restoration of law and order necessary."

HOUSE AROUSED OVER TIEUPS OF ARMS PROGRAM

Roosevelt Is Blasted for His Inaction.

BY WILLARD EDWARDS.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., April 2.—An investigation of the nation's rearmament program, with emphasis on an inquiry into the strikes which are hampering production of war materials, was voted, 324 to 1, by the house today.

Representative Smith.

The liveliest session of the year preceded the vote. President Roosevelt was criticized for his inaction in the labor crisis which was characterized as "Red insurrection and rebellion" by Representative Howard W. Smith [D., Va.].

Marcantonio Votes "No."

The congressional inquiry will be conducted by the military and naval affairs committees, which were clothed with broad powers in the resolution. Only Representative Vito Marcantonio, American Labor party member of New York City, voted against the inquiry, asserting it converted the two committees into strike breaking agencies. Marcantonio was elected with communist party support.

The two-committee investigation will open within a few days, the chairmen promised, as soon as a plan of action has been drafted. Open hearings probably will not be held until after congress returns from its Easter vacation.

Demand Action on Allis Case.

In the senate as well as the house, demands were made that the government intervene to reopen the Allis-Chalmers Manufacturing company plant at West Allis, Wis., Milwaukee suburb, but the President merely referred to government agencies an appeal from Gov. Julius P. Heil of Wisconsin for federal intervention. Mr. Roosevelt said yesterday existing mediation machinery had not yet been given a "fair trial."

Representative Smith denounced the "labor dictators who are sabotaging the defense program."

"We vote 32 billions to fight dictators 3,000 miles away," he cried, "but what are this congress and this administration doing about dictators in our own country?"

Loud applause greeted this query.

"We sit here, seeing the living example of a rioting, prostrate France," Smith continued, "and while we look at that and while we look at headlines proclaiming bloody riots at defense factories, what do we do? We blithely vote to take a recess for 10 days."

Charges Communist Leadership.

Smith referred to a previous vote of the house to take an Easter holiday, recessing from tomorrow until April 14.

"Are we going to wake up and resume the responsibility that is ours?" asked Smith. "Red insurrection and rebellion prevail at the Allis-Chalmers plant. Blood flows in that area over a strike that was called after a fraudulent election, a strike brought about by a communist who is dictator of labor in that section.

"What do we find at the Ford factory? We find the old technique of the sitdown strike. What is the sitdown strike? Call it what you will, it is anarchy, nothing more and nothing less.

"I say to you that the people of this country are not going to be satisfied with the answer that we must do nothing for fear we may offend somebody's delicate sensibilities."

Claims It Is Up to States.

Representative Hatton W. Sumners [D., Tex.], chairman of the judiciary committee which is considering legislation to curb strikes against the armaments program, took the floor to assert that it was the responsibility of the states to preserve peace and order within their boundaries.

"What are they going to do," shouted Representative Robert Rich [R., Pa.], "when the federal government takes away the militia with which to preserve order? What is the governor going to use?"

"Brave men like you," responded Sumners. He took the floor later, however, to admit that "the responsibility for the larger aspects of the

ITALY'S ERITREAN ARMY IN FLIGHT TOWARD ETHIOPIA

Port of Massaua Reported Near Surrender.

CAIRO, Egypt, April 2 (AP).—Between 30,000 and 40,000 Italian soldiers, the beaten remnants of the Fascist army in Eritrea, are fleeing southward toward Addis Ababa, the Ethiopian capital, as fast as they can, British military sources said tonight.

The only major point left under the Italian flag in Italy's oldest colony is Massaua, Red sea port, and that city was described as on the brink of capitulation.

[The British radio in a broadcast heard in New York said Italian troops are evacuating Massaua.]

The Fascists reported leaving Eritrea plus approximately 60,000 other Italian troops virtually isolated in Ethiopia are all the Italian troops left to fight in East Africa.

Weakness of Massaua's Position.

The weakness of Massaua's position was indicated by the British admiralty. It announced that an Italian destroyer of the 1,526 ton Pantera class was sunk by naval aircraft of the East Indies command as it fled from Massaua, and that near the same port the British destroyer Kandahar intercepted the 4,188 ton German freighter Bertram Rickmers.

If the Italian troops fleeing Eritrea hope to join the armies of the duke of Aosta in Ethiopia, they will have a rigorous 400 mile trek across the mountains to Addis Ababa.

[Another dispatch, from Berne, Switzerland, said reports were current there that the duke of Aosta had sent emissaries by plane to Gen. Wavell, British commander, to request his terms for surrender on the Ethiopian front.]

Capture Town in South.

As for the 60,000 Italians virtually isolated in the wilds of Ethiopia, British columns already are thrusting in from captured Diredawa toward Addis Ababa. The South African air force announced widespread bombing and machine gunning of Italian positions in southern Ethiopia, leading to Italian surrender of Soroppa, north of Yavello.

In the Libyan desert of North Africa, British and German advance units sparred inconclusively. The British command acknowledged increased axis pressure, announcing withdrawal of British advance forces northeast of Mersa Brega in the face of a German-Italian advance.

[A German communique said that armored German units aided by German and Italian aviation had taken one advanced position and one fortified outpost and that the British had retreated to Agedabia.]

As evidence of British control of the Mediterranean, over which any axis reinforcements for Libya must come, the admiralty announced that one British submarine had destroyed an Italian submarine and the 3,645 ton Italian tanker Laura Corrado.

Italian Retreat in East Africa

(Story in adjoining column.)

Defeated Italian troops were retreating from Eritrea toward Ethiopia yesterday in the face of British victories.

GREEK BENEFIT RAISES $50,000 FOR WAR RELIEF

The Greek war relief "Show of Shows," presented to a capacity audience last night in the Civic Opera house, raised an estimated $50,000.

Managers of the affair said the show was produced without expense, even the stage hands donating their services. Nothing was paid to the galaxy of stage and movie stars who appeared and were resoundingly applauded by the spectators, who paid $10 for their downstairs seats and $250 each for boxes. The admissions alone accounted for $36,000, it was reported.

Jack Benny was master of ceremonies. John Balaban was the chairman of the show and Nate Platt was the show's producer.

Among the entertainers were Irene Hervy, the Quiz Kids of the radio, Gertrude Niesen, Ed Wynn, Eddie Duchin [with his band], the Muriel Abbott dancers, members of the "Pins and Needles" cast, Bob Crosby and his band, Clarence Stroud, Mary Beth Hughes, and Blackstone the magician.

At the end of the show personal gifts of motion picture stars sent to the society were auctioned off for large sums. Lionel Barrymore donated one of his etchings, Deanna Durbin a handbag, Bing Crosby a scarf, and Marlene Dietrich a slightly used lipstick.

Sir David John Owen, former general manager of the port of London authority, was reported resting comfortably in his room in the Palmer House last night. He is suffering from a heart ailment, with which he was stricken last week while en route from Hongkong to London. Sir David is 67 years old. He is under the care of Dr. E. F. Addenbrooke, Palmer House physician.

NAZI BOMBERS RAID TOWNS OF EASTERN BRITAIN

LONDON, April 2 (AP).—Industrial buildings on the east coasts of England and Scotland were damaged by German air raiders today, the government acknowledged tonight. Some casualties were admitted. It was announced one Nazi plane was shot down during the day.

The air ministry announced that British planes had torpedoed a merchant ship and machine gunned small German naval vessels off the continental coast yesterday.

Tells of U-Boat's Record.

BERLIN, April 2 (AP).—A German submarine in the North Atlantic sank five British ships, or ships that were in British service, amounting to 35,300 tons, authorized sources announced today. Most of the ships were said to have been in convoy. The date of the attack was not disclosed.

GREEKS DESTROY 3 BOMBERS ON ALBANIAN FRONT

ATHENS, April 2 (AP).—The Greek command tonight announced destruction of three Italian bombers by Greek antiaircraft fire while patrol and artillery activity continued on the Albanian front.

A Greek spokesman said, "Excepting an Italian attempt to recapture a resistance point referred to in last night's communique, which was broken up with heavy losses, the enemy has not showed up anywhere on the front. "Among the material captured at this resistance center were 200 rifles, nine machine guns, 10 mortars, and one wireless transmitter."

At another point on the front, in a range of 6,000 foot mountains, he said, "a small force of Italian skiers was wiped out. The only two who survived were taken prisoners."

BRITON ASSAILED FOR NOT BEARING DOWN ON LABOR

Bevin Replies with Blasts at Industrialists.

BY LARRY RUE.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, April 2.—Two members of the house of commons today attacked Minister of Labor Ernest Bevin for what they said were his failure to use his power in averting strikes and general slackness in industry. Bevin, in replying, threw the responsibility for the conditions mentioned on parliament and industrialists.

Conservative O. E. Simmonds charge Bevin had taken away the power of dismissal from employers without putting anything effective in its place.

"War industries," Simmonds said, "are still short of skilled and unskilled labor, both men and women. The minister of labor could give the assurance that men and women called up for industrial service should be under as firm an obligation to perform it as tho they were called into the armed forces.

Say He Admits Failure.

"Dockyard workers could, according to the minister's own estimate, increase their output per man by 30 per cent. Has the minister ever more frankly admitted the failure of the policy he has followed?"

Sir Adam Maitland, also a Conservative, declared that "the more courageous and bolder the government appeal [for workers] is, the greater will be the response from the people." Production in munitions works, Maitland asserted, even yet is not what it should be.

Bevin, in answering, said the industrial crisis was the result "of the policy commons had allowed to be followed in the last 15 years in driving skilled men out of industry and closing up plants."

Says Labor Denied Training.

The minister asserted that in peace time industrialists resented state interference, but when the country got into war they had to call on the state to organize and provide the man power to which they had denied training in peace time.

As for using his dictatorial power over labor, Bevin said that "every industrial manager in this country knows that if you overdo the ordering business you get a reaction of disaster."

Bevin's counterattack squashed the opposition and a motion of condemnation was withdrawn.

JAPAN'S PRESS TAUNTS U. S. ON LABOR STRIKES

TOKIO, April 2.—The labor troubles of the United States' war material industries are being watched here with considerable interest.

"Speaking of a spring drive," quipped the nationalistic Majnichi, "American labor seems to have started one already. Who would want to conquer the democracies? They won't work more than 40 hours a week for anybody."

The Japan Times & Advertiser stated:

"These disturbances disclose a great weakness at the core of economic life in America. Apparently a friendly approach is not enough; yet the government hesitates to employ that strength and discipline necessary to a quick settlement. No wonder the President is worried and lays the blame on outside influences. Probably the causes are basically domestic and the President is making charges of 'a widespread campaign of destruction' to justify an impending strong dictatorial policy."

CHINA PLEDGES ANEW TO FIGHT WAR TO ITS END

CHUNGKING, China, April 2 (AP).—The central executive committee of the Chinese government in a manifesto today reiterated its determination to fight Japan until all Japanese troops have been expelled from China.

The manifesto warned that military disobedience would be met by military discipline; threatened punishment of extremists of left or right who sought to exploit economic difficulties by furthering the class struggle or hoarding goods, and insisted that only the government had the right to collect land taxes and to supply necessities of life.

Report Offensive Smashed.

SHANGHAI, China, April 2 (AP).—Japanese army sources declared today their forces in northern Kiangsi province had smashed an attempted offensive by the Chinese in the last fortnight, with the latter leaving 9,000 dead on the battlefield. A big battle was reported raging along the southern shores of Lake Tai, 150 miles west of Shanghai.

5 OF HUTCHINS' COLLEAGUES TO REPLY TO TALK

Five members of the University of Chicago faculty and administrative staff will reply from W-G-N next Sunday to the recent radio warning by Robert M. Hutchins, president of the university, against American involvement in the European war. The program will begin at 10:30 a. m. Speakers will be Bernadotte Schmitt, professor of European history; William H. Spencer, dean of the business school; Jerome G. Kerwin, professor of political science; Ald. Paul H. Douglas, professor of economics, and Richard P. McKeon, dean of the humanities division.

ENDS 60 YEARS OF PROHIBITION.

A U. S. WOMAN JOINS SERBIAN DEATH SOCIETY

Sister of Gen. Mitchell Is 'Ready to Die.'

BELGRADE, Jugo-Slavia, April 2 (AP).—Ruth Mitchell, who identified herself as a sister of the late American flyer, Gen. William [Billy] Mitchell, today was sworn in as the first foreign woman ever to join the revolutionary death defying comitaji. She was given a phial of poison, because the comitaji boasts that no member is ever taken alive, and was made a member of the general staff as a dispatch rider for Kosta Pecanetch, leader of the organization.

Lives in a Hovel.

When war comes the reckless men and women members of the comitaji go ahead of the army doing espionage work. They are experts in getting information out of prisoners.

Leader Pecanetch lives in a peasant hovel on the edge of Belgrade. It was there that Miss Mitchell was initiated into the organization.

[Mrs. Martin Fladoes of Milwaukee, also a sister of the late American airman, said her sister Ruth had been in Belgrade for about a year and that her married name was Mrs. Stanley Knowles.]

Consider Them Dead.

During the initiation ceremony Miss Mitchell watched Pecanetch cross her name off the list of those who have applied for membership, explaining:

"We just cross the name off because we consider you dead when you become one of us. We may all be dead in a few weeks. I expect to die myself. How about you?"

"I am willing, too," Miss Mitchell replied.

The poison given to each member is sewn in the upturned coat collar in such a way that a man or woman, even if manacled, can commit suicide by sucking the poison out of the cloth.

BRITAIN WILL DETAIN EX-PREMIER EXILED FROM JUGO-SLAVIA

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, April 2.—Details of the incident in which Milan Stoyadinovitch, pro-Nazi former premier of Jugo-Slavia, passed into British custody were given to the house of commons today by Richard A. Butler, undersecretary for foreign affairs.

He said the former Jugo-Slav government informed the British government on March 15 that it was going to exile the former premier and "hoped the British government would admit him to British territory and keep him there."

Stoyadinovitch will be kept under detention in British territory, Butler added.

GROUP MEDICAL TESTS PLANNED FOR DRAFTEES

Hope to End Uncertainty on Deferments.

Plans for establishing 50 to 60 examining centers to end the uncertainty over the medical examination of draftees were announced yesterday by Paul G. Armstrong, state director of selective service.

Numerous men approved for service by the physicians of the local draft boards have complained that they were rejected at the induction stations after they had quit their jobs or wound up their business affairs in anticipation of army service. Many said they were unable to get their jobs back.

Conform with Army Tests.

The new plans were adopted at a conference Armstrong held with medical officials. The examining centers will be located in hospitals wherever possible. The men will be examined by a board consisting of the draft board physician and physician volunteers. Armstrong explained that group examinations are better. The examinations will be made to conform with those of army doctors.

Meanwhile Col. Harris P. Ralston, state adviser on occupational deferment, disclosed that officials are gravely concerned over the failure of local draft boards to grant sufficient occupational deferments.

Urges Action by Boards.

Col. Ralston said the officials fear there will not be enough skilled workers left for the national defense program when it gains momentum. A recent survey showed that only 2.3 per cent of the Illinois men have been given occupational deferment, and that only 55 per cent of these are industrial workers. Twenty-eight per cent are farmers. Only 1.5 per cent of Chicagoans have been given occupational deferment.

Col. Ralston said that in many cases patriotic motives prevented both the registrant and his employer from asking such deferment. But the boards, he said, should voluntarily grant it in proper cases and should consider even unemployed men for occupational deferment, since skilled workers will be needed when machine tools are obtained and new plant facilities are provided.

There are 10 classes of men subject to occupational deferment: metal workers, transportation workers, transportation equipment workers, engineers, chemists, architects, foremen, apprentices, aircraft builders, and men in training for industrial jobs.

If all the men eligible were given occupational deferment, Col. Ralston said, the total would not be more than 5 per cent.

CHICAGO CROATS LAUD JUGO-SLAV LEADERS FOR THEIR FIRM STAND

Cablegrams were sent by the Croatian Sokol of Chicago yesterday to Gen. Dusan Simovitch, premier of Jugo-Slavia, and to Vladimir Macek, vice premier, congratulating them on the "constitutional understandng" reached between the Serbs and Croats and the firm stand taken against Hitler. The cables, signed by Joseph Bazdaric, president, and Joseph Mlaker, secretary of the Sokol, said that out of "brotherly coöperation and harmony" would come the safety of Jugo-Slavia and "the ultimate victory of democracy against totalitarianism." The Sokol has 2,000 members.

A DRAFT BOARD SAVES ROMANCE; WEDDING TODAY

County Clerk Michael J. Flynn bought a marriage license yesterday for George and Helen Skotarek with the blessing of draft board 128 at 2044 North avenue. The Skotareks, who were divorced in January, will remarry today. And Skotarek, a rugmaker 34 years old living at 1614 Wabansia avenue, will be given deferment from army service.

When Skotarek answered a draft board summons a few days ago, he disclosed that his son, 3 years old, is in need of medical attention for which there is insufficient money. The father has been paying $5 a week for support of the boy to the child's mother, Mrs. Helen Skotarek, 21.

The draft board then suggested that the couple remarry for the sake of the boy. Mrs. Skotarek agreed. Arrangements for free hospitalization were made. Neighborhood organizations promised to send useful wedding presents.

MRS. LENA MASAEY DIES.

Allegan, Mich., April 2 [Special]. — Mrs. Lena Masaey, 75, died yesterday. She is survived by a son, Forrest Masaey, Allegan, and a daughter, Mrs. Ermabelle Ellinger of Grand Rapids.

TRIBUNE EMPLOYE DETAINED 2 HOURS BY BERLIN POLICE

BERLIN, April 3, Thursday (AP).—Two American residents of Berlin were arrested last night, but later released. They were John Paul Dickson of THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE and Mutual Broadcasting system and Arthur K. Dunning, secretary of the American Chamber of Commerce. Dunning is a native of Bath, Me., but has lived in Berlin for about 50 years. Also arrested and released were a New York Negro music student and a Californian whose names were not disclosed.

Police told the American consulate the order relating to Dickson and Dunning had come from "higher up," and no reason was given for the two hour detention. An authorized spokesman said later there apparently had been "some mistake."

Dickson, 34 years old and a native of Norfolk, Va., joined the Berlin staff of THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE and the Mutual Broadcasting system in October, 1940 and later was appointed the permanent Berlin representative of MBS. His work for THE TRIBUNE was under the direction of its Berlin bureau chief, Sigrid Schultz. When she left for the United States on leave about two months ago he took over her weekly broadcasts on MBS, speaking on Thursday nights.

Dickson attended Andover academy and Brown and Yale universities. He went abroad as an exchange student and has been in Germany for 11 years studying and teaching languages until the outbreak of the war forced him to give up that work.

2 GERMAN SHIPS AFIRE AT SEA; CREWS MISSING

Armed Canadian Craft Roams Vicinity.

LIMA, Peru, April 2 (AP).—The German merchant ships Muenchen and Hermonthis, which fled Callao harbor on Monday night, were discovered burning and sinking more than 200 miles south of Callao, the Peruvian naval ministry reported tonight.

The Peruvian cruiser Grau located the ships and then began looking for the crews. Life boats were missing from the ships.

The armed Canadian merchantman Prince Robert, 6,892 tons, was known to have been off this part of the western South American coast recently, since it called at Callao harbor a few days ago.

Ships Search for Crews.

The Peruvian warship first sighted the 5,619 ton Muenchen in flames about 200 miles south of Callao and 100 miles off the coast.

Several hours later the 4,833 ton Hermonthis was found afire and sinking. Its crew and lifeboats also were missing.

Peruvian planes and other ships had been searching for the ships which left port without clearance papers. Two other German ships in Callao and another in the harbor of Paita were scuttled.

Nazi Ship Leaves Chile.

SANTIAGO, Chile, April 2 (AP).—The 6,951 ton German freighter Osorno sailed late today from Talcahuano harbor while three other German ships in Chilean harbors prepared to leave. The Osorno was reported to have cleared for Hamburg but she carried little fuel.

Mexicans Foil Plot on 9 Ships.

TAMPICO, Mexico, April 2 (AP).—German seamen on the 9,660 ton liner Orinoco resisted but were overpowered by a Mexican boarding party tonight as the marines frustrated an alleged plot to scuttle and burn the axis ships harbored here.

Vice Admiral Luis Hurtado de Mendoza said the crews of nine seized vessels in Tampico harbor had plotted to destroy their ships tonight. Marines discovered in the exhaust line of the Italian tanker Fede a TNT bomb connected to explode when the engine was started, the officers declared.

Taken Off by 200 Marines.

The gunboat Querteraro immediately was sent to remove the crews of all the ships.

The crews came ashore peacefully from all the ships except the Orinoco, whose 225 men either refused to leave or tried to hide. They were forcibly removed after a scuffle with 200 marines.

The captains of the vessels were arrested and the crews were placed in custody of the ministry of the interior, which will determine their status as aliens.

Salvage operations were started on the 2,005 ton Atlas, Italian tanker which was scuttled last night in the Panarco river.

Besides the Atlas and nine other vessels here, Mexico seized two axis ships at Vera Cruz.

Protest by Venezuela.

CARACAS, Venezuela, April 2 (AP).—Venezuela today protested to German and Italian diplomatic representatives here tonight against the burning and scuttling of four axis ships in Venezuela yesterday. The notes held that the axis governments were responsible for the conduct of the crews.

Japan Is Warned by England; Hint Axis Pact to Curb U. S.

U. S. Backs London

BY LARRY RUE.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, April 2.—The British government has informed the Japanese ambassador that it is dissatisfied with Japan's trade policy in China, and is "working closely" with the United States on this subject, Richard A. Butler, undersecretary for foreign affairs, told the house of commons today.

Richard A. Butler.

"I took a recent opportunity," he said, "of drawing the attention of the Japanese ambassador to the state of affairs in China, which the government found it impossible to reconcile with past protestations of the Japanese government about the maintenance of the 'open door.'

"The Japanese say their policy is unchanged, whereas the more we look at the situation the more unsatisfactory it is seen to be."

Asked if Britain were working closely with America in this matter, Butler said, "We always do that in everything."

Matsuoka 'Deal'

ROME, April 2 (AP).—Japan's foreign minister, Yosuke Matsuoka, has agreed with Premier Benito Mussolini and Adolf Hitler on a joint plan of action against the United States in the event of American involvement, declared or undeclared, in hostilities against the axis powers, authoritative Italians indicated today.

Virginio Gayda, authoritative Fascist editor, declared:

"Every new real act of belligerency by third powers, even without a declaration, will find the tripartite pact functioning with all its formidable means on and over the vast world scene on which it is capable of extending its influence."

Foreign observers were still skeptical, however, as to how far Matsuoka had pledged his country's direct aid to Italy and Germany.

Matsuoka talked with Pope Pius XII. for 65 minutes at the Vatican.

Diplomatic observers ruled out any possibility of a Japanese attempt at mediation between Britain and the European axis powers, taking as their cue a declaration by Matsuoka of confidence in victory for Japan and her allies in Europe, Africa, and Asia.

The Japanese will go to Berlin tomorrow for further talks with Hitler.

PARISIANS TO GET ONLY ONE-THIRD OF MEAT RATION

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PARIS, April 2.—From now until fall Parisians can hope to receive no more than one-third of their usual meat ration, food supply officials said today.

Prewar meat consumption in Paris averaged four ounces a person daily. The new cut in April rations reduces this amount to 1¼ ounces a day. Because of the war and its aftermaths, France has lost 20 per cent of its cattle, 25 per cent of its sheep, 30 per cent of its horses, and 60 per cent of its hogs.

One cause for cheer, however, is to be found in the potato crop forecast. Potatoes, it was said, will be so abundant that they can be used to take the place of rarer foodstuffs now unavailable.

CANADIAN PAPER CLEARED IN TRIAL OVER EDITORIAL

OTTAWA, ONT., April 2—[Canadian Press].—The Citizen Publishing Company, Ltd., today was acquitted by Magistrate Glenn E. Strike on two charges preferred under the Defense of Canada regulations in connection with an editorial published Jan. 11 in the morning and evening newspapers, Citizen and Evening Citizen.

The magistrate based his verdict on the regulation providing that "it shall be a defense to any prosecution . . . to prove that the person accused intended in good faith merely to criticize, or to point out errors, or defects in" the government or the administration of justice.

A paragraph of the editorial, which Justice Minister Ernest Lapointe had termed "subversive," read: "When the lads come home from overseas after some years of service at the real business end of a Bren gun they will know better where to shoot than Canadian veterans did in the years of debt and privation after the last war." A later editorial explained the paper meant the men would "shoot with ballots."

Lord Haw-Haw Admits He's Joyce, British Fascist

New York, April 2 [Special].—Lord Haw-Haw, Germany's anonymous radio commentator who has kept up a verbal attack on the British thruout the winter, finally has confirmed that he is William Joyce, British Fascist. In an English language broadcast recorded here today Joyce said he had "abandoned" England "because I would not fight against the fuehrer and national socialism."

HEALTH OF U. S. MEN A DISGRACE, PARRAN ASSERTS

Boston, Mass., April 2 (AP).—Surgeon General Thomas Parran of the United States Public Health service said tonight it was a national disgrace that from 30 to 40 per cent of men otherwise available for military service are being deferred by reason of physical defects.

Parran, who returned recently from a study of public health conditions in wartime London, said the United States, in addition to its problem of physical man power, had sanitation problems near certain defense areas that were more acute than some he had seen in the war zone.

"I heard much of depressing conditions in the air raid shelters in London," he said in an address before the New England Health institute. "I was astonished to find that in the worst of them sanitation was much better than among our civilian families in a dozen booming defense areas I could mention."

N. Y. State Senate Rejects House Stand on Seaway

Albany, N. Y., April 2 (AP).—The New York state senate today rejected, 20 to 25, an assembly approved resolution opposing the St. Lawrence seaway development as "a national folly" and "highly unwarranted in the present national crisis."

GIRL, 12, CALLS FIREMEN; SAVES DRESS.

Marie Belo, 12 years old, summoned the fire department and then carried out her new dress when she discovered fire in her home at 9223 Woodlawn avenue during the absence of her parents. Firemen extinguished the blaze after it had caused $1,000 damage.

ITALIAN CRUISERS HIT MANY TIMES BY BRITISH SHELLS

75 Per Cent Found Their Mark, Captain Relates.

BY LARRY ALLEN.

ALEXANDRIA, Egypt, April 2 (AP).—The battleship Valiant, heaviest armed of the British Mediterranean fleet, was credited today with the major rôle in the destruction of Italy's two prize 10,000 ton cruisers, the Fiume and the Zara, during last Friday's sea battle south of Crete.

Capt. Charles Eric Morgan, a descendant of the famous buccaneer Henry Morgan who plundered the West Indies in the 17th century, said his gunners on the Valiant scored direct hits with at least 75 per cent of the projectiles they flung at the two cruisers.

Another 10,000 ton cruiser, the Pola, and two destroyers were lost by the Italians. [Some dispatches have added a battleship, another cruiser and another destroyer.]

The targets of the 30,600 ton Valiant's shells were lighted by Midshipman Prince Phillip, 19 year old first cousin of King George of Greece, who was in charge of the searchlight control room.

With the help of its sister ship, the Warspite, Capt. Morgan continued, the Valiant turned the Fiume and the Zara into "colossal masses of fire." Many 15 inch shells penetrated the cruisers' 6 inch armor and exploded inside.

Fire in Rapid Order.

"It was a most ghastly sight. The Fiume seemed to just burst out amidships," he said.

The Warspite opened with the first broadside and seven seconds later the Valiant's guns roared, followed by the 31,100 ton Barham's.

"Only 4 minutes 6 seconds elapsed from the Warspite's broadsides to the Barham's," Capt. Morgan said.

"Great glows from the Fiume illuminated the darkness as if some one had thrown a log on a fire."

With the Fiume out of action the Valiant turned on the Zara and poured 35 tons of projectiles into her.

"There was no reply from either the Fiume or the Zara. We fired some star shells to help light up the targets and the Italians apparently thought they were aircraft flares for they let go some guns toward the falling star shells."

The Pola, disabled by aerial torpedoes which struck the gun controls and engine room, was unable to fire.

TELL OF GREAT CASUALTIES

ATHENS, Greece, April 3, Thursday (AP).—Survivors of the Italian cruisers Fiume and Zara, and the destroyer Alfieri, declared upon their arrival here last night that British warships destroyed their craft "10 minutes before we were able to fire a single shot, and caused enormous casualties."

Rescued by a Greek warship, the Fascist sailors asserted that hundreds of seamen and petty officers, trapped below decks, went down with the Italian ships when the British opened fire.

A 21 year old gunner on the Fiume, one of the few on duty when the smashing British attack was launched, said:

"We were cruising along about 9 o'clock Friday night when suddenly in the distance, about three or four miles away, big searchlights flashed on us.

"For a few seconds we thought they were the lights of another Italian cruiser altho we had sighted one British warship just before dark.

Lists Too Badly to Fire.

"A salvo of shells almost immediately followed the searchlight and simultaneously we were hit by a torpedo.

"Before we could bring a single gun into action the ship was listing too badly to fire.

"The ship started settling. I just had time to jump aboard a life raft floating alongside as the Fiume's deck went under. I'm sure hundreds of others were trapped below deck."

One young sailor told a harrowing story of how two men went mad on an overburdened raft.

"Our raft," he related, "already was overcrowded and a foot under water when the men began fighting among themselves. The raft tipped and spilled all of us into the sea. Just nine of us were able to get back onto the raft. The others drowned.

"We were adrift 30 hours until picked up by the Greek ship."

Those rescued did not know what happened to the 35,000 ton Italian battleship Vittorio Veneto because they said it was several miles away.

U. S. Experts to Study Nazi Plane

[Associated Press Wirephoto.]

German Messerschmitt fighting plane shot down in England, being unloaded at San Pedro, Cal. It is to be studied by American engineers.

Dimensions Given

Los Angeles, Cal., April 2 [Special].—Several weeks ago a long, sleek "Flying Pencil" Messerschmitt was streaking for its German base after a foray over England. A Hurricane fighter got on its tail and brought it down practically undamaged. Today this German war plane arrived at Los Angeles harbor aboard the freighter Montanan. The plane was trucked to the Vultee aircraft factory at Downey, where designers and engineers will study its design for evidence of Germany's mass production system. The twin engined ship is powered by 1,150 horse power Daimler-Benz liquid cooled engines; has a fuselage 35 feet long and less than 3 feet in widest diameter, and a wing span of 55 feet. It weighs 14,000 pounds, makes 365 miles an hour at 10,000 feet, and has a range of from 800 to 850 miles at top speed. It is armed with two 20 mm. cannon firing thru the nose, two fixed machine guns bearing forward, and a twin machine gun manned by the rear gunner.

2 FRENCH SHIPS OUTFIT IN U. S. AND THEN SAIL

New York, April 2 [Special].—Two merchant ships flying the flag of France have sailed out of New York harbor in the last 24 hours on peaceful trade pursuits, it was disclosed today. Their free outbound movements were taken in shipping circles as refutation of rumors that the United States government would seize French ships as well as German and Italian vessels.

The government, thru the treasury department, which controls all French funds in this country, had to release money to outfit the French freighter Ile de Ouessant, which took on a general cargo at Staten Island yesterday and continued to Norfolk for coal. She is en route to Martinique and it was understood the voyage was approved officially because the rum industry and other businesses in Martinique are hampered seriously by a coal shortage.

Also sailing was the French tanker Merope. She went to Tampico, Mexico, for an oil cargo. The Merope, it was learned, has been on a number of runs from Tampico to Bayonne, N. J.

PEROXIDE BLONDE BACK IN BRITAIN; BLAME THE WAR!

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, April 2.—The number of persons with gray hair is increasing in Britain. War worries contribute but, according to hairdressers, a shortage of hair dyes and bleaches is the chief cause.

Synthetic blondes are resorting to hydrogen peroxide and other bleaches because they cannot get their favorite brands.

"The shortage is less acute in London than in the provinces, where some towns have thousands more women than usual," a leading dye manufacturer declared.

PRESIDENT, AIDS CONFER ON NEW WAR HELP PLAN

Early Action on Program Expected in Capital.

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., April 2.—At a protracted conference with his war coadjutorsa and legal advisers in the White House this afternoon President Roosevelt began mapping a new program of aid to the foes of Germany, Italy and Japan. The plan calls for new and greater measures of assistance to Great Britain, Greece, and China, and possibly Jugo-Slavia and Turkey, in accord with the President's recent promise of "action and still more action" by the United States in furthering the war on the totalitarians.

The conference covered a wide range of subjects, including the question of convoying arms cargoes to Britain and Greece, the requisition of the seized German, Italian, and Danish merchantmen and the stepping up of production of war munitions now being impeded by strikes of labor unions. There were reports that the Allis-Chalmers strike will be turned over to the mediation board within two days.

Four Cabinet Heads Attend.

Participating in the conference were Secretary of State Cordell Hull, Secretary of War Henry Stimson, Secretary of the Navy Frank Knox, Attorney General Robert Jackson, Harry Hopkins, secretary of the war cabinet; General George C. Marshall, army chief of staff; Admiral Harold R. Stark, chief of naval operations, and Gen. Thomas Holcomb, commandant of the marine corps.

Shortly before the President summoned the conference there was a flareup in the senate over the question of convoying arms cargoes, in which it was suggested that both the President and Secretary Knox have repudiated their previously expressed opposition to employment of American warships for convoy duty.

Axis Lodges New Protests.

While the conference was in session the German and Italian embassies lodged with the state department additional formal protests against the seizure of 30 axis ships last Sunday. The new notes contended the President had acted without authority because in invoking the 1917 espionage act he did not include the section which makes it a crime for aliens to sabotage their vessels.

The department of justice explained that the section in question is operative at all times and requires no special invocation. Moreover, it was stated, the German and Italian crews are being prosecuted under another 1917 anti-sabotage law which provides greater penalties than the espionage act—a maximum $10,000 fine and 20 years imprisonment. A grand jury at Boston today indicted the captain, four other officers and five members of the crew of the German tanker Pauline Friederich for violation of the anti-sabotage act.

Secretary Hull said that the German and Italian protests will be rejected in replies to the notes now being prepared. Then will follow the requisition of the seized ships for incorporation in the American merchant marine. Conviction of the alien crews of sabotage would legalize requisition, according to government officials.

Survey Ship Damage.

The President earlier in the day conferred with Admiral Emory Land, chairman of the maritime commission, on steps to repair the sabotaged ships and supply additional commercial bottoms for Britain. Admiral Land assigned 25 surveyors to examine the damaged machinery and estimate the necessary repairs.

Senator Charles W. Tobey [R., N. H.] opened the senate convoy debate by reading a telegram he sent to Secretary Knox, demanding an explanation of published reports that Knox now favors the use of American naval vessels, flying the American flag and manned by American crews, to convoy shipments of war munitions to Great Britain. Tobey reminded Knox that in January, testifying on the war dictatorship bill, he said he opposed convoying because it would be an act of war.

Tobey's telegram recalled, however, that Knox said he would be for convoys if President Roosevelt should favor them.

IF U. S. FIGHTS IT'S ROOSEVELT WAR, SAYS NYE

Predicts President Will Order Ship Convoys.

Los Angeles, Cal., April 2 [Special].—If, despite all attempts to prevent it, this country goes to war, that conflict should be called "the President's war," Senator Gerald P. Nye [R., N. D.] declared tonight.

"I don't think it is beyond the President to assume," the senator told an overflow audience of 3,000 in the Philharmonic auditorium, "that the lend-lease bill gives him permission to convoy, and the minute that is done, it is war." Nye spoke under sponsorship of the America First committee.

"The President has been writing engraved invitations to every power on earth to start something," he continued. "When we should have been inviting all nations to be our friends, the President has been challenging every one of them to a fight."

Ridicules Nazi Threat.

Nye charged that manufactured emotions have brought the country to the brink of participation in the war.

Listing the fears and hates which, he said, were responsible for the trend toward participation, he denounced the theory that the nation is dependent upon the British navy and ridiculed the prospect of a Nazi invasion of America as a development that has been declared impossible by every military study.

The senator said the Hitler threat to American foreign trade has been enlarged out of all proportion to the true place of this trade in the American economy.

Don't Need British Navy.

"We never have been dependent upon British sea power. It is virtually the only foreign navy that ever has given us any cause for concern in our security. We are not dependent now upon that British navy, and may God forbid the day when we let ourselves be dependent upon that or any other foreign navy."

Nye accused the Roosevelt administration of turning toward war when it realized that it had failed to lick the depression.

"Starting with the President's quarantine speech in Chicago," Senator Nye charged, "we can trace every step and see this determination. It was prevalent in his messages to congress and in his public addresses. It was a determination completely contrary to such splendid expressions as were his prior to the 1936 elections."

Describing the 7 billion dollar lend-lease bill as only first instalment, Senator Nye said what the European war is going to cost the country depends only upon the time the war consumes.

Senator Nye spoke to graduate students of the USC this morning and at a town hall luncheon at noon.

SECOND BOMB MAILED FROM U. S. EXPLODES IN GLASGOW POSTOFFICE

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, April 2.—For the second time within a week a bomb contained in a parcel mailed from the United States exploded in a British postoffice today. The bomb was a lead tube about 9 inches long, packed with explosives. It was wrapped in an old topcoat in a package bearing a fictitious address. It exploded in the general postoffice in Glasgow, causing only slight damage and injuring no one.

In London last week a similar bomb burst in another American mailbag at Mount Pleasant postoffice. Photographs and descriptions of the bomb already have been air mailed to America. British newspapers, recalling Capt. Fritz von Rintelen's activities in the last war, suggested that German agents in the United States are responsible.

[Capt. von Rintelen was head of the German naval intelligence in the United States in the world war. In 1918 he was sentenced to prison for bomb plotting and sabotaging munitions ships. He served four years.]

BLAST OFFENSE POLICY

Los Angeles, Cal., April 2 [Special].—Sharply criticizing President Roosevelt and demanding that congress take immediate steps to undo its past errors and give America a "strong national defense program to replace the existing international offense program," the National Legion of American Mothers today conducted its first nation-wide convention at the Hollywood Roosevelt hotel.

Five hundred delegates and guests, representing virtually every state in the Union, cheered Kathleen Norris, the novelist; Catherine Curtis, chairman of the Women's National Committee to Keep the United States Out of War; Mrs. Frances Sherrill, state president of the American Mothers; Mrs. C. H. Druffel, an Ohio delegate, and others as they demanded that prompt steps be taken by "our national servants" to strip President Roosevelt of his unprecedented emergency powers which "threaten to plunge America into a war she did not covet and does not want."

Demand Dictator Bill Repeal.

Nor was this all. This unique convention, attended by youthful 20 year old mothers and venerable 80 year old grandmothers opposed to the "plowing under of American youth," held a three hour forum in which the mothers fired questions pellmell.

Following this, the delegates insisted that memorials be sent President Roosevelt and congress, in the form of resolutions demanding:

1. Immediate congressional steps to insure a definite national defense program to replace the existing international offense program.

2. Preservation of our own form of government, looking to the prompt restoration of the principles of the American Declaration of Independence.

3. Assurance, with the necessary legislation to back it up, that our sons and grandsons shall not be forced to fight on foreign soil.

Want Draft Law Repealed.

4. Wholehearted and immediate support by senators and representatives of Senator Charles W. Tobey's joint resolution demanding that no part of American armed forces be used to convoy war materials.

5. Immediate passage of legislation opposed to lowering the draft age below 21.

6. Measures designed to aid in war prevention, including prompt repeal of the dictator bill aiding Britain; immediate repeal of all forms of conscription, and the revoking without undue delay of all extraordinary legislation giving the President loose and unlimited power to meet any so-called war emergency.

QUIZ ON STRIKES IN ARMS PLANTS VOTED BY HOUSE

Inaction of Roosevelt in Crisis Is Assailed.

preparedness program is a federal responsibility."

Representative Earle C. Michener [R., Mich.] recalled the order of President Grover Cleveland that "the mail must go forward" when a labor crisis impended.

"My hope is for a President who will tell the country that the national defense must go forward," he said. "Some one in authority must take some action."

Representative George A. Donero [R., Mich.] declared that "the Ford strike constitutes a victory for Hitler which was accomplished with the passive assistance of President Roosevelt."

Dondero said the Ford strike had tied up production of 164 million dollars worth of airplane engines and light trucks for the army and deprived 80,000 men of daily wages.

Chairman Andrew J. May [D., Ky.] of the military affairs committee, who will head the investigation with Chairman Carl Vinson [D., Ga.] of the naval affairs committee, declared that the federal government has for eight years been taking powers away from the states, leaving them helpless to conduct their own affairs.

Deplores Dilly-Dallying.

"For congress further to dilly-dally on these strikes will be to deserve public contempt," asserted Representative Eugene E. Cox [D., Ga.]. "The President must stand up and take a bold and a firm position. The time for soft-pedaling and pussy-footing with labor gangsters and racketeers has passed. Law and order are being destroyed in this country!"

Shouts of "Good! Good!" arose in the chamber.

Cox said he had utmost confidence the two committees would investigate the progress of the armaments program without fear or hindrance.

Sees Issue Made Clear.

"We are taking the boys of this country into military training while the gangsters back home hold up production," concluded Cox. "This government seems to stand paralyzed in the grip of these gangsters. How long can—how long ought—a government to exist which ignores such a situation?"

Vinson said Cox had made the issue clear. He promised that his committee would make an investigation of the strike situation a prominent part of the inquiry. In addition, he declared, the committee would inquire whether the government was getting value received for the billions being spent on arms, whether any person was profiteering on arms contracts and whether arms orders were being properly distributed.

"At present there is too much concentration of defense production into certain areas," Vinson said. "And that is due partly to short sighted and selfish dollar a year men."

Suspects New Deal Plot.

Representative Paul W. Shafer [R., Mich.] offered the opinion that the strikes "destroying our defense effort is a part of a well-planned program to bring American industry under the control of the New Deal administration."

"I am convinced," he said, "that the President and his incompetent secretary of labor have purposely remained inert and silent while the defense program has been sabotaged. It is apparent to me that they are biding their time until public wrath has reached the point where either the people will demand a government controled industry or the industrialists themselves will have become so exasperated as to demand that their plants be temporarily taken over.

"I believe the President would prefer to let the situation develop to a point where he could, with a grand display of impartiality, decree the nationalization of all industry."

4 CIO STRIKERS HELD IN BOND ON ASSAULT CHARGE

Four men who participated in the recent CIO strike against the International Harvester company and who have been identified as members of a gang that chased Dr. Richard Havalka, a Lyons physician, into a tavern and then terrorized the patrons, were held by Lyons police yesterday under $1,000 bond.

Richard Kelly.

Those in custody are Fred Bellingher, 26 years old, 4827 South Loomis street; Richard Kelly, 25, of 7246 South Hermitage avenue; and Peter Cimina, 30, of 6060 Kimbark avenue, all arrested Tuesday at CIO headquarters, 1110 South Oakley boulevard, and Walter Jasinski, 26, of 4805 South Hoyne avenue, arrested at the entrance of the Harvester plant. All are charged with assault with intent to rob. A fifth man is being sought.

Dr. Havalka and the tavern customers said the men threatened to rob but left without taking any money. Several of the women in the place were treated roughly. Police said the gang may have mistaken Dr. Havalka for a worker who opposed the strike.

BARKEEPS STUDY NEW PLAN FOR HOSPITAL CARE

James Crowley, president of the Bartenders' union, local 278, announced yesterday that the union is considering a new hospital plan under terms of which the American hospital no longer would furnish the services of physicians.

On a referendum Monday, on the old plan, which expired on that date, 12 per cent of the total membership of 4,100 voted 318 to 161 to renew the plan by which each member paid $10 yearly for hospital and medical care. The hospital told Crowley yesterday, however, that it could no longer provide medical services, but would give unlimited hospitalization, and X-ray, laboratory, general nursing, and other services to union members if at least 500 paid $10 each per pear. Semiprivate accommodations will be given.

Crowley said the matter now is in the hands of the members, and that if 500 signed up the plan would be adopted.

STRIKE AT ARMS PLANT ENDED BY INCREASE IN PAY

Philadelphia, Pa., April 2 (AP).—A three weeks strike at the J. G. Brill company ended today when workers approved a compromise settlement providing for wage increases for 1,535 workers.

The strike, called by the CIO Steel Workers Organizing committee on March 12, will return to their jobs tomorrow.

AFL CARPENTERS PROMISE HELP IN HALTING STRIKES

Indianapolis, Ind., April 2 (AP).—The general executive board of the United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners of America [AFL] pledged the union today to do its part in preventing interruption of armaments work.

A statement issued by the board said the union was ready to settle disputes on national preparedness projects "by prompt agreement, if possible, or, failing that, by mutually acceptable methods and mediums of mediation."

WORKMAN SCALDED TO DEATH.

Casimir Trocki, 27 years old, 1309 Greenview avenue, a smelter's assistant, was scalded to death yesterday when he fell into a tank of hot water in the plant of the Chicago Vitreous Enamel Products company, 1423 South 55th court, Cicero.

CIO THREATENS NEW STRIKE AT HARVESTER CO.

Threats of a new strike at the tractor works of the International Harvester company were made yesterday by officials of the Farm Equipment Workers' Organizing committee [CIO], whose members returned to work Monday after an eight week strike.

Frank Silva, head of the local FEWOC union, sent a telegram to C. A. Dykstra, Defense Mediation board head, saying that shop stewards were discussing a "restrike" and charging discrimination against his members by the company. The company, in reply to this, informed the board there was no discrimination and reaffirmed its willingness to coöperate with the government agency.

Dykstra announced in Washington, D. C., that a general agreement for maintaining production in the Harvester plants while strike issues are being discussed had been adopted and signed by the company and the AFL union at its plants, but had been turned down by the FEWOC. The company agreed to pay average weekly wages to its employés for the present, while full production is not possible, and the AFL union pledged itself to keep good order among its men.

FROSTBITE CAUSES DEATH.

John Hollorn, 61 years old, of Forest Park, died yesterday in county hospital of an infection caused by frostbite on his feet.

SEEDY STRIKERS LOLL IN COMFORT AT THE WALDORF

New York, April 2 [Special].—About 100 unshaven unionists sauntered into the foyer of the Waldorf-Astoria hotel on Park avenue tonight and settled comfortably in the overstuffed lounges and chairs in a demonstration of the CIO United Paperworkers Menu Printing union which is on strike against 11 printing companies in the city.

A spokesman for the union said the demonstration was planned as a protest against the hotel's use of menus printed by nonunion workers. After enjoying the soft music being played in the grand ballroom the strikers agreed to withdraw and send a committee to the hotel.

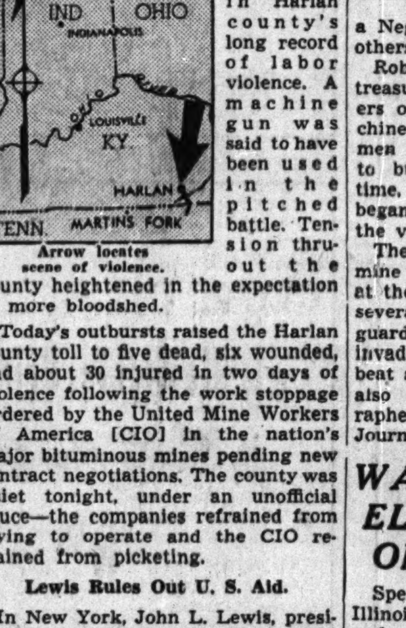
4 KILLED, 5 SHOT IN COAL FIELD OF HARLAN COUNTY

More Violence Feared in Mine Work Stoppage.

Harlan, Ky., April 2 [Special].—Four CIO pickets were shot dead and five other men were wounded today in one of the bloodiest mine battles in Harlan county's long record of labor violence. A machine gun was said to have been used in the pitched battle. Tension thruout the county heightened in the expectation of more bloodshed.



Arrow locates scene of violence.

Today's outbursts raised the Harlan county toll to five dead, six wounded, and about 30 injured in two days of violence following the work stoppage ordered by the United Mine Workers of America [CIO] in the nation's major bituminous mines pending new contract negotiations. The county was quiet tonight, under an unofficial truce—the companies refrained from trying to operate and the CIO refrained from picketing.

Lewis Rules Out U. S. Aid.

In New York, John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers of America, ruled out the possibility of federal mediation in the wage dispute as a spokesman for the mine operators agreed with a federal conciliator's expressed belief that an agreement soon would be reached and the mines reopened.

Speaking at a convention of anthracite miners during a recess in negotiations between union and management representatives in the soft coal industry, Lewis said: "We are not going to follow the new formula that the mediation board has discovered—of wiring the strikers to go back, bust their strikes, then have them come to Washington to mediate for the remnants of it."

Scoffs at Compromise.

Lewis called attention to reports that union negotiators had "receded in their demands for vacations and other things," and declared there had been no such recession.

There had been indications last night that the union would withdraw certain demands, including those for paid vacations and 200 guaranteed work days a year, in return for the operators' acceptance of a $1 a day increase in the basic wage scale and elimination of the 40 cent a day north-south wage differential.

Today's violence occurred at the Crummies Coal corporation mine at Martin's Fork, where 15 miners were beaten yesterday.

2,000 Pickets Storm Mine.

L. P. Johnson, general manager of the company, gave the following account of the shootings:

"A crowd of about 2,000 men, mostly CIO pickets, assembled on the mine properties.

"A large group of union pickets, armed with pistols, entered the company store. They announced they would tear up the place. They abused the storekeeper and tried to force several nonunion men there to sign union checkoff slips. As the commotion in the store mounted, pickets outside began firing into the building."

Bullets riddled the store. More than 100 shots were fired during the battle. When it ended, these men were dead: Virgil Hampton of Harlan, district field representative of the UMWA; Oscar Goodin, of Lynch, Ky., and Charles Ruth and Ed Tye, a Negro, both of Kenvir, Ky. Five others lay wounded.

Robert Hodge, district secretary treasurer of the United Mine Workers of America, charged that a machine gun was turned on the union men when they entered the store to buy soft drinks. At the same time, he said, men hidden outside began firing into the store, trapping the victims in a cross fire.

The gunplay at the Crummies Creek mine followed an earlier disturbance at the Mary Helen corporation mine several miles away where a mine guard was killed yesterday. Pickets invaded a company store there and beat several nonunion miners. They also rushed a newspaper photographer for the Louisville Courier-Journal and smashed his camera.

WANT ALL LOCAL ELECTIONS HELD ON A SINGLE DAY

Special school board elections in Illinois were termed "unnecesary and primitive" in a pamphlet issued yesterday by a group of civic and school leaders. Urging public support of the proposed revision of the state election code, the pamphlet was written by Mrs. Laura Hughes Lunde, former education chairman of the Illinois League of Women Voters; Mrs. Egbert G. Jacobson, a member of the Illinois League, and Mrs. Mabel P. Simpson, executive secretary of the Citizens' Schools committee. The new code would provide for holding all general elections on the same day in November of even numbered years and all local elections on the same day in April in odd numbered years. The pamphlet declared that separate school board elections did not keep schools out of politics as was their original purpose, and discouraged a large turnout of voters.

SLINGSHOT SPREE TO COST FATHERS OF 4 BOYS $4,000

The fathers of four high school boys who have confessed damaging numerous windows in Oak Park and River Forest with slingshots fired from cars agreed yesterday to pay $4,000 to help make repairs.

Lieut. Raymond Rheingruber of the River Forest police said that one father, a taxicab driver, will have to mortgage his home to raise his $1,000 share of the bill. No charges have been placed against the boys.

The slingshot marksmen are Robert Meisterling, 15 years old, of 7339 Holly court and Richard Perry, 15, of 742 Monroe avenue, both of River Forest, and Harry Wiedenback, 16, of 540 Forest avenue, and George Brandt, 15, of 648 Forest avenue, both of Oak Park. They marred windows of stores and broke windows in homes. Police said the actual damage is in the neighborhood of $7,000.

1,003 Naval Students Left High and Dry by Ford Strike

Detroit, Mich., April 2 (AP).—A casualty of the CIO strike at the Ford motor plant was the naval service school located on plant property. Shutdown of the plant left 1,003 enlisted men attending the school within their barracks—while their instructors were outside.

ALLIS STRIKE PUT BEFORE FEDERAL MEDIATION BOARD

Certification Ordered by Secretary Perkins.

Washington, D. C., April 2 (AP).—Secretary of Labor Frances Perkins announced late tonight she has ordered certification of the 10 weeks old strike at the Allis-Chalmers Manufacturing company to the National Defense Mediation board.

The secretary said the certification of the prolonged strike would be accompanied by an offer to place the resources of the federal conciliation service at the board's disposal in endeavoring to bring about a settlement.

The CIO's United Automobile Workers' union local at the Allis-Chalmers plant in West Allis, Wis., a suburb of Milwaukee, asked President Roosevelt earlier in the day to direct the conciliation service to reënter the case and begin new negotiations.

DEMAND PLANT REOPENING

BY SEYMOUR KORMAN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Milwaukee, Wis., April 2.—Two hundred Allis-Chalmers production employés, who said they are backed by 4,000 more, asserted today they will fight their way back to work in the strike bound manufacturing plant Friday morning unless it is reopened by then under supervision of federal troops.

A petition, signed by the 200 employés and asking that the troops be called was presented to Sheriff Joseph Shinners. The sheriff announced later that he forwarded the petition to Gov. Julius P. Heil.

Federal Aid Already Asked.

The governor could not be reached for comment tonight. Last night, after CIO rioters had forced the closing of the plant, Gov. Heil said the matter was out of his hands. He telegraphed President Roosevelt for federal aid [without asking for troops], stating that combined forces of available law enforcement authorities were unable to cope with the strikers.

[In Washington President Roosevelt referred Heil's message to government agencies and neither William S. Knudsen, OPM co-director, nor Secretary of the Navy Frank Knox, who once demanded that the plant be reopened, would comment.]

Spokesman for the 200 petitioning employés was George Sprague. He is not a member of the striking CIO union [local 248, United Automobile Workers], but it was learned that many of the more than 4,000 who wish to return are members. The company admits the CIO local has a majority of the 7,800 production workers at the plant.

Strike Is 71 Days Old.

The petitioners were among the employés who returned to work last Friday, heeding the government's appeal to their patriotism. The Allis-Chalmers company has 45 million dollars of government armament contracts on which production has been stalled during the 71 day strike.

"We do not believe in lawlessness," read the petition, "but if we are not given federal troops, then our only alternative is to take enforcement of order into our own hands which will only cause much bloodshed."

Some of the petitioners said they would ask Shinners to deputize them so they can reopen the plant and hold it as peace officers.

"I can't throw the oath of office around promiscuously," Shinners said. "If anybody is deputized, he's working for me, and I'm not running Allis-Chalmers."

Union leaders had no statement to make on the action of Sprague's group.

Stephen J. Michuda Named City Engineer of Bridges

Appointment of Stephen J. Michuda, 437 West 103d street, as city engineer of bridges, was announced yesterday by W. W. De Berard, city engineer. Michuda entered city service as a bridge designer in 1924. He was graduated from the Armour Institute of Technology and also is a member of the Illinois bar. Michuda succeeds Thomas Pihlfeldt, who died last fall. His salary will be $6,200 yearly.

Labor Post Gives County Legion Unit American Flag

Chicago Union Labor post, No. 745, of the American Legion, and the Painters' District council of Chicago presented an American flag to the Cook County council of the Legion at ceremonies last night in the city council chambers. The presentation was made by Arthur W. Wallace, secretary of the labor group. Francis E. Phelan, Cook county Legion commander, received the flag.

Court Is Asked to Cancel Citizenship of 15 Men

Petitions asking revocation of the citizenship of 15 men, 11 of German and Italian origin, were filed by District Attorney J. Albert Woll yesterday in federal court. Woll said the men all returned to their native lands.

COURT UPHOLDS NLRB BUT ENTERS A STERN REBUKE

Voids Order to Rehire Discharged Worker.

The United States Circuit Court of Appeals rebuked the National Labor Relations board yesterday for failure to keep an agreement to hold an election to determine the bargaining agent for the 300 employés of the Auburn Foundry company of Auburn, Ind.

The court commented also on the NLRB's acceptance of the testimony of its own witnesses on controversial points, and upon the leading questions by which the NLRB obtained its evidence.

The court explained, however, that its authority over the board's action was limited, and upheld the NLRB's finding with slight modification. The NLRB had ordered the company to cease its alleged discrimination against a CIO affiliate, the Amalgamated Association of Iron, Steel and Tin Workers, and to disestablish an independent union which the labor board called a company union.

The Court's Opinion.

The court's opinion, written by Judge J. Earl Major, said:

"A reading of the record leaves no room for doubt but that the situation is as charged. . . . The board apparently has the right to place its stamp of approval upon its own witnesses as against the world, if it so desires."

The opinion, commenting upon the company's charge that the NLRB had refused to hold the election, said:

"While we agree that the failure of the board to do that which it agreed to do was without justification, yet the respondent [the company] fails to point out any relief which we can give in the matter. . . .

"This case is another illustration where, in our judgment, a controversy could have been amicably adjusted by an election where the employés could have, by secret ballot, expressed their preference."

The NLRB had asserted that a fair election could not be held.

Called Feeble Excuse.

The court branded this "a feeble excuse."

In answer to the board's charge that a question asked by a company attorney was leading, the court said: "The board is in no position to criticize a question because of its leading form. If all the answers obtained by such questions were deleted from this record the board would find itself nearly stripped of evidence."

The court changed the NLRB order in one respect, finding that the discharge of a worker, which the NLRB said was for union activity, was justified.

Army Plane Falls Apart in Air; Pilot Lands Safely

New Baltimore, Mich., April 2 (AP).—A United States air corps P-39 pursuit plane from Selfridge field split apart in midair late today, but the pilot, Lieut. Marvin McNickle, 27, bailed out to safety. The crash occurred at Anchorville, three miles north of here, during a routine flight.

DOUGLAS URGES CITY TO SEEK REDUCTION IN 10 CENT BUS FARE

Ald. Paul H. Douglas [5th] told the city council yesterday that the Chicago Motor Coach company's increased earnings in 1940 call for prompt action by the city for a reduction in the 10 cent bus fare. Douglas asserted that the city's petition for an investigation of bus fares has been on file with the Illinois Commerce commission since 1934 and has been continued 81 times.

Ald. James R. Quinn [50th], chairman of the local transportation committee, reported that the case will be heard again April 11. Douglas asked Quinn if he was surprised to learn that the coach company's net profit had increased to $782,872 last year, compared with $770,637 in 1939.

"I'm not surprised at anything these days," said Quinn.

"Then you won't be surprised to learn that the coach company paid from 1940 profits a 200 per cent dividend on its common stock," Ald. Douglas said.

EXPECT SHAKEUP IN EVANSTON AS RESULT OF VOTE

Several offices in the Evanston city government are expected to be filled with new appointees as a result of the election Tuesday, which brought a landslide victory for S. G. Ingraham over the incumbent mayor, Henry D. Penfield. It was regarded as almost a certainty that a new city collector, city attorney, corporation counsel, and police chief will be named by Ingraham. Ingraham himself, however, said he had no immediate plans for changes.

It was erroneously reported yesterday that W. R. Arrington was one of the Evanston aldermen elected. Final returns from the 8th ward showed that Fred R. Thoma defeated Arrington, 1,372 to 996.

The last township to report its election results yesterday was Hanover. The choices were: assessor, Emil Hattendorf; clerk, Henry C. Thurnau; supervisor, Henry Gromer; collector, Henry Holtz; highway commissioner, Henry Heine; justice of the peace, James Scheen; constables, William Bull and Frank Dewey, and school trustee, Otto Fees.

50 Police Sergeants Take Examination for Lieutenant

Fifty police sergeants were examined yesterday in the examination room at 54 West Hubbard street by the civil service commission for the job of police lieutenant. They were the first of 483 eligibles who will be examined for the 12 vacancies. A police lieutenant is paid $3,072 a year.

SETTLE TRANSIT ISSUE IN COURT, IGOE TELLS CITY

Threatens Separate Deal for Surface Lines.

BY LAURENCE BURD.

Judge Michael L. Igoe indicated yesterday that the federal District court may order a separate reorganization of the surface lines without a franchise from the city if the city refuses to come into open court and discuss its unified franchise proposals. Judge Igoe ordered a hearing to be held April 25 regardless of whether the city chooses to participate.

This action was interpreted as a move to put pressure on the city to thrash out its dispute with the transit lines in the federal court.

Surface Lines Objects.

The surface lines' new management board, appointed by the court Feb. 5, raised "six fundamental legal objections" last week to the city's franchise draft, which resulted from a year and a half of negotiations with a previous transit board. Thereupon Judge Igoe asserted that further negotiations would be useless and said court hearings might be held to clear up the legal points.

The city council transportation committee, however, voted to continue negotiations only in the city hall and refused to authorize city attorneys to argue the case in court.

William H. Sexton, special traction counsel for the city, yesterday reported the committee's action to Judge Igoe and remarked, "The less I say, the better."

Judge Igoe replied that the city council apparently had lost sight of the situation which brought the city into court on the traction matter in the first place.

Recalls Long Wrangle.

"The federal court is not passing a traction ordinance," Judge Igoe commented. "It is dealing with a law suit, which involves a reorganization of the surface lines. The entire reorganization plan was about to be approved in court some five years ago, when the city suggested that a franchise ordinance should first be obtained from the city council.

"Later, at the city's request, the reorganization plan was expanded to include the elevated lines. Many months and years have been spent in quest for a franchise. The quest has gotten exactly nowhere. The original law suit is still here, and it doesn't require much action by this court to put thru the reorganization. A higher court, the Circuit Court of Appeals, is prodding this court to end this case."

Asks for Suggestions.

Judge Igoe then said he hoped the city would participate in the scheduled hearing. Both the city and the groups of surface lines' securities holders were given 10 days to file objections and suggestions with the court on the board's report of last week rejecting the proposed franchise.

The report contended that the franchise draft is contrary to a memorandum opinion handed down by Federal Judge James H. Wilkerson in December, 1939, when he had jurisdiction over the lines. In answer to a question from Judge Igoe yesterday, Sexton said the city is willing to abide by the Wilkerson opinion. Sexton contends, however, that the franchise already conforms to the opinon.

WAY IS CLEARED FOR U. S. TO BUY ARGENTINE BEEF

Washington, D. C., April 2 (AP).—The way was cleared today for the army and navy to purchase some 20 million pounds of Argentine tinned beef and an undetermined amount of Australian wool in the next fiscal year with funds from a $4,389,000,000 appropriation.

A conference committee adjusting senate-house differences on the measure retained the principle of a senate amendment permitting the purchase of such foreign products when domestic products of comparable quality are unavailable at reasonable prices. The committee made some minor changes in the language to clarify the provisions.

The next step will be for the senate and house to adopt the conference report and the measure then will go to President Roosevelt, who has indorsed such purchases in furtherance of the "good neighbor" policy.

TWO CANADIAN FLYERS KILLED.

106TH CAVALRY OFFICERS RIDE IN NIGHT TEST

Alexandria, La., April 2 [Special].—Officers of the 106th cavalry of Illinois became night riders tonight and galloped across country in the Kisatchie National forest near Camp Livingston in a voluntary game to determine who could cover a certain route first.

The route is approximately 15 miles and the 30 officers participating rode away from the regimental mess hall five minutes apart. Each officer's arrival at each station in the field was radioed to the mess hall.

The night ride may turn out to be an all-night contest. Officers explained that some usually become lost in the woods on such rides and there have been cases of a few stragglers coming in with the dawn.

Unlimited Number of Coast Guard Recruits Is Sought

A call for unlimited numbers of recruits in the United States coast guard was issued yesterday by Chief Boatswain Aubrey C. Stewart, commander of the recruiting station in the United States courthouse here. Previously only 100 applicants a month were accepted from this district. At the same time Chief Stewart announced that the age limit for applicants had been raised from 25 to 28 years.

Army Truck Spans River on Cable Built in 3 Hours

Fort Riley, Kas., April 2 [Special].—The 9th engineers today gave a demonstration spanning a stream with the new bridge cable developed by Lieut. Col. R. B. Lord. Three hours after construction of the device was started, a seven ton military truck was whisked across Smoky Hill river. Heavy rope slings suspended the truck from a carrier that rolled across the cable. A winch on a truck parked on the river bank provided the power for the crossing.

RICHMAN BROTHERS

IT'S doubly smart to buy Richman Brothers Clothes. First, because you'll be smartly and becomingly dressed. Second, because you'll get better clothes here, for less money.

These are not our own claims. Ask, and you'll hear these words from the lips of a million impartial men in every State of the Union. The very name of Richman now means style and value.

We've been doing it for 62 years. Everyone knows how. But it will do no harm to repeat. So here goes. We make our own clothes. We sell them in our own stores. There is no middleman between you and us . . . and no middleman's profit.

What's more, our clothes are tailored by the famous Richman Family . . . the greatest clothes making organization on the face of the earth . . . men and women who own a big part of this business . . . and put their hearts and souls into every stitch.

You're bound to find out about Richman Brothers Clothes sooner or later. Why not now . . . when it will save you money?

SAVE AMERICA FROM RUINOUS POLICY—DEWEY

Congressman Tells What 46½ Billion Means.

bank, offered these comparisons to translate into understandable terms the enormity of recent appropriations:

46½ billion dollars: the amount appropriated in the last 15 months.

46 8/10 billion dollars: the total value of all agricultural property in the United States, including farm dwellings, in 1937.

45 billion dollars: the total value of all household goods of the nation, including private automobiles, in 1937.

27 billion dollars: the 1937 value of the country's 238,539 miles of railroads and all their properties.

26½ billion dollars: the value placed on the country's vast network of public utilities in the same year.

"The total wealth of the entire country was 323 billion dollars," he concluded. "Thus, the 46½ billion dollars which we have appropriated in only 15 months is 14.7 per cent of our people's national wealth. And the end is not yet.

Half of National Income.

"Let us look at it another way. It is estimated that the national income of the United States in the next year will be 85 to 90 billion dollars. The sum of 46½ billions now appropriated is equal to 50 cents out of every dollar earned by our fellow citizens and the country at large. And again I remind you that the end of such expenditure is not in sight."

Only three solutions can be found for the increasing burden on our economy, Dewey said. They are inflation, a capital levy, and taxation.

"It is hardly necessary to discuss the disastrous results of inflation," he said. "Whenever inflation has occurred, it has impoverished the people of the country.

"The second possibility—the capital levy—may sound so nonsensical that it should be dismissed at once. But already it has taken concrete form as house bill 3105, now pending before congress."

Graduated Tax Proposed.

The bill proposes a graduated tax of 5 to 75 per cent on net wealth, rather than earned income.

"If you have a $3 pair of shoes, half worn out," Dewey explained, "they represent $1.50 of your net wealth, and you would be taxed accordingly. If you don't have the money, the government takes a mortgage, bearing 6 per cent interest, which is made the basis of a currency issue to finance this 'all out' program."

Greatly increased taxation is the remaining method, and the one which must be resorted to, Dewey said.

"No one seems to be much worried about it at the present time," he went on, "but when we do begin to meet the costs we will then appreciate how far we have gone and what sacrifices must be made.

"Every citizen and the head of every business should bear in mind that even if we are fortunate enough to escape what is popularly known as a 'shooting war,' there is not one of us who will not bear his share of the fantastic financial burden that will be ours."

Basic Issue Before Congress.

Concentration of "more and more power in the hands of a greater and greater burocracy" is largely responsible for the conduct of national affairs, Dewey charged.

"The basic issue which divides congress is this centralization of power. It has been the issue for the last eight years. Generally speaking, this was the dividing line during the fight on the lease-lend bill.

"It was not so much a question of extending aid to the democracies at war as a question of whether our country should enter such a program when no one could say how far we would be able to go, and without the people's representatives having any effective control over what is done.

"The minority party in congress has objected to power being taken from the people's congress and placed in the hands of one man. It is a fight that will continue as long as there is a congress."

CHICAGOAN GIVES UP ON CHARGE OF BRIBING OFFICIAL

Detroit, Mich., April 2 [Special].—Maurice L. Bein, Chicago contractor who was an unsuccessful bidder last September on an $8,300,000 federal housing project, surrendered here today on two indictments charging conspiracy to bribe and attempted bribery. Accompanied by his attorney, Victor Larue, Bein surrendered to Judge Homer S. Ferguson who, acting as a one man grand jury, handed down the indictment two months ago. He will be arraigned tomorrow.

Bein is scheduled to appear in Springfield, Ill., before Gov. Dwight Green at the same hour on an extradition proceeding based on the Detroit charges, but his appearance here will make the extradition hearing unnecessary. William H. Lipman, vice president of the Lipman Construction company, Chicago, one of the two firms which put in a successful joint bid on the contract, will appear tomorrow before Gov. Green for extradition proceedings on a perjury warrant issued by Judge Ferguson.

Bein is charged with conspiring with Charles Carpenter to bribe City Councilman Robert G. Ewald to vote to accept the Bein bid. Ewald is facing arraignment on an indictment for accepting a $5,000 bribe from Lipman and Seymour Smith, official of the A. Smith and company, Chicago, cobidder with Lipman.

DAYLIGHT TIME EXTENSION UP FOR HEARING MONDAY

Ald. H. L. Brody [39th], chairman of the council judiciary committee, announced yesterday that a public hearing on the proposed extension of daylight saving time will be held at 2 p. m. Monday in the city hall. The extension ordinance, submitted to the council by Ald. John J. Duffy [19th] and Ald. John J. Grealis [44th], provides for the continuation of daylight saving time thru October. It now ends the last Sunday in September.

3 BANDITS LOOT MONEY EXCHANGE IN BENSENVILLE

Three bandits invaded Chester Franzen's currency exchange yesterday in downtown Bensenville, Du Page county, and seized $1,700. Franzen and his cashier, Miss Dorothy Ellison, were cashing pay checks for employés of the Milwaukee road's freight terminal at Bensenville when the bandits arrived. A dozen persons in the exchange were forced into a back room while the bandits looted the safe. A car in which the robbers escaped was later found abandoned near Plainfield in Will county.

SIGNS LIGHT UP A CONTROVERSY IN CITY COUNCIL

Following a recent order from Mayor Kelly that all requests for permits to erect illuminated signs over sidewalks be referred to a council committee for consideration, the aldermen yesterday got into an argument over what committee should have jurisdiction.

Ald. Bryan Hartnett [12th] contended sign permits belonged to his streets and alleys committee because they project over a street. Ald. William A. Rowan [10th], chairman of the building and zoning committee claimed jurisdiction because they are attached to buildings. In accordance with council regulations the question was referred to the rules committee.

Previous to Mayor Kelly's request the council automatically approved such requests by the aldermen in whose ward the sign was to be located.

DOCTORS WARN FOLKS WHO ARE CONSTIPATED—

IT IS SAID constipation causes many human discomforts—headaches, lack of energy and mental dullness being but a few. BUT DON'T WORRY—

For years a noted Ohio Doctor, Dr. F. M. Edwards, successfully treated scores of patients for constipation with his famous Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—now sold by druggists everywhere.

Olive Tablets, being purely vegetable, are wonderful! They not only gently yet thoroughly cleanse the bowels but ALSO assist liver bile flow to help digest fatty foods. Test their goodness TONIGHT without fail! 15¢, 30¢, 60¢.

It just Breathes a little Deeper — and Wades In!

EVER stop to figure why Nature gave you both a nose and a mouth to breathe through?

Your nose, barring colds, does all right for ordinary purposes.

But go up against some heavy exercise that calls for more output of bodily energy—and you can open up your mouth as well and increase the intake of oxygen.

Your 1941 Buick with Compound Carburetion* works something like that.

Its "nose," which is the forward one of your two thrift-size carburetors, does a grand job of supplying "breath" for your engine on normal jobs.

But when the time comes that your engine has to dig in for a tough pull or a burst of power, then your extra foot-pressure on the gas treadle opens up the "mouth" and your engine "breathes" through two carburetors.

Simple, isn't it? Yet look what happens:

Your engine always consumes gas according to the need, never overfed by a carburetor too large for light jobs or underfed by one too small for the big ones.

By simply taking it easy when easy does it and breathing deep when the work piles up, your power plant gets as much as 10% to 15% more mileage from the same gasoline.

That, in these days, is nothing to be sneezed at.

So why don't you get the whole story from your Buick dealer?

Save Our Republic

RIOTERS AND WAR HAWKS.

The Ford plant at River Rouge, the largest industrial establishment in the world, has been surrounded by riotous mobs. Pitched battles have taken place between men who wished to remain at work and others who sought to keep them from doing so. The company has nearly 150 million dollars of armament orders. The local police have been unable to cope with the situation and the Michigan National Guard is in federal service.

At the Allis-Chalmers plant outside Milwaukee the mob gained the upper hand. The factory has 45 million dollars in government orders. After a strike lasting many weeks, the plant was reopened at government request. It has been closed again by mob action. When Gov. Heil appeared to plead for order he was forced to seek refuge within the factory. He and his automobile were stoned. He has appealed to President Roosevelt for aid. Now that the Wisconsin National Guard has been called into federal service, he has explained, he has no force capable of overcoming the rioters.

Work in all the unionized coal mines in the country has been suspended. The stoppage has been accompanied by murder in Kentucky. Coal is an indispensable raw material for armament manufacture.

That is one side of the picture. The other side is the continuing pressure from within and without the administration for more and more active participation in the war in Europe. The present campaign is directed toward using United States navy vessels to convoy merchantmen loaded with munitions. Mr. Roosevelt himself has said that convoys mean war, but many men in congress are persuaded that it won't be long before convoys are ordered.

This administration owes a load of obligations to each of two utterly divergent pressure groups. The first of them consists of the men of violence in the labor movement and their revolutionary comrades in administrative offices of the government. Their aim is to destroy private enterprise. The communists among them want to keep the United States militarily weak as is required by the Hitler-Stalin pact. They must have welcomed the law summoning the National Guardsmen into federal service, for that move made it certain that riotous mobs would get out of hand.

Mr. Roosevelt has taken these revolutionaries to his bosom. To some considerable extent he owes his successive elections to them. They got encouragement from him at the time of the sitdown strikes and he has been loath to antagonize them in recent weeks even tho he has said repeatedly that the United States is in grave danger, and that the danger can be averted only by uninterrupted armament production.

The one group is intent upon keeping the United States impotent. The other group is intent upon getting the United States into war, and the sooner the better. They have urged a by no means reluctant President to advance step by step toward war. The neutrality law was repealed. The National Guard act and the conscription act were adopted. The lease-lend bill was passed and the 7 billion dollar appropriation to carry it into effect. The propagandists for war with Mr. Roosevelt's help have been busily spreading the four falsehoods with which they hope to persuade the American people to send a million boys to be slaughtered in Europe.

Mr. Roosevelt refuses to see that it is nothing short of madness to listen to both these groups and to support their contrary aims. If he continues to do so, we shall find ourselves at war and we shall not have even obsolete arms with which to fight, for we have sent the bulk of our equipment overseas.

The war has been advertised to the American people as a crusade for democracy. The people of this country don't want either the revolution or the war that Mr. Roosevelt's friends are promoting and surely the people don't want both at the same time. Nevertheless, that is precisely the goal which we are rapidly approaching. Mr. Roosevelt appears to believe that he can call his crusade democratic if he disregards the will of the vast majority and accepts the leadership of two minority groups which are moving in opposite directions.

AUTOMOBILE BOOM.

Yesterday's TRIBUNE told of the boom in the purchase of automobiles in Cook county. With figures for the final three days of the month still unavailable, the all-time record set in July, 1929, has been shattered. In March, for the first time, over 15,000 cars were sold in this community in a single month. The total for the first 28 days of March was 16,214, and for the whole month probably will exceed 18,000.

In only one year in the last 19 has the spring peak in auto sales come in March. Ten times the maximum came in April and 8 times in May. This suggests that another new high water mark will soon be set.

A drop in sales was the normal expectation this year. For a quarter of a century, interrupted only by the depression, the industry has followed a three year cycle, two years of rise being followed by one of decline. Sales in 1939 in Cook county were 45.4 per cent greater than in 1938, and in 1940 were 30.4 per cent greater than in 1939. There was plenty of precedent for a relapse of at least 20 per cent this year.

The manufacturers do not believe that a gain of more than 30 per cent in the first quarter over last year's high mark is the result of startling innovations in style. The statisticians cannot find the explanation in the increase in incomes. Pay rolls in Chicago are about 20 per cent greater than last year, but the reports of the department stores to the federal reserve banks indicate that for a wide range of consumer goods the increase over last year has been narrow.

Many people appear to be buying cars thru fright. They seem to be placing their orders because they fear there will be an increase in the price of cars, or that the government will deny to auto makers an adequate supply of certain materials essential in the manufacture of automobiles.

Washington is largely responsible for this automobile panic. When Mrs. Roosevelt stated some time ago that people might be asked later to get along without a new car she placed a premium upon buying one at once before the request was made. The elaborate propaganda organization connected with the defense commission has made every one aware that there is likely to be a shortage of certain materials used in automobiles.

A chart in last Sunday's TRIBUNE showed the steps which are being taken by the automobile manufacturers to find substitutes for materials which have been designated as strategic. If the government will make a comprehensive statement of its plans with respect to these and other materials, scare buying of cars will be eliminated and the market will be reduced to proportions which can be better handled by the manufacturers and distributors. In any event buying at the present rate following two big years must soon bring about a saturated market. Meanwhile, 1939 and 1940 models are being traded in and it ought to be possible to buy a better used car than ever before.

ALLY TROUBLE.

This war may be known in the future as the War of Magnificent Disappointments.

Possibly the British and French did not expect much of the Poles and certainly little was done to strengthen their resistance, but the British did expect their French allies to hold most of France and in particular to keep the Germans off the coasts opposite England. What actually happened is too familiar to require detailing.

Now Hitler has his disappointments and they may prove as grave or graver. Perhaps he did not count upon the Italians to seize the Suez canal and close it to the British, but he must have hoped for some such result and particularly after the fall of France he must have expected that the Italians in Africa would monopolize the attention of a large British force. Equally he must have expected that the combination of German pressure from the north and Italian pressure from across the Adriatic would terrorize the Balkan peoples into giving him whatever he might demand without a struggle. For his purposes he wanted the British to gain no foothold in the Balkans to establish an eastern front and, of course, he wanted to be assured of a steady flow of supplies from the Balkan peninsula to help feed his population and maintain his armament industries.

Britain can be no more disappointed in her French ally than Hitler has been in his Italian ally. The Italian navy, air force, and army have done relatively little to embarrass British operations and much to embarrass the Germans. The eastern front has been established. Greece, Turkey, and now Jugo-Slavia have been encouraged to refuse coöperation with Germany which they otherwise might have given. The prestige of the axis and of totalitarianism has been badly bent. It can be argued plausibly that if France and Italy had remained neutral both Churchill and Hitler today would be better off than they are.

It is an old story that alliances make for trouble. One explanation offered for the failure of the British and French in Belgium was the divided counsel arising from divided interest. The French may have preferred to save Paris, the English to save the channel ports. Between them they succeeded in losing both.

That kind of thing is always likely to happen among allies. It happened in the last war [see, for example, Pershing's memoirs] and it has happened again, and in greatly aggravated form, in this one. It must have required a great deal of self-control on Mr. Churchill's part to refrain from denouncing his Belgian and French allies. It will be interesting to see whether Herr Hitler will be equally longheaded and magnanimous if his ally should suffer a few more such defeats as have recently been experienced.

There is a moral in this for America. Ours is the strongest nation in the world, all things considered. No nation on either side in the war in Europe is much more than half our size. No two nations in the world possess our industrial or financial resources. Above all, we are thousands of miles removed from any nation which might threaten us, and we have the additional protection of air and naval bases off our continent. We have no need for allies.

DUE PAYMENT FOR WAR AID.

[Wall Street Journal.]

Sale of the American Viscose corporation by its British owners to a New York banking group is typical of the method of payment for war goods which should be followed to its completion before certain other proposed methods are so much as considered. British investments here, moreover, should be liquidated for such payment before outright gifts begin under the lease-lend law.

Among other methods of payment which have been privately advanced are the cession of British possessions in the western hemisphere and the delivery of securities representing ownership of, or mortgages on, industrial enterprises located in the United Kingdom, or elsewhere in the empire. As to the first of these, it must be said that we want no more "colonies" or colonial problems further to complicate our political structure. As to the second, world affairs are much too unsettled, and too likely to remain so indefinitely, to permit private investors to venture their capital in that manner. The alternative to private American ownership of such transferred foreign equities or liens would be their retention by the United States government, a suggestion which carries the most forbidding implications for the longer future. From the British point of view, indeed, such an alienation of the nation's industrial capacity is well nigh unthinkable.

There is a world of difference between that course and the sale to our people of industrial plants or other properties in this country. Much as a majority of the American people wish to aid the British in their struggle for national survival, it would be unreasonable of the latter to insist that we also aid them to retain possession of their private holdings in this country. To their credit be it said that they show no tendency to do so—witness this sale of American Viscose. The transfer of British holdings in the United States should proceed in orderly fashion, concurrently with the delivery of war equipment and applying in payment therefor.

There is, to be sure, no such financial halter on war aid to Britain in the lease-lend law. But it is dictated not only by ordinary prudence on our part but as well by the underlying interest of both nations in their lasting good relations with each other.

Spain's foreign minister speaks of his country's friendship with Hitler as "unshakable." Same as the Mussolini hold.—Kansas City Times.

SO THIS IS THE RIALTO!

If you want to know, Ed Wynn's right name is Joseph Leopold.

His addiction to comic hats may be attributed to heredity. His father was a millinery manufacturer in Philadelphia. To aid his son's career, the elder Leopold turned out a trick hat that could be quickly altered into 28 shapes. Wynn used this hat for 11 years in vaudeville. When Ziegfeld hired him for the "Follies of 1914" he sneered, "The only thing you can do is monkeyshines with that hat." Wynn threw it away and became funnier than before.

Chicago's last view of Wynn's famous hat in its full repertory was in 1912 [we think], when the Palace Music hall, now the Erlanger theater, was dedicated. The opening bill was practically an all-star affair, and Wynn was the hit of the show. Anyway, his was the only act on the program that the Linemaster can remember.

A new school drama critic, chatting about Wynn, said: "I must go to see him again and analyze his work. He doesn't seem to fit into any standard pattern." O, yes, he does. He is a "nut comedian." That was the vaudeville term for his species.

What play by Shakespeare is placed in Jugo-Slavia? The answer is "Twelfth Night." Its locale is Illyria, a former name for the seacoast and northwest corner of the present Jugo-Slavia. The standard costume for the heroine, when masquerading as a man, is the Albanian and Montenegrin kilt, but Helen Hayes, who is headed toward Chicago in a "Twelfth Night" revival, has voted for striped pants.

HOLIDAY MEMORIES.

There was sun on the water, remember?
And that glorious blue of the sky!
The trees were a fringe in a mirror,
And the laciest clouds ambled by.
The wind blew benignly, remember?
And ruffled the reeds near the shore;
It carried the subtlest fragrance
Of the cedars that arched the door.
It was silent and lovely, remember?
There was only deep beauty, and you.
I stood there and kissed you, remember?
It was heaven, complete, for two.

The Duke Goes to a Swell Cafe.

Mr. Linemaster: With her, if it aint one thing its 6 others. The latest squawk is that when we was 1st married I yoosta take her out to dinner several times a week. Between me an you tha 1st year we were hitched if I didn' take her out dispepsia wood take me in. Now days whenever I get a stummick ake I still blame it on her 1st mess of potato pancakes. You shood hear her sling at me that old staler, "If you think I'm gonna stand over a hot stove all my life you're crazy."

So last night I takes her to Gallauer's swell Red Star eatery. Its so ritzy that they even charge you 10c extra fer bread an butter. When I was single I cood afford to eat there regularly, which proves the old adage, "Two can live as cheap as one providing she dont eat." Seems tha waiters came with the place and are going to stick it out one more year so Willie can start their pensions.

Take John, fer instance. He's the one that serves you on skis. I asked him once how many cows it took to make a pair of his shoes an he tells me his feet are really very small but that by getting long shoes he dont haf to take so many steps [is it me thats cuckoo?].

Then there's Bruno who claims that nowadays the only tips he sees are those made out of asparagus and on scratch sheets. Chris claims that tha only way Joe keeps going is to take a nap in tha kitchen every time he gets a 30 minute wait on a German pancake order.

We ordered pot-roast à la President [née sauerbraten] with sour cream gravy. Seems any time some of their cream goes sour they shove this dish on the program. Willie the boss stops at our table and asks us why we don't try some of his Lenten specials, so just to make him feel good I ordered a plate of lentil soup.

Besides owning tha place he doubles up as a blues-singer. That bird wood be crying tha blues with a loaf of bread [10c extra] under his arm. He's always complaining about the low prices he has to make. He says its tough when you have to serve a sirloin for only $1.75. I told him its gennerally tough regardless of price.

A SONG OF TREES.

There are pearl-pink trees in early spring—
Pale dogwood dreaming prayer.
Like brides in white, on Easter night,
The peach, wild plum and pear.

There are blue spruce trees and scarlet trees,
Trees yellow brown and bare;
But the prettiest tree in the world, to me,
Is the tall pine woodmen spare!

There are moss-hung trees and starlit trees—
Dryads with flowing hair!
There are sun-flecked trees with golden leaves,
Like Xerxes' plane-tree rare!

There are jade-green trees and violet trees,
Flame trees that make you stare;
But the prettiest tree in the world, to me,
Is the evergreen we spare!

HELP THE COLON TO DO ITS PART.

CONSTIPATION—one of our most common disorders—is so well advertised [particularly the remedies] that it may be termed a national malady. We are told that unless the condition is relieved we will be in danger of poisoning ourselves thru assimilating toxic material. While there is some slight ground for this belief, it is 90 per cent wrong. The absorbing apparatus along the intestines possesses real power in choosing what it will take and what it will leave behind. This trait is not absolute, however, as we know that certain noxious chemicals can be poured into the circulation via the digestive tract.

After all, the thing we want to avoid is infection—the formation of ulcers within the colon and the dumping of improper products into the blood stream. We can understand also that unless the alimentary channel functions practically at par, we may suffer from indigestion—which means more than pain. It implies the poor handling of foods and hence deficient nourishment.

We cannot, by wishing or willing, control the digestive tube. Its movements are governed by the autonomic [sympathetic] nervous system. As a rule the region responds to impulses which persist whether we are awake or asleep, walking about or lying down.

Our objective should be to create within this long canal the environment which nature expects. It doesn't like to be empty—starved. Furthermore, it prefers a mixed diet to one consisting of a single dish—for example, sunshine cake. It demands adequate amounts of fluids, minerals, and vitamins. Altho it is on the job 24 hours a day, it has become accustomed to three regular meals. Some, however, will oblige it to work all the time—with snacks, sugar water drinks, and tasty confections. While there is much to be said in favor of four or five small repasts instead of the regulation three, many of us swallow something requiring gastric activity every hour.

Now the structure is influenced by food. Waves of contractions, beginning with the stomach, will keep up as the nutriment progresses. Then comes the need for the individual to obey implicitly a natural impulse to empty the bowel. Habit, of course, plays a large part in avoiding trouble. If an effort is made to "shout down" the urge, we can understand what may happen. The largest reservoir in the body [the colon] may dilate, lose its tone, and weaken. If this is allowed to continue for weeks, months, or years—the onward movements may not be vigorous enough to discharge the contents. We may say then that constipation is present. In the meantime, the patient frets about the whole matter, which is largely of his own making. He may complain of headache, a badly coated tongue, loss of appetite, and numerous abdominal symptoms.

The best plan is to employ a balanced regimen, including fruits, vegetables, meat, and cream or butter. There is no better corrective than drinking two glasses of hot water or weak tea one-half hour before breakfast. This starts the gastrocolic reflex. If the menus are fairly well planned, and if the victim will not neglect the "call"—all will be well. If—despite this régime—the difficulty fails to yield, one may add to cooked breakfast food from 2 to 4 tablespoonfuls of seaweed flakes [agar-agar].

[A leaflet on constipation, giving further suggestions, will be sent on receipt of a stamped, self-addressed envelope.]

DANGEROUS PRACTICE.

T. C. writes: My husband chews the inside of his cheek during sleep. Now a small lump has formed, which is painful. Do you suppose he has worms?

REPLY.

Not due to worms, but he will have a motheaten cheek if he does not desist. Furthermore, the irritated area may become infected. This is a question of habit. Advise him to "chaw" on chicle [chewing gum] instead of his own tissues.

ERUCTATION.

Mrs. C. B. writes: What causes belching when lying down?

REPLY.

Air that has been swallowed would much prefer to regain the atmosphere via the mouth than to make the long journey thru the alimentary tract. It is usually more difficult to belch when not erect. Every young mother has learned that if she will hold the baby upright after feeding, uncomfortable distention of the stomach [wind colic] will be relieved.

A COLON CUL-DE-SAC.

Mrs. H. E. H. writes: What is the cause of pockets in the colon?

REPLY.

Small, dilated areas may appear along the colon wall. They are called "diverticuli." It is thought that a weak spot exists wherever a blood vessel passes thru. Care must be taken to avoid roughage in the diet, otherwise these sacs may increase in size and become troublesome. Constipation is a factor.

SHARP TEETH.

T. R. writes: My teeth in front are worn down and have sharp edges. I am 25 years old. Can anything be done?

REPLY.

A skilled dentist can help you. The problem is probably one of malocclusion. In other words, on chewing, the teeth do not approximate accurately.

CAFFEINE BETTER.

F. H. writes: In a first aid course we were told not to use alcohol as a stimulant. This is contrary to what I always understood. What is the reason?

REPLY.

Alcohol dissipates heat. Strong coffee is far better. Keeping the patient warm is of prime importance.

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE

Writers should confine themselves to 200 or 300 words. Give full names and addresses. No manuscripts can be returned. Address Voice of the People, THE TRIBUNE.

PRESIDENT HUTCHINS' SPEECH.

Chicago, March 31.—The address delivered yesterday by Dr. Hutchins was an inspiration. It effectively exposed the fine phrases of the interventionists for the hollow mockery they are.

The hope of America lies in the high ideals, capacities, and courage of men like him. Should the administration continue on its present course into war, with the necessarily resulting bankruptcy and disaster, a betrayed, disillusioned and desperate people will instinctively and irresistibly turn to such men as him and Col. Lindbergh for social and political leadership.

FRIEND OF THE PEOPLE

Letters to this department must be signed with names and addresses of writers.

CONVEYANCE BY AFFIDAVIT.

Chicago, March 27.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—A parent died [the other parent was deceased], leaving insurance policies naming all children beneficiaries.

1. After the death of said parent the beneficiaries signed an affidavit conveying this insurance to one of the beneficiaries.

2. Was the one who collected this insurance obligated to pay the debts of the deceased?

3. Would that obligation have to be stated specifically in the affidavit? The insurance policies were from a fraternal and also an old line insurance company.

4. Is it necessary that a notary witness all the signatures being attached or the acknowledged signatures of any of the beneficiaries?

5. Is an affidavit legal if some of the signatures were not written in the presence of the notary or not even acknowledged to the notary who placed his seal on the affidavit?

6. Can the husband or wife [who is a notary public] act as notary public if the wife or husband of the notary public is a beneficiary?

M. T.

1. In general an affidavit will swear to certain facts but it would not be used to transfer interests in property.

2. Depends on the surrounding circumstances.

3. If the affidavit did not purport to cover this phase of the matter and if it can be proved that there was an oral agreement on the point, then it seems probable that the oral agreement would be enforceable. We advise you to go over your facts in a personal interview with an attorney.

4. Depends on the nature of the document.

5. It is irregular for the notary to affix his signature and seal under such circumstances but the fact that he has done so creates strong presumptions as to regularity. It would be difficult for you to attack the affidavit.

6. We cannot advise to advantage without knowing the nature of the document more clearly.

TRIBUNE LAW DEPARTMENT.

ESTATE DISPOSAL.

Chicago, March 27.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—1. My mother and father made a joint will regarding some real estate. The will stipulates the children after my father's death are to share alike in the property. Mother is now dead, father living. Two of the children have been paying the taxes for the last seven years because of the fact they were the only ones able to do it. I would like to know:

2. Must a new will be made in order that we will receive the money we paid out in taxes in addition to our share of the property?

3. As the will now reads, will the will be probated? We have receipts on these tax bills.

4. Will these receipts be sufficient to collect on?

5. We have a verbal agreement with father that we are to receive this tax money in addition to our share of the property.

6. Would a notary seal on the receipted bills be sufficient to legalize our claim?

7. These tax bills are not recorded in the names of the heirs, but in father's name.

M. R.

1. You do not state who originally owned the property. We could advise to better advantage if this fact and the wording of the will were before us.

2. It is desirable that you should be protected in this way or by some written evidence of the debt. In general a claimant is, under Illinois law, not permitted to testify on his own behalf against a probate estate.

3. The necessity for probate depends on facts that are not before us.

4. See 7.

5. See 2.

6. No.

7. This means that the bills would not show that the money is coming to you and hence would not be sufficient for your purpose.

TRIBUNE LAW DEPARTMENT.

PARTY LEADERSHIP.

Chicago, March 31.—In President Roosevelt's Jackson day address he is reported to have referred to Mr. Wendell Willkie as "the leader of the Republican party."

During the campaign Mr. Willkie made definite promises to the people of this country. Those promises he now repudiates and refers to as "merely campaign talk." He was not sincere when he made his pledges or he is not sincere now. By his own actions and words he has forfeited his right to speak for the Republican party.

The President and Mr. Willkie are now joined in the active leadership of "The War Mongers Party," and in my humble opinion neither one is now reflecting the sentiments of the great majority of the American people.

GEO. E. TOBEY.

ON GREEK CATHOLICS.

Cicero, Ill., March 28.—In answer to "Pet Peeve." There is a Greek Catholic church. They are Catholics of the Greek rite who are under the pope but still do not use the Roman rite but the Greek rite in their services. While it might sound paradoxical, still Greek Catholics are Roman Catholics of the Greek rite.

According to state statistics there are 50,000 Greek Catholics in Jugo-Slavia. The episcopal see is in Krizevci, not far from Zagreb.

There is a Croatian Greek Catholic church right here in Chicago, at 3048 South Central Park avenue, which is 35 years old.

G. SMICKLAS.

MR. HUTCHINS HAS COPIES.

Chicago, March 31.—President Robert M. Hutchins of the University of Chicago did a great piece of work for all true Americans in his broadcast address of yesterday. WGN and THE TRIBUNE are to be commended for their part in carrying the message to the public. Will extra copies of the address be available to interested parties, and if so how may they be procured? I believe the discourse should have the widest possible distribution and am anxious to do my part.

GEORGE W. REINECKE.

JUSTIFIABLE COMPLAINT.

Chicago, April 1.—Please do not add insult to injury by calling the Danish vessels seized by the United States "axis shipping." It only serves to confuse the minds of the American people in regard to Denmark. This little country was, before the German "protection," one of the truly democratic and enlightened countries of the world. She never has been and never will be, of her own free will, part of the axis.

GEORGE UGILT.

NIGHT GARBAGE COLLECTION.

Chicago, March 28.—I can't hand the city much on its new scavenger trucks. We were thoroly aroused this morning about 1 o'clock not only by the insistent roar of the mechanism of one of these trucks, but also by the loud clanking of shovels on cement pavement and the unrestrained voices of the men, and it went on for about 45 minutes in the neighborhood.

Haven't we enough to worry us, with the administration dragging us by the heels into a war which does not concern us, without being robbed of our sleep by local refuse collectors?

LOUISE M. VAJNER.

THE DIRKSEN AMENDMENT.

Spring Valley, Ill., March 28.—The steam roller marches on, but, even the steam roller can be caught napping as can be seen by the clever and alert handling of the amendment to the lend-lease bill presented by Everett M. Dirksen, congressman from the 16th district of Illinois.

When the majority members who voted for bill 1776 find that they have made an error in vesting so much power in the President, they can get in line with the minority and enforce the Dirksen amendment. We people of the 16th district are proud and realize we are fortunate to have a statesman like Mr. Dirksen to represent our district.

MATTHEW Y. WARD.

WAR FINANCE PLAN.

Marcellus, Mich., March 28.—Here is a plan by which the government could finance the rearmament program in an easy way. Let them sell 50 cent tickets that will entitle the holder to two meals and a night's lodging in a federal shelter after the war is over. Cantonments and idle armament plants could be converted to serve this purpose. There are no thinking men or women in the country that wouldn't buy as many tickets as their funds permitted them to do.

MAXELLUS.

LETTERS FROM SENATOR LUCAS.

Chicago, March 30.—I, too, received answers from cards sent Senator Brooks, Congressmen Dirksen, Stratton, and Day. But from Senator Lucas nary a line. Has any one a letter to publish from him?

MABEL F. BENDER.

SUBMARINE NAVAL REVIEW.

Bushnell, Ill., March 31.—On Matsuoka's trip to Italy—if he reviews the Italian navy—won't he need a diver's suit?

BRIDGES LAWYER LINKED TO REDS BY U. S. WITNESS

Described as Director of Communist Papers.

San Francisco, Cal., April 2 [Special].—Federal prosecutors seeking to deport Harry Bridges today bolstered their contentions linking the California CIO official with subversive organizations by identifying Bridges' chief counsel as a "dummy director" of two communist publications.

The identification was provided thru testimony of Benjamin Gitlow, former communist party leader, on the stand for the third successive day of hearing before Judge Charles Sears of Buffalo, N. Y.

In response to questions of Albert del Guercio, immigration service law officer, Gitlow said that the "Carol W. King" listed in incorporation papers of the Daily Worker Publishing company of New York and the communist Daily Publishing company of Chicago was the same Carol King of New York, now defending the Australian born labor leader.

Says Party Owned Paper.

Gitlow had testified previously that the Daily Worker, after a dispute with Stalin, took its orders from the political committee of the communist party of America, of which he was a member until his expulsion in 1929. The newspaper, he testified, was actually owned by the party.

Gitlow also gave new evidence concerning communist propaganda in armed forces of the United States. He declared that the communist international considers it "treason" for communists not to provide propaganda groups in the army for the purpose of breaking morale.

In his statements today Gitlow gave a detailed story of communist publications and propaganda organs, which had come into his hands, he said, as a member of the political committee of the communist party in the United States.

Still Against Government.

Gitlow testified he has kept in close touch with the communist movement and that there had been no changes in policy since he left in 1929. The party, he said, still advocates overthrow of the United States government by violence.

"As the result of my fight [with Stalin]," he said, "the communist party of America was taken over by Stalin. You have here today not a native revolutionary party but one owned and operated by Stalin. Today it is even more dominated by the Russian group than it was in 1929."

Gitlow concluded his testimony late today and left the stand without cross examination.

Links Bridges with Reds.

Gitlow was followed by Ezra F. Chase, Los Angeles, who identified himself as a former member of the AFL upholsterers union. He said he had been a member of the communist party since 1931 and that the upholsterers union was dominated by communists.

Chase's testimony was the first to link Bridges with communist activities on the west coast. He testified he was ordered by Lou Baron, an organizer of the trade union section of the communist party, to attend a union meeting at which Bridges would lay down the line on the movement of AFL unions into the CIO.

Chase said he attended the meeting under threat of party discipline and that 15 other communists were present. Bridges, he testified, spoke for half an hour. Bridges told the meeting, Chase said, that those who were loudest in red baiting usually were agents of bosses and should not be trusted. He will return to the stand tomorrow.

STARS FROM ED WYNN REVUE TO BE HEARD ON IN CHICAGO TONIGHT

Jerry Cooper.

Thirty minutes of light music and comedy will be presented on the broadcast of In Chicago Tonight over W-G-N and the Mutual network from 7:30 to 8 o'clock this evening. A trio of featured entertainers from the Ed Wynn revue, "Boys and Girls Together," at the Selwyn theater, will be heard. They are Jane Pickens, the well known songstress; Jerry Cooper, a veteran radio singer, and Dave Apollon, dialect comedian, who will be master of ceremonies.

Bob Evans and his dummy, Jerry, will come from the Empire room of the Palmer House to do an original comedy sketch. The W-G-N orchestra, directed by Harold Stokes and the chorus, directed by Robert Trendler, will provide the musical backdrop. Jess Kirkpatrick is the narrator and Lou Jackobson the director of the show.

Miss Pickens will sing "I Do, Do You?" and "Two Hearts That Pass in the Night." Cooper will sing "Lazy River" and "May I Never Love Again?" Apollon will disclose his famous recipe for borsch. The orchestra and chorus will present "Guess Who?" and "Relax."

LOOP BUS DEPOT PROPOSAL GOES TO COMMITTEE

The city council yesterday referred to its committee on streets and alleys a proposal of the Greyhound Bus Lines to build a huge new terminal in the west half of the block bounded by Lake, Clark, Randolph, and Dearborn streets. Vacation of an alley by the city and permission to build an exit tunnel for buses into the lower level of Wacker drive are requested. Ald. Bryan Hartnett [12th], chairman of the committee, said hearings before a subcommittee would begin next week.

CHARGE PERJURY IN FIRST HEARING AGAINST BRIDGES

Reveal Witnesses Cannot Be Prosecuted.

BY WILLIAM STRAND.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., April 2.—The house appropriation committee today upbraided those responsible for "a grossly inexcusable oversight" in not granting adequate authority to James M. Ladis, special trial examiner in the first Harry Bridges deportation case in 1939.

Landis, dean of the Harvard law school and former New Deal jobholder, was appointed to hear the case by Secretary of Labor Frances Perkins, who later quashed the deportation warrant for the west coast CIO leader. Landis' finding was that Bridges was not at that time a member of the communist party.

The committee said it developed testimony indicating that some of the witnesses in the Bridges case had perjured themselves.

Seek to Fix Responsibility.

"It now develops," the committee said, "that it will be impossible to prosecute those witnesses for such perjury because of the fact that under the power of appointments given Mr. Landis he did not have the authority to administer oaths.

Landis, it was explained, was a contract labor examiner and not an immigrant inspector. The United States code empowers an immigrant inspector to administer oaths whereas there is no statutory provision conferring such authority upon a contract examiner.

The statement was contained in a committee report recommending passage of the $212,087,200 regular 1942 appropriation for the departments of state, justice and commerce, and the federal judiciary. Approximately 75 million dollars was allocated for rearmament purposes, including $28,500,000 for development of airports and $8,750,000 for counterespionage and antisabotage work and for the prosecution of subversive Nazi, Fascist, and communist organizations.

The total amount in the bill represents a reduction of $31,016,989 from the 1941 appropriations for the same four agencies.

The bill provides $21,287,300 for the department of state, $112,228,000 for the department of commerce, $66,257,500 for the department of justice, and $12,314,400 for the judiciary department.

Boost Pilot Training Fund.

A budget figure of 18 million dollars for civilian pilot training was increased to 25 million dollars which is 10 million dollars less than the amount being expended for the same purpose this year. Approval of the 18 million dollars estimate, the committee said, would have forced the government to reduce by approximately one-third the number of colleges giving this training.

The committee recommended an $150,000 appropriation for enforcement of new legislation requiring communist, Nazi, and other foreign organizations to register themselves with the government. A special department of justice fund for the detection and prosecution of kidnapers and bank robbers was reduced from $200,000 to $100,000 on the ground that more would be provided later if needed.

Make $150,000 Profit.

For enforcing the antitrust laws, the committee granted $2,325,000 instead of the $1,575,000 which had been requested. In its report, the group said that the antitrust division "is getting results," noting that total fines collected from violators in the last fiscal year were $1,479,000, or $150,000 more than the division's annual appropriation.

Funds for an inquiry into rising food prices were included in this appropriation. Sources at the department of justice said this afternoon that special grand juries will be impaneled soon to begin food investigations in Chicago, San Francisco, Los Angeles, Atlanta, Washington, D. C., Philadelphia, Seattle, Cleveland, and New York City.

CITY LOSES MOVE TO GET $38,363 IN SCHREIBER FEES

City Clerk Ludwig Schreiber may keep the $38,363 he collected in fees on fishing and hunting licenses in 1939 and 1940 as far as the Illinois Supreme court is concerned. The court refused yesterday to permit the city to petition for a writ to compel Schreiber to turn the funds over to the city. The city's so-called little charter of 1905 forbids the clerk to accept such fees as pay in addition to his $8,000 a year salary. The state game law of 1923, however, provided that the clerk might keep 10 cents of each 75 cents from a fishing license and 25 cents from each $1.50 for a hunting license.

Father O'Brien to Address Antiwar Rally Tomorrow

The Rev. John A. O'Brien, professor of law at the University of Notre Dame, will address an antiwar rally tomorrow at 8 p. m. in the North Side auditorium, 3730 North Clark street. The rally is sponsored by the Lincoln park chapter of the America First committee. The topic of Dr. O'Brien's address will be "The War Crisis and the Way Out." More than 1,000 persons are expected to attend, E. T. Kiehl, chapter chairman, said.

Brooks to Oppose Convoy Proposal in Debate Tonight

Senator Wayland Brooks [R., Ill.] will be heard in a radio debate with Ernest W. Gibson Jr., chairman of the Committee to Defend America by Aiding the Allies, on America's Town Meeting of the Air at 8:35 p. m. today. The subject for discussion is "Should Our Ships Convoy Arms to Great Britain?" Senator Brooks will take the negative side, and Gibson will uphold the question. The debate, originating in New York, will be carried here over WENR.

VAST REVISIONS IN TAX SETUP URGED FOR STATE

Green's Advisers to Act Today on Proposal.

Gov. Dwight H. Green's advisory tax committee will meet today in the Union League club to consider adoption of a report proposing comprehensive revisions of the state's financial structure and tax procedures, but proposing no method of tax reduction, and suggesting only one new source of revenue.

The preliminary report, which will be submitted by Deneen A. Watson, chairman, emphasizes that the committee has attempted to promote efficiency and effect economy, rather than to suggest new sources of revenue. The new revenue measure proposed is a levy of 5 cents a barrel on oil production.

Urge Tax Consolidation.

The report states that innumerable economies can be achieved thru consolidation of the 15,155 local taxing units in the state; that efficiency can be increased in assessing and collecting taxes and in financing governmental operations, from the state down to its smallest units, and that these reforms, with a presumable saving of millions of dollars, can be put into effect without constitutional change.

Salient proposals are:

1. Creation of a state department of taxation, under a director and a three man board of tax appeals, to take over the duties of the five revenue collecting agencies of the present department of finance.

2. Conversion of the department of finance into a department of administration, charged primarily with responsibility to formulate and administer the state budget.

3. Creation of a school survey committee in each county to consolidate school districts into units encompassing all 12 grades, with the elimination of state recognition and aid to districts with only a few pupils.

Provide for Highway Districts.

4. Provision to eliminate township and road districts by permitting any county to establish a county-wide highway district. The committee suggests this would bring a small reduction in highway tax rates.

5. Revision of the tax calendar, establishment of a county tax supervisor in every county but Cook to standardize assessment methods, and revision of foreclosure methods both to discourage delinquencies and to realize on properties with tax delinquencies.

6. Establishment in Cook county of a county collector to separate the powers of county treasurer and collector, at present combined.

7. Reduction of claims for old age assistance by giving the state a lien on real estate owned by recipients of assistance.

8. Extension of civil service, and mandatory quarterly publication of the roll of all full and part time state employés to keep the pay roll army within bounds.

Must Limit Expenditures.

The report concedes that the only way taxes will ever be reduced is by limiting expenditures. Specific economy suggestions are that the upward trend in old age assistance requirements be halted, and that relief expenditures be curtailed in conformity with increasing reëmployment. The report states that any exemption of food from the retailers' occupation tax presupposes a reduction in the state budget.

The report deals extensively with property taxes and methods by which assessment and collection can be made more effective.

Suggestions affecting the tax calendar are that the assessment date be changed from April 1 to Jan. 1, that boards of review complete their work by July 1, that the first penalty date on delinquencies be advanced to Oct. 1 and the second to Dec. 31 of the same year as the assessment, and that levies be voted for a fiscal year beginning July 1.

These changes are proposed, the report says, because the interval from assessment and levy to receipt of the taxes has been increasing gradually, causing delinquency in paying taxes, necessitating tax anticipation borrowing on an ever greater scale, and complicating the relationship between budgets and levies. In Chicago, altho the 1941 budget has been adopted, 1940 taxes have not yet been collected.

SEEKS TO PAY UP INCOME TAXES TO SAVE INSURANCE

Attorney Adelbert Brown, 1 North La Salle street, has offered to pay an alleged deficiency of $588.38 in his income taxes for the year 1934 in order to save the cash surrender value of his two life insurance policies, it was learned yesterday. The government filed suit last month to seize the policies to satisfy a tax lien —an action said to be without precedent in federal District court. Brown said his offer has been sent to Washington, D. C., for the consideration of Attorney General Robert H. Jackson. A decision is expected next week.

BARRETT STARTS DRIVE ON SALES TAX EVADERS

First 50 of 1,500 Suits Filed in County.

Fifty suits against alleged Cook county sales tax evaders, involving about $130,000, were filed in Superior court yesterday by Attorney General George F. Barrett. Barrett said these are the first of 1,500 suits he will file in the next two months because the statute of limitations will expire on most of them by July 1.

The 1,500 suits, involving sales tax on business transactions totaling more than $33,000,000, were turned over to Barrett by the state department of finance after his induction as attorney general, Jan. 13. Additional civil suits, pending when he took office, total 2,479, he said.

Two Large Sums Involved.

The two largest individual sums involved in the suits filed yesterday were $14,014 against Barney Kessel, owner of Barney's Market Club tavern, 741 West Randolph street, and $14,297 against Frank Motor Sales, Inc., 33 North La Salle street.

About 20 per cent of the 1,500 suits to be filed will be against tavern owners, Barrett said.

"These people—corporations, storekeepers, tavern operators, and the rest—merely increase their debt by trying to evade the sales tax," Barrett asserted. "Past records show that more than 90 per cent of them will lose in court. Evasion of sales tax for any length of time is virtually an impossibility.

"Altho this tax was levied by the legislature against retailers, it is well known that most of them pass the tax to the consumer. The defendants in these suits, for the most part, collected the money from the public, then withheld it from the state. They have, in effect, used a state law to add 3 per cent to their profits."

Calls Evasions Moral Issue.

The money which retailers have been pocketing should have gone for support of needy persons, Barrett said. He contends that for this reason the evasions were the more serious from a moral viewpoint.

The sales tax suits involving less than $1,000 will be filed in Municipal court. The overflow from the larger ones, filed in Superior court, will be filed in Circuit court. In country towns, cases involving less than $500 will be filed with justices of the peace, Barrett said.

LEAPS INTO RIVER; DROWNS.

A man identified later as John Merten, 80 year olds, 658 North Wells street, drowned yesterday when he leaped into the Chicago river from the Franklin street bridge. Efforts of firemen to revive him were futile.

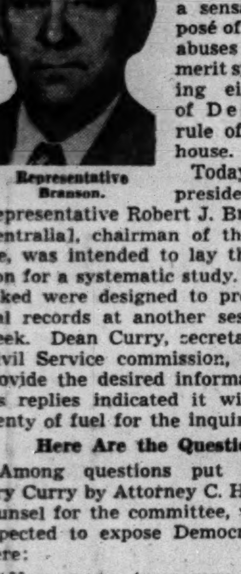
DIG INTO ABUSES OF CIVIL SERVICE IN LAST 8 YEARS

Procedure Hints at Big Exposure to Come.

BY PARKE BROWN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Springfield, Ill., April 2.—Developments today indicated that the joint committee of the Illinois general assembly investigating state civil service will make a sensational exposé of wholesale abuses of the merit system during eight years of Democratic rule of the state house.



Representative Branson.

Today's session, presided over by Representative Robert J. Branson [R., Centralia], chairman of the committee, was intended to lay the foundation for a systematic study. Questions asked were designed to produce official records at another session next week. Dean Curry, secretary of the Civil Service commission, agreed to provide the desired information, and his replies indicated it will include plenty of fuel for the inquiry.

Here Are the Questions.

Among questions put to Secretary Curry by Attorney C. H. Jenkins, counsel for the committee, which are expected to expose Democratic sins, were:

"How many temporary employés are holding positions for which there are eligible lists?"

"How many positions are still held by temporary employés who took examinations for those positions but failed to pass?"

"How many persons were in the state service when examinations were held for their positions, and did not pass, but who still hold their positions?"

"How many employés are paid higher compensation than is provided under the classification made by the Civil Service commission?"

More Queries to Come.

As he replied to each of these queries, Secretary Curry indicated that he would have little difficulty in digging out the desired evidence. As the hearing adjourned, Attorney Jenkins hinted that when he has complete answers to his first batch of questions, he will propound more which may approach more closely the question of salaries paid to persons who did no work, and also to the collection of slush funds from employés.

Following the filing of formal charges against him with the Civil Service commission this morning, Paul M. Hankla of Sullivan, Democratic committee chairman of Moultrie county, turned in his resignation this afternoon as an inspector for the department of agriculture. Howard Leonard, director of the department, announced that he has offered six other inspectors a chance to resign before he files charges against them. The principal charge against Hankla was political activity.

HOUSE ADVANCES GREEN'S PLAN FOR PAROLE SYSTEM

Amended Bill Up for 3d Reading Next Week

BY PERCY WOOD.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Springfield, Ill., April 2.—Parole reform advanced another step today when the Illinois house accepted Gov. Dwight Green's amendments to the Ward-Rennick bill. The measure was held on second reading for further consideration next Tuesday.

Representative Jenkins.

No arguments were made today against the governor's proposed changes. Because of their length and the new principle they seek to establish in the parole system, it was decided to print them so that members can have their exact language before them when a motion for advancement to third reading is made.

As explained by the co-sponsor, Representative F. W. Rennick [R., Buda], the Green amendments provide that minimum and maximum terms set by judges in criminal cases shall stand unless the proposed new parole board, by a vote of four to one—and backed by the director of public safety—should decide to cut the minimum or extend the maximum.

Remove Controversial Clause.

Rennick took from the measure a clause mistakenly included which would have given the director of public safety the power to approve or disapprove parole orders. Its inclusion had met with disapproval from several members, but some of the opposition appeared to have been dispelled when Rennick, with the aid of Representative Charles J. Jenkins [R., Chicago], emphasized that the director would have no hand in any action of the board other than to pass upon its decisions to lower or increase a judge's term recommendations.

Actual parole would continue to be authorized by majority action of the board, or by a vote of three of the five members.

Representative Ernest A. Greene [R., Chicago] proposed that the amendments be printed before action was taken upon them, which brought a suggestion from Speaker Elmer J. Schnackenberg that "due to the importance of this measure the amendments be adopted and the bill then held until next Tuesday." The house agreed and the governor's amendments were quickly approved.

Cancel Liability Clause.

On roll call the house later approved the Bruer-Perry-Wood bill to exempt former holders of state bank stock from the double liability clause. Much debate attended the question, but the bill was passed, 121 to 0.

Among house bills introduced today was one by Representative Arthur W. Sprague [D., La Grange] to create a special Chicago commission of six dollar-a-year men to hold examinations for members of the board of examiners of teachers and principals. The examiners approved by the special board would hold office permanently until compulsory retirement at the age of 65.

BARRETT LANDS U. S. HELP IN SEARCH FOR CHICAGO VOTE FRAUDS

Springfield, Ill., April 2 [Special].—Attorney General George F. Barrett today said he had received from Robert H. Jackson, attorney general of the United States, what he considers assurance of federal coöperation in an investigation of an important phase of election frauds in Chicago.

In reply to a request for access to the list of Illinoisans recorded under the alien registration law, Jackson wrote that the task of segregating the registrants according to localities probably will be completed by July 1 and that Barrett will be notified when the work is completed.

"We shall check this list against the voting lists," said Barrett, "and we expect this comparison to show that hundreds and perhaps thousands of aliens have voted. We hope to expose the machinery that brought this wholesale fraud into use."

How to Make Hard Work Easy

by DALE CARNEGIE

Ever see a business executive pacing the floor, tearing his hair, pounding the desk over a tough problem? Actually, he is wasting energy that might better be used for constructive thought.

Daniel W. Josselyn, in his excellent book called Why Be Tired?, says: "There is no such thing as hard work, only work which we make hard!" And he goes on to explain that often work seems hard chiefly because we "tense up" over it.

Think back to the time you learned to drive a car. You were tense and rigid, weren't you? And as a result, your performance was awkward. Now that you drive well, you drive relaxed. And you wonder why you ever thought driving was hard, to begin with.

The same applies to mental work. Haven't you ever tried hard to think of a person's name and then given up in despair—only to have it come to you a while later when you weren't trying so hard—and were relaxed?

As Josselyn points out, no expert golfer grips the club like a vise—or swings with all his muscles taut. Athletes, actors, singers, pianists all have learned that expert performance depends on physical relaxation. But many businessmen and women have failed to learn that secret.

Whatever may be your occupation, keep as relaxed* as possible. That is the secret of hard work made easy.

Dale Carnegie

*Many people relax more easily with a fragrant, soothing cigarette. Perhaps you do, too. So enjoy a cigarette that's even pleasanter tasting now that something new has been added.

U. OF I. MOVES TO TAKE OVER 2 STATE HOSPITALS

Trustees Urge Green to Approve Transfer.

Transfer of the Illinois Research and Educational hospitals from the state department of public welfare to the University of Illinois advanced a step yesterday when plans for the transfer was approved by the university board of trustees.

The board unanimously voted to recommend the transfer to Gov. Green after a committee of the board had discussed the plan with Rodney H. Brandon, director of the public welfare department. The transfer, if completed, would be effective July 1, at the start of the 1941 biennium.

Part of Coöperative Group.

The hospitals are part of a coöperative group of institutions, started in 1919, occupying the area bounded by Taylor, Wood, and Polk streets and Wolcott avenue, in back of the county hospital.

In this area the university has its colleges of medicine, dentistry, and pharmacy. Immediately adjoining are the various other units of the welfare department, including the research and educational hospitals, university clinical institute, the Illinois Surgical Institute for Children, the division of handicapped children, power and heating plants, a nurses' home, storeroom, and other minor utility buildings.

University Would Take Over All.

Under the proposal the university would take over physical and administrative control of all these welfare department institutions. At present, the university supplies the clinical staffs and the welfare department operates and maintains the buildings.

When the transfer goes thru, funds which heretofore have gone to the department of public welfare will be appropriated to the university. The university then would be responsible for further improvement and development of the physical properties as well as for the further development of medical science and studies there.

Two Not Affected.

The Institute of Juvenile Research and the Neuropsychiatric institute, which are part of the area, are not included in the expected transfer. They are close to the work of the welfare department and would remain under that department's direction jurisdiction. The university would, however, heat and maintain the physical properties.

The value of the properties involved in the proposed transfer is estimated at more than 3 million dollars. University and welfare department officials are said to feel that elimination of the present system of dual control will work toward economy and promote general efficiency in which both the state and medical science will benefit. Dr. Raymond B. Allen of Winnetka is executive dean of the university's Chicago medical, dental, and pharmaceutical schools.

College Queens

Two brunettes were selected as queens of their respective colleges last night at the ninth annual Carnival of Champions at Loyola university.

They are Miss Ellen Jane Fitzgibbon, 430 North Lawndale avenue, named queen of Mundelein college, and Miss Mary Margaret Wojtalewicz, 4029 Roscoe street, elected queen of Rosary college, River Forest. Three girls from each school competed for the honors.

Miss Fitzgibbon, a senior, is a star swimmer, and is majoring in mathematics. Miss Wojtalewicz is a sophomore, and is majoring in dramatics.

GREEN EXPLAINS 2 JAIL RELEASES TO GRAND JURORS

Tells of His Efforts to Cure Alcoholics.

Judge Thomas A. Green, whose release of a score of prisoners from the county jail before they had served their sentences is under investigation by the state's attorney's office, went before the grand jury yesterday to explain his actions.

He said later that he was questioned concerning only two of the cases, those of Emmet Olin, 1509 North Lockwood avenue, who was freed after serving five days of a 30 day sentence, and John Rogacz, 532 Entrance street, Kankakee, freed after serving two days of a 10 day sentence. Both sentences were for drunken driving.

Charges She Paid Bribe.

Olin's wife has charged that she paid a $165 bribe to a deputy bailiff to effect her husband's release. A sister of Rogacz, Mrs. Della Butters of Kankakee, said her brother was freed after she had paid $90 to a lawyer whom she met thru a bailiff in Judge Green's court. Wilbert Crowley, first assistant state's attorney, said yesterday he was satisfied that the $90 paid to the attorney was "purely a matter of fee," and that the attorney would not be questioned by the grand jury.

Judge Green said he told the grand jurors he freed Olin because some one appealed on the defendant's behalf, but that he couldn't remember who it was. He said he didn't know any money changed hands. Green said he told the jurors it was not Olin's wife who made the appeal [earlier he had stated that it was the wife], nor did he think it was Deputy Bailiff James Boyle, who, according to Mrs. Olin, took the $165, nor Louis Coconate, a sanitary district engineer, whom Mrs. Olin had named as go-between.

In the Rogacz case, the judge said, he was approached by an attorney who told him Rogacz would lose his job if he remained in jail.

Green said he also told the jurors of his work in trying to aid Alcoholics Anonymous, a group of ex-drinkers formed to combat alcoholism, by imposing short jail terms on men who asked for them for the purpose of curing themselves of the desire to drink. Six of the 20 prisoners freed by Judge Green since Jan. 1 were said to be alcoholic "free will" prisoners.

Judge Green was notified yesterday by Attorney John P. Gorman that a pardon was being sought from Gov. Green for William E. Tishey, 22 years old, 7257 Calumet avenue, one of the out-again-in-again group. Tishey, released March 4 by Judge Green after serving about 10 days of a 60 day reckless driving term, is to be inducted into the army Monday.

Authorize Hewitt to Use City Labor on Stop Lights

The city council yesterday authorized Oscar E. Hewitt, commissioner of public works, to use city labor in regulating and caring for traffic stop lights other than the stop and go signals on much traveled streets. Under contract, Hewitt said, the work would cost the city $372,000. He estimated the city would do the job on the specified lights for $299,422.

VOTE TO INDICT KNIFE SLAYER ON 2 MURDER COUNTS

William Evans, 25 years old, who fatally stabbed his infant son, Douglas, and his mother-in-law, Mrs. William J. Sanders, and slashed his estranged wife, Nedra, March 22 in the Sanders home at 3208 Grove avenue, Berwyn, was reported named by the grand jury yesterday in two true bills charging murder and one charging assault to kill.

Witnesses who appeared were his wife, who has recovered from her wounds; Sergt. Charles Rudderham of the Berwyn police, and William J. Sanders, husband of the dead woman. Mrs. Evans turned over to Samuel Freedman, assistant state's attorney, a letter sent from the County jail by Evans. It read:

"Nedra, there is nothing I can say except that I would like to see and talk with you, or perhaps you might write me. Bill."

The stabbing occurred when Mrs. Evans refused to drop her divorce plans. Evans resides at 156 Gage road, Riverside.

KACENA QUIETLY GETS CITY'S O. K. ON AN ORDINANCE

Kacena, Joseph Kacena, Ald. Joseph Kacena Jr., Ald. Joseph Kacena Jr. of the 23d ward, never uses a word more than necessary. He confines his speeches in the council to motions for the approval of the minutes of the last meeting.

So the other aldermen didn't ask him to explain the ordinance he presented yesterdaly. They passed it. And then they discovered that it was his own private ordinance for his ward, providing a fine of $5 to $100 for littering the streets with paper.

"City's got one. No one pays any attention to it. I'll enforce mine," said Kacena.

New York, April 2 [Special].—The Archduke Felix of Austria, one of the ranking members of New York City's growing ranks of titled foreign aristocracy, today was fined $2 for a parking violation. An attendant at the garage where the archduke leaves his car appeared in Traffic court, pleaded guilty for the archduke, and paid the standard fine.

Inquest in Gang Execution Delayed for Further Quiz

An inquest into the gang execution of Marvin E. Olson, an ex-convict who was shot to death Monday in an alley at the rear of 1221 Burling street, was continued to April 21 yesterday to permit further police investigation. Olson was a witness in a recent jury fix case, but police believe his racket connections were a more probable cause for murder. Olson lived at 8221 South Laflin street.

N. Y. BILL PASSED TO CURB TRANSIT TIEUPS BY STRIKE

Measure Seeks to Avert Subway Walkout.

Albany, N. Y., April 2 [Special].—Legislation to curb strike tieups of public transportation systems was laid before Gov. Herbert H. Lehman tonight. A particular object of the measure was prevention of a New York City subway strike threatened for early summer by the CIO Transport Workers' union.

The bill, adopted by the senate last Thursday and the assembly today without a dissenting vote, amends the old railroad sabotage statute to include bus, trolley, and subway lines, whether owned publicly or privately.

Punishment is provided for any one leaving unattended a car, bus, or other transit facility placed in his care. Other offenses covered by the measure include placing obstructions on tracks, destroying guards or danger signals, throwing stones or other missiles, and shutting off or damaging motive power.

Sabotage Penalties Retained.

Left unchanged are the railroad sabotage penalties of a five year term in any event of sabotage and up to 20 years' imprisonment if the act endangers any person's safety.

The measure was hurriedly drafted and pushed to passage as a direct result of the recent 12 day New York City bus strike that tied up 90 per cent of the city's surface transportation and inconvenienced 900,000 daily passengers during severe winter weather.

Of immediate importance was the legislation's expected prevention of the TWU's threatened strike on the vital New York subway lines early in the summer when existing labor agreements expire.

At issue in the dispute is the union's demand that all members of TWU now employed in the Interborough Rapid Transit and Brooklyn-Manhattan Transit subway divisions be enabled to retain their union membership after the present agreement dies.

Union Eligibility Disputed.

Inasmuch as the two subway divisions now are a part of the city-wide, city-owned, and city-operated system resulting from unification of the services, the city has contended that such employés hereafter will not be eligible for union membership because they will have acquired civil service ratings.

Heading the TWU is militant Michael Quill, former city councilman and longtime labor agitator. He frequently has been labeled a radical and recently was described by the Dies congressional committee investigating un-American activities as a member of the communist party.

ONE DIES, 6 HURT IN COLLISION OF BUS AND TRUCK

One man was killed and six other persons were injured last night when a Santa Fe Trailways bus sidewiped a truck and went into a ditch on U. S. Route 52 seven miles west of Joliet. The fatality victim was William O'Blenis, 24 years old, of South Bend, Ind., a passenger.

Those injured were Mrs. Theresa Affelt and her son, James, 26, of Spring Valley, Bureau county; Steve Geahoulakei of Spring Valley; Miss Lorraine Johnson, 18, of Seneca, La Salle county, passengers; James D. Cody, 24, of Spring Valley, the bus driver, and Carl H. Toll, 35, of 1630 Aberdeen street, Chicago Heights, the truck driver. The drivers and Miss Johnson suffered minor injuries, but the Affelts and Geahoulakei were seriously hurt and are in St. Joseph's hospital, Joliet.

The only person involved in the accident to escape injury was Harold Claude, 21, of Quincy, Adams county, a bus company employé who was a passenger. The bus was en route from Spring Valley to Joliet.

No traffic deaths were recorded in Cook county in the 24 hours ending at 4 p. m. yesterday. Up to that time 202 persons had been killed in county traffic since Jan. 1. Of these 153 died in Chicago, where 5,291 were injured during the same period.

WIFE OF BROKER FILES COUNTER DIVORCE CLAIM

Attorneys for Mrs. Helen Cantlon Beall yesterday filed in the Lake county Circuit court at Waukegan an answer and counterclaim to a divorce bill filed by Kenneth Sutter Beall on March 13. Mrs. Beall, who also asks a divorce, charges that her husband committed acts of extreme and repeated cruelty.

Beall, a La Salle street broker, had charged her with acts of extreme and repeated cruelty. The Bealls were wed April 18, 1936, and separated last March 10. They have one child, Kenneth Jr., and both seek his custody. Mrs. Beall also asks in her bill for temporary and permanent support for herself and the child.

Beall lives on South Telegraph road, Bannockburn. Mrs. Beall is living with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Leo Koenig at 1028 Elmwood avenue, Wilmette.

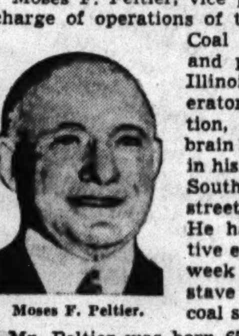
MOSES PELTIER, COAL OPERATOR, DIES IN OFFICE

Moses F. Peltier, vice president in charge of operations of the Peabody Coal company and president of Illinois Coal Operators' association, died of a brain hemorrhage in his office at 231 South La Salle street yesterday. He had been active earlier in the week in efforts to stave off the soft coal strike.



Moses F. Peltier.

Mr. Peltier was born 65 years ago in Spring Valley, Bureau county. He worked as a coal miner in his youth, studied engineering, and in 1897 joined the Peabody company. He remained with the company from that time until his death, with the exception of the years from 1915 to 1917, when he headed the Monarch Coal company of Sheridan, Wyo. He conducted several coal surveys for the Canadian and United States governments.

Mr. Peltier lived at the Windermere East hotel. His widow and a daughter, Mrs. Kelvin Glenn, survive.

FEDERAL JUDGE EXTENDS BALLOT FRAUD QUIZ AGAIN

The term of the federal grand jury investigating alleged vote frauds in the Nov. 5. election was extended for the fourth time yesterday by Judge Philip L. Sullivan. The grand jury has been hearing evidence on vote frauds since Nov. 14 and has already broken all records for length of term in this district.

J. Albert Woll, United States attorney, said it would be another week before he could review the testimony and prepare a recommendation for the attorney general. However, he said, the work of the grand jury is practically complete and the jurors will not be required to meet more than two or three more days.

Approximately 150 witnesses have been heard.

MUNICIPAL COURT JOINS DRIVE ON PERSONALTY TAX

The Municipal court started a tax collection program yesterday by sending letters to 24 delinquent personal property taxpayers, warning them to pay court tax judgments within 10 days or face seizure and sale of their properties.

Albert J. Horan, chief bailiff, said additional letters will be sent at the rate of 10 or 15 a day, in an effort to help county officials clean up the 260 million dollar personal property tax delinquency. Sheriff O'Brien's collections on personal property tax judgments in the Circuit court yesterday were $9,210. This brought the sheriff's total receipts to $106,718 since a drive was started three weeks ago.

Show Offers Flower, Table Setting Study

BY EDITH WEIGLE.

The best opportunity during the entire year for studying flower arrangements and table settings is to be had at the current Flower show at Navy pier. And a few days still remain of the present exhibition, which is one of the most charming ever held.

When you stop to admire the shadow boxes, the center pieces and the vase arrangements be sure to read the comments of the judges which are written on the entry cards. These brief, informative summaries explain the awards and are highly enlightening to the inevitable doubter who asks, "Why didn't this get first prize instead of that?" or "Why did this receive no award, at all?"

The comments, too, will be of great help to you in making your own future flower arrangements.

One of the interesting problems in the shadow box competitions this season was to make an arrangement of flowers in a conch shell. The special award of honor went to the Glencoe Garden club for a truly beautiful effect obtained by placing the shell on a large bamboo mat and filling it with the gorgeous peach blossoms of the clevia plant, which are like bunched clusters of little lilies.

A starfish and a few shiney acorns were the accessories which pointed up this arrangement.

Another fascinating group of shadow boxes were those which had identical containers, these being the artistic, simple, rectangular pottery jars known as Chinese pillows. This vase is one of the simplest of all forms and so adapts itself to an infinite variety of arrangements.

The Garden Study club of Hinsdale was given a special award in this class for an arrangement consisting of a pale gray Chinese pillow in which was a single, delicately graceful gray branch of a shrub just beginning to put forth little green leaves. At the lower center was a curious small dark brown ball, perhaps the seed pod of the tree. Underneath the container was just a slab of wood, quite thin.

The judges' comment was: "Beautiful unity of design and color."

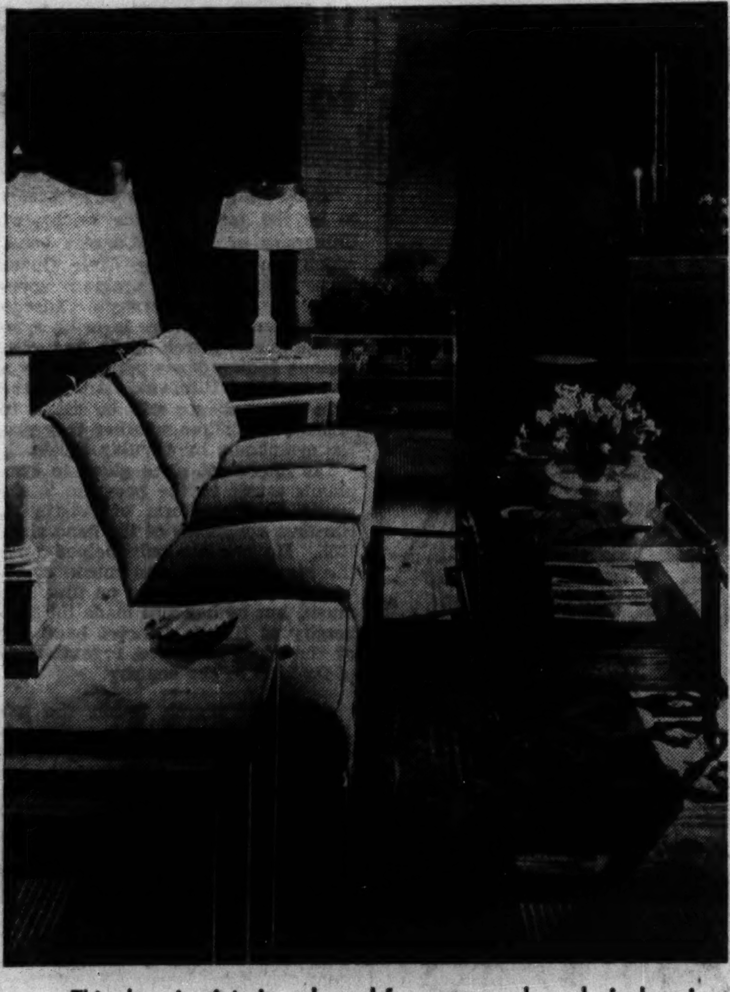
A first prize went to the Glen Ellyn Garden club for an all green arrangement in a chartreuse pottery Chinese pillow, the material used being the foliage and folded buds of the gladiolus, and on the green velvet cover beneath a cluster of lemons with their leaves. The Riverside Garden club entered a most artistic arrangement of old fashioned red and white striped carnations in a spiral effect around a palm frond, all placed in an off-white Chinese pottery pillow on a slab of teakwood. The shadow box was painted a striking pink.

Those women who knit their brows over table settings for special occasions such as wedding anniversaries, birthdays, Easter, or farewell luncheons will certainly get plentiful supplies of inspiration at the Flower show, for there are a number of dining tables in the special occasion class. Some of these, each one being named, are: May Day luncheon, Ski supper, Explorer's Return luncheon, Aloha luncheon, Arabian buffet, Armistice Day buffet, Bride's table, and Bachelor's table.

Witty and clever no end is the huge, natural wood table set by the Lake Bluff Garden club and given the highest award. Called "The Stag at Harvest Eve" it was planned for the ravenous male. Plates and liquor and water glasses are very substantial, as are the covered French earthenware casseroles.

At one end as decoration is a huge Grecian head of white plaster. Probably the gal is the goddess of the harvest for she's all dressed up in sprays of wheat and she wears a head-dress of an enormous round loaf of bread on which are stuck various fruits and little French crescent rolls! To balance this lady, at the other end of the table, there's a huge, decorative white plaster hand clutching a sickle. Imagination, originality and a grand sense of humor make this table one of the high spots in the competition.

Living Room Vista



This charming interior, planned for young newly-weds, is done in simple, inexpensive modern furniture which has been given a new finish called platinum. The mahogany coffee table is the only piece not in this line. It was a wedding gift of this make-believe couple.

HOUSEHOLD FORUM

by Louise Bargelt

(Have you some favorite household help, something that lightens labor and gets results? Is there some comfort or convenience you could enjoy? We'll be glad to pass on your ideas to our readers. Address Louise Bargelt, The Chicago Tribune.)

Here is a tip I have found useful when it comes time to start my family on summer trips. After I address labels for grips and trunks, and the ink is dry, I rub a warm candle over the label. This rainproofs the slip and also keeps the ink from smudging or running when it rains.—Mrs. K. T., Evanston, Ill.

If any one is troubled with frisky mice that steal cheese from traps and then make their getaway, try searing cheese lightly with a burning match. The cheese will melt and adhere to trap, and what is even more to the point—mice like the odor of cooked cheese.—Helen M., Kansas City.

When, I wonder, will manufacturers turn their attention to the designing and marketing of paper lingerie for summer wear? You could throw away the pieces after one wearing, and such lingerie would be especially nice for traveling purposes.—Miss Eileen G., Chicago.

Here's how I remove the stems from small fruits such as gooseberries, etc. I place a small, bottomless box over a window screen, fill it with berries, and then slide the box back and forth. Saves on time—and work! —Mrs. L. K. Morton.

In case your hat bands get stained and moisture-ridden in hot weather, slip a strip of cellophane under the inside of the hat band. This will help to keep band in fresher state, no matter how high the temperature soars.—K. M. G., Chicago.

Why won't some clever scientist devise a means to retain an oven aroma in all bakery products for a number of days?—Mrs. F. S., Maywood, Ill.

I apply a coat of wax quite frequently to my kitchen oilcloth. This makes the cloth last longer and the pattern stays brighter. To polish: I wrap a cloth around a sizeable iron and this makes the work easier.—Jane T., Aurora, Ill.

Last year when I built my rock garden I was advised by an expert to tilt stones a little backward. In this way the rain would not be so apt to wash away soil from the pockets between stones. I followed advice —and I can guarantee that it is good!
—Dora S., Chicago.

About the easiest way I have found to clean celery stalks is to use a mineral wool scouring pad. It does the work in short order.
—Mrs. M. C. Chicago.

Now, please, your idea.

Beauty in Home Is Possible Even on Slim Budget

In the spring a woman's fancy lightly turns to thoughts of home renovating, but unfortunately, her husband not so lightly turns her thoughts to the budget.

There are innumerable ways, however, of adding life to a room at small expense. One must be careful to estimate correctly the proportionate value of the furnishings. For instance, in some cases an inexpensive item may give satisfactory appearance and wear, but in others, it is thrifty to invest a little more, thereby eliminating the necessity of an early replacement.

This is particularly true of floor coverings and considering the wide range of patterns in each quality there is no excuse for not having floors just as attractive and correct as they can be.

The floor covering market abounds with 18th century florals, tone-on-tone rugs, and plain carpets. The two-tone rug is practical since it lends itself well to any number of room schemes of various periods or styles and is available in many color effects.

The hooked rug and floral pattern are ideal for the provincial setting. Much all over carpeting will be seen this year.

If using a rug avoid leaving more than a foot of floor around the edges. A room will appear smaller than it really is with too wide a floor border.

Perhaps it will seem there is still something lacking . . . the room still needs a pickup. Try painting one wall a different color and see how much interest it adds. Give some time to the consideration of details such as pictures, flowers, ceramics, and their arrangement. These are the things a "budgeteer" must rely on to add a note of distinction to her home.

In a provincial or early American room walnut furniture, maple, or some other similar wood may be used. The various qualities and price levels permit the furnishing of a charming, livable room well within the limits of the budget.

College Club Book Review.

Mrs. John Blair Whidden will review "Wolves Against the Moon" at 11 o'clock today at the Chicago College club. The book was written by Julia Cooley Altrocchi, whose mother, Mrs. Harlan Ward Cooley, formerly was president of the club. The Six-to-Niners will see motion pictures of the West Indies following dinner this evening.

Paint Style Guide Gives Preview of New Color Scheme

A big help to the woman who's puzzled about paint colors for the spring redecorating of her home is a brand new, skilfully compiled style guide, made by a large manufacturer of paints. This book gives the home owner a preview of how a color scheme will look before she goes so far as to buy a brush and a can of paint.

Illustrated in color are large photographs of interiors: living rooms, dining rooms, bathrooms, kitchens, etc., to show just how certain tones will look. New color schemes and old tried and true ones are given. The rooms are pictured in their furnishings, a variety of styles of furniture, rugs and draperies being shown.

These large books can be consulted at paint dealers' stores thruout the city and in the paint departments of several loop stores.

On the House

Sometime ago a reader asked, thru our Household Forum why no one had invented a scrub pail on wheels, to save the work of lifting and carting the pail about from place to place. . . . Now there is such a pail on the market—a nice scrub pail on a wheeled platform. . . . It has four ballbearing casters and considerable drudgery is eliminated since the pail can be slid across the floor!

Pleated Flounce Is Still Good, to Dress a Four Poster Bed

The most attractive method of "dressing" a four poster bed is also an appropriate one, for it was used a century ago when this type of furniture was in common use. Instead of a single bedspread or coverlet, a lower, pleated ruffle was also used. This was sewed to plain white material such as sheeting or percale, which was slipped between the mattress and the springs.

The coverlet or spread was used on the bed and hung down the sides to meet or slightly cover the ruffle. Today this combination of spread and pleated lower flounce is extremely popular once more. When a floral material is used for the bedspread the flounce is of a plain, solid toned material.

Library Week Only Moment in This Boy's Life

This is Chicago Public Library week. It is the only week in the year that some persons visit the library.

There is one lanky, frosty blue-eyed youngster whose red thatched head will be seen bent over some book every day this week in the main library at Randolph street and Michigan avenue. This will be nothing new. He has done the same thing for the last two and a half years. It is one of the attendants' regular duties to chase him out at the 10 o'clock closing hour each evening.

His name is Wayne Bank. Friends invariably call him Wayne. He calls himself "Red." There is a good reason for this. A certain awe surrounds a boy of 17 years who speaks in the tone of a Dickens character and whose mind is a well kept file of miscellaneous information.

There is a touch of glamor, too, in a boy whose home is a boat, and Wayne's is. He and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry E. Burke, live in the lightship, which is tied up west of the Merchandise Mart in the Chicago river.

It was two and a half years ago, when the family went nautical, that Wayne adopted the library as a companion. "There were no boys around the dock to chum with, so I took to walking thru the loop each evening," he explains. "One night I passed the library and decided to drop in for a minute. Once inside, a minute wasn't enough. I could use 48 hours a day there now, if they had such a calendar."

For the benefit of his classmates this young bibliophile conducts tours of the library and describes in minute detail the workings of the card catalog. Frequently he borrows lantern slides on some far-off, romantic spot and delivers lectures at St. Michael's High school, where he is a junior. "It works out fine," he says. "The kids like to get out of class and I can talk on indefinitely."

To ask Wayne what he has read in his two and a half year term at the library is like tackling a flank of the card catalog. "My favorite author?" he replies to that query. "Gosh, I wrote a paper once who he was and now I have so many tickling my brain that I can't remember."

Marge of Sunrise Mountain Farm Announces Her New Book.

A letter from Marge of Sunrise Mountain Farm announces that her book, Take to the Hills, will be out May 1. The book, which is a personal narrative of life in the Ozarks, was inspired by the reception given by readers of this column to the pieces contributed by Marge. Thus, the many readers who have taken time to write in that they enjoy the freshness, simplicity, and humanity of her Ozark pieces are directly responsible for its publication. The book is not a reprint of pieces printed in the column, but a personal tale of the life Marge and her husband, the "Jedge" of these pieces, and their neighbors lead, against a background of Ozark mountain and woodland.

An Easter egg, adorned with yarn hair, blue calico eyes and a sunbonnet—a large goose egg laid by one of the big Toulouse geese of the flock on Sunrise Mountain farm, "geese that have the softest feathers and the meanest dispositions of any geese in the world," accompanied Marge's letter. "Long ago they would have been in the roaster except for their fascinating habit of getting in line at the very top of Sunrise mountain and then, as tho at some hissed command, rising on tiptoe and running with wings outspread to the back yard fence. It's a ballet trick that brings your heart into your throat when it's performed against a backdrop of azure Ozark sky with the first rays of the morning sun diffusing a gold and rose light over the performers," she writes.

"But what I started out to say is that the next sunbonnet you see will be on the jacket of my book, Take to the Hills. I love the jacket. It shows a sunbonneted woman looking down into a great Ozark valley. I photographed the woman one day as she was walking along a country road. I don't know who she is . . . but she was walking along, miles from any house that I could see, and somehow her clean bright sunbonnet and the little tired droop of her shoulders seemed to represent and sum up the whole of life in the Ozarks. The valley on the jacket was photographed from the porch of the cabin of The Shepherd of the Hills. It is one of the most glorious views in the Ozarks."

Advice.

The record of an interview with the mother of Joe Louis about her son's future training is still in the files of a child guidance bureau in the heavyweight champion's native Detroit, Hardwick Moseley relates. The advice given by the psychologist to Mrs. Louis was that her small son be taught to do something with his hands.

A Patriot Speaks.

A Greek entered a south side store and inquired if he might use the telephone. He asked the operator for a Delaware number. She could not understand him and asked him to spell the exchange.

"I can't spell it, lady," he answered, "but it's the river Washington crossed."

Henry Monsky Re-Elected B'nai B'rith President

Henry Monsky of Omaha, Neb., was reëlected to his second term as national president of B'nai B'rith, which closed triennial sessions yesterday at the Drake. The election was unanimous. Sigmund Livingston was reelected chairman of the anti-defamation league of the order. Maurice Bisgyer of Washington, D. C., was renamed secretary following Monsky's reëlection as president. Sidney Kusworm, Dayton, O., was reëlected treasurer.

Can't-Run Hose in New Shades Stage Revival

BY REA SEEGER.

Staging a real celebration over a year's success among hosiery wearers and shoppers the nylon tycoons present some new ideas! First there are many new shades, extremely flattering tints to complement your new spring clothes whether for street or dress parade and evening gowns. The flawless texture still fascinates, the same rather incredible long wearing records are still the talk of the town and these new shades are making even more chatter.

Brand new finds are the can't run nylons, hosiery with that tricky fine meshlike texture that precludes any snagging and unsightly runs. The heel and toe sections are smooth so that shopper with extra sensitive skin can't complain. Good neutral colors assure good accent shades for all costumes.

Two new dark shades are out, the sheerest black and a flattering gunmetal, two tints hitherto not available in anything but the more fragile or perishable chiffons. You can imagine how delightfully thin and filmy either gunmetal or the black shade must be in the even smooth nylons, and the shoppers who realize just how flattering and superslender these two dark shades are round the anklelines will join the rush to be among the first to wear them. Heels are a couple of shades darker and this is the trick that makes the outlines seem unusually slender and shadowy.

Mary Pickford Is Under Observation in Hospital

Los Angeles, Cal., April 2 (AP).—Mary Pickford, suffering from a kidney ailment, is under observation in a Los Angeles hospital. Dr. Verne C. Hunt said the screen and radio actress entered the hospital two days ago; that her condition was not serious, and he did not know whether an operation would be necessary.

April 3, 1941.

Universal day—Keep all your deals sound today and investigate before signing on the dotted line.

If you were born in February—your early environment was probably less spectacular than most. Even those who rose to fame whose birthdays were in February had noticeably undramatic early years. They had to learn by doing little insignificant things at the time, but which were all a part of the whole. The small events occupy the minds of those born in this short month. They usually can look back on relationships with others as meaning the most to them then. The coöperation they gave then is what counts now. Most of them will probably find that they could easily concede that "peace loving" would fit their predominate childish trait. They might have been shy and to have found it difficult to force issues alone. The circumstances of their lives called for sharing and learning to be unselfish.

Looking at Hollywood
By John Chapman

Hollywood, Cal., April 2.—It's definite now that Bob Hope is Paramount's top man, and there are more pictures in preparation for him than for any other star in the shop. Newest project is to link Bob and Paramount's other wonder man, Preston Sturges, who is going to write and direct a Hope flicker entitled "The New Yorkers."

But when it will be produced is a problem. Hope recently finished "Caught in the Draft," which is soon to have a junket première at Fort Ord, Cal. He's working in "Nothing but the Truth." Next will come "Louisiana Purchase." Samuel Goldwyn has a one picture deal with him, and plans a South American musical with Hope and Fred Astaire as a couple of aviators. And Paramount also is preparing for the scoop faced comedian a number called "Lady in Pursuit," in which Madeleine Carroll will be the co-star, not to mention the third of the Hope-Bing Crosby-Dorothy Lamour extravaganzas, "The Road to Moscow."

Preston Sturges is no sloth himself. He's putting finishing touches on "Sullivan's Travels" and will start shooting in a couple of weeks. This one is about Sturges. It concerns a fantastically successful author-director who decides he'll GET AWAY FROM IT ALL. Tired of work and making money and investing in restaurants and houses, he closes his home, leaving only one servant. He tells this servant to answer the telephone. He tells his studio he wants to disappear, and if he should weaken and call up the call must not be accepted. Then, with three $100 bills in his shoe, he hops a freight out of the Los Angeles yards. He falls asleep, a tramp steals his shoes and the $300—and there he is, broke and alone. He can't call his home, he can't call his studio, and the cops won't believe him when he says he's a great man.

The Broadway hit, "The Corn Is Green," has been purchased as a starring vehicle for Bette Davis and Ida Lupino. . . . "Hold Back the Dawn," a Mexican border story starring Charles Boyer and Paulette Goddard, has a number of exterior shots which have been held up for weeks because of bad weather—and Director Mitchell Leisen figures on changing the title to "Hold Back the Rain." Leisen is doing his work with his right arm in a sling. He was cleaning a goldfish bowl at home and it broke, cutting into tendons in his wrist and two fingers. . . . Sally Eilers, Donald Woods, and Edward Cianelli will be principals in Columbia's "I Was a Prisoner on Devil's Island," and Anita Louise has checked in from a harp-playing personal appearance tour to take the lead in "One Way Street."

Illinois Band Program Tonight to Be Half Classic, Half Popular

BY EDWARD BARRY.

"Something for everybody" seems to be the motto of the celebrated University of Illinois Concert band, which moves into the Civic Opera house tonight for a program sponsored by the university's Chicago alumni groups. There is to be symphonic music, march music, and even a Sioux Indian dance performed by a certain Chief Illiniwek. And at the close the audience will be asked to indicate on ballots whether they prefer symphonic or popular music.

The important place given to symphonic music in the program is the result of the efforts of Austin A. Harding, conductor of the band since 1905. He has not only helped raise the standards of band music everywhere by his insistence on first rate music, but he has also made the University of Illinois Concert band one of the most respected organizations of its kind in the country.

As to the march music, the late John Philip Sousa left his entire musical library to the University of Illinois. Mr. Harding, therefore, has access to an extraordinarily rich collection of music of this sort. The postintermission part of tonight's program is to be devoted to military marches.

Chief Illiniwek's dance will be a reproduction of the dance performed between the halves at every Big Ten football game on the University of Illinois field.

Edward Mumm, winner in the violin division of the Society of American Musicians' young artists contest, played music by Grieg, Saint-Saëns, Szymanowski, Sarasate, and Glazounoff in Kimball hall last night. Dorothy Scott provided accompaniments and piano parts.

Early in the evening Mr. Mumm was too tense to allow his musical imagination full play, but by the time he had reached Sarasate's beautiful Romanza Andaluza he was playing with freedom and even boldness. Tone was shining and pure; rhythms were piquant one minute and quite sweeping the next. His performance was so intelligent that the very structure of the piece was laid convincingly before his audience.

Field Chorus Observes 35th Anniversary

BY CECIL SMITH.

The Marshall Field & Co. Choral society, Edgar Nelson, conductor, celebrated the 35th anniversary of its founding with a miscellaneous program in Orchestra hall last night. John Charles Thomas, baritone of the Chicago Opera company, contributed groups of solo songs, and collaborated with the chorus in the Latouche-Robinson "Ballad for Americans" and in Elgar's stirring "Land of Hope and Glory."

There is a great deal of excellent vocal material in the chorus, and the ensemble is well balanced and agreeable to hear. While its singing was creditable, the chorus gave the impression of having far more potential excellence—of tone color, sonority, and facility—than has ever been demanded of it.

The choral portion of the program included short works by Verdi, Tschaikowsky, Franck, Purcell, Don Malin, and others. Purcell's choice little part song, "In these delightful pleasant groves," was, from the artistic standpoint, the high point of the evening.

Mr. Thomas evidently envisaged himself entirely as an entertainer, and gave his audience a good vaudeville show, including a hammed performance of the "Tit Willow" song from "The Mikado." He was in good voice. Carroll Hollister was his accompanist.

Speaker

Miss Betty Ewald will be one of the guest speakers at the annual spring luncheon for alumnae of Frances Shimer college, which she formerly attended. The luncheon will be held on Saturday at the Bismarck hotel.

Mrs. Raymond Otis' Troth Is Announced

BY JUDITH CASS.

Of interest in Chicago is the engagement announcement of Mrs. Frances Lindon Smith Otis of Santa Fe, N. M., to the Rev. William Dudley Foulke Hughes, rector of Grace Episcopal church at Hastings-on-the-Hudson, N. Y. Mrs. Otis is the widow of Raymond Otis, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph E. Otis of Astor street. Her parents are Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Lindon Smith of New York.

Mr. Hughes, son of the Rev. Stanley Carnaghan Hughes, rector of Trinity church, Newport, R. I., until recently was precentor of the Cathedral of St. John the Divine in New York and headmaster of the Cathedral Choir school. His first wife, formerly Margaret Jay, died in 1934. Raymond Otis died in 1938.

Miss Bonnie-Jean Clark and William Harrison Fetridge are spending every available minute these days in house hunting along the north shore, for they plan to be married on Saturday, June 7, in the Barrington home of Miss Clark's parents, the Sheldon Clarks. The ceremony will be a simple one for members of the family and close friends. Mr. Fetridge is the son of Matthew Fetridge of Evanston and the late Mrs. Fetridge.

Lecture at Hadley School to Aid Blinded Soldiers.

The Hadley School for the Blind in Winnetka will hear and meet a distinguished New Zealander on the night of April 26 when Sir Clutha Mackenzie will speak there on behalf of St. Dunstan's School for Blinded Soldiers. Sir Clutha, director of the New Zealand Institute for the Blind, is in this country on a lecture tour sponsored by the British War Relief society of which St. Dunstan's is a beneficiary. Sir Clutha was blinded in the last war. He will stay with Mrs. Thomas W. Ritchie in Winnetka while in the Chicago area.

Mrs. John A. Spoor had no better birthday present than the arrival of her son-in-law and daughter, the Thornhill Broomes, and their daughter, Caryl, who came from Pass Christian, Miss., in time for the family dinner on Tuesday evening. The sixteen candles on her birthday cake and "one to grow on" were a symbol of Mrs. Spoor's perpetually young spirit. The Broomes will be in Chicago for a week or ten days. Their other daughter, Betty, didn't make the trip north, but telephoned her "Happy birthday" to her grandmother from Mississippi, where she has been since the close of the current debut season in which she and her sister were outstanding belles.

Mr. and Mrs. Sidell-Fish Are Parents of Son.

The nursery in the Kenilworth Gardens home just purchased by Mr. and Mrs. W. Sidell-Fish will have its first occupant within a fortnight when Mrs. Sidell-Fish and her young son leave Passavant hospital. The baby, who is the first child of Mr. Sidell-Fish and the former Doris Alling Kimball, was born on Tuesday night and has been named Kimball. The T. Weller Kimballs of Kenilworth and the Fredericn Sherwoods of Port Washington, Long Island, are his grandparents.

It's a beautiful time of the year right now on the Gulf of Mexico, not too hot, but balmy and springlike and, of course, perfect for southern gardens. Pass Christian, Miss., is attracting dozens of Chicagoans who must feel that by going away now they will be certain to find spring here when they return.

State Street's Easter Fashion Parade Opens Today

State street council today opens its annual Easter fashion parade with a preview in the Palmer House. Among those displaying the newest style conceits will be Miss Jerry Barrett, left, wearing a pale mauve herringbone tweed suit and long striped cape with lapels. She has an off-the-face hat of purple baku with a black taffeta edge; Miss Donna Odell, center, in a cape jacketed beige crepe dress with brown polka dot blouse and felt off-the-face hat with scalloped brim, and, right, Miss Betty Watson wearing a gray sheer wool dress with cross bar plaid jacket, a red straw sombrero, navy gloves.

State Street Holds Easter Parade Today

The Easter parade, as produced by the State street stores, will begin today when the State Street council holds its annual Easter fashion preview at the Palmer House.

The elaborate showing will include spring apparel for men, women, and children at all price ranges from modest budget pocketbook to expensive fastidiousness. Special attention will be given to accessories, the bushels of flowers ladies will wear on their heads and the gay new shoes they will wear on their toes.

As the trend of the world, whether toward peace or war, always is reflected in feminine fashion, the spring of 1941 has brought a siege of feminized versions of officers' uniforms and hats, Elmer T. Stevens, president of the council, said.

Thus, one very ladylike pale beige wool coat to be shown has elaborate rows of chevrons fashioned by tucks on its sleeves. Altho suits often are popular for Easter, the military trend has enhanced that popularity this year, as well as the trend toward capes.

One youthful, giddy suit in the show is of Parma violet wool, the jacket fastened with jeweled buttons and a lacelike white piqué collar falling over the shoulders. With it is worn a tiny pompadour hat of lilies of the valley, crushed white gloves and patent leather pumps.

Another, of demure, quiet elegance, combines a dress of sheer navy blue wool with a brief navy Eton jacket. The full skirt is enhanced by circular bands of navy grosgrain, as is the navy straw padre hat worn with it. Doeskin gauntlets of forget-me-not blue add a touch of subtlety.

Many suits have capes. One, a brown and white polka dot blouse

Strange Judas

By Douglas Newton

[Copyright: 1941: By Wilfred Douglas Newton.]

INSTALMENT XXVIII.

FREED.

All morning went by. Don made no effort to obtain his release, he saw it was useless. He had resigned himself to defeat when he heard his name called from the door.

He couldn't believe it at first, but when it was shouted again he went forward wondering what he was about to endure—and was staggered by politeness.

He was handed along to the sergeant at the guard room with astonishing speed. It was a new sergeant, he was smiling, even apologetic. A stupid mistake had been made. It was much regretted, but in war time such things happened. If they had only known that the Herr American had connections with high authority, the matter would have been put right at once.

His passport was put into his hand, he was given a seat in a troop carrier returning to the town, as there were no taxis on the streets.

The sergeant was almost fawning, it was plain that somebody with power, some military mandarin had put fear into his disciplined heart.

Don Barron thought of Sigi—and her colonel. It seemed the only explanation, and yet a bewildering one. Also, he was not quite sure whether he liked the thought of it.

Sigi was waiting for him in the ground floor room. She had hot coffee and a light meal ready. She not only knew when he would arrive, but what condition he would be in. Certainly she had worked his release thru her colonel, and again he was not sure whether that made him grateful or hostile.

Still he had to say something about it. He muttered:

"Thank you for getting me out—it was you, I take it?"

"Yes," she said with a flat weariness, as she filled and passed him coffee. "But why—how did you get yourself into such a mess, Don?"

He stared at her. Was she bluffing? Was she already putting up a defense against her treachery? She looked white and strained. Her eyes were wide and tired and, it seemed, frightened.

"I was pulled in as a suspect," he said watching her.

She showed no surprise, no guilt. Merely said startlingly:

"But why did you go out at all?"

"I was—" He blinked at that. Hadn't Hertha told her? But maybe Hertha had shrunk from exposing her fears. He'd better take the same line until Hertha came down from her grandfather's room, where he presumed she was.

"I just wanted to nose round," he said noncommittally.

"So Hertha said," her dark eyes were studying him, trying to find out what he was withholding. And again she startled him:

"Were you suspicious of me?"

"Suspicious! Lord no. I just went out—"

"Then why did you go to 'The Snow Maiden?'"

He stiffened. Was this the moment for a showdown?

"Were you there after all?"

"We didn't stay," she said tonelessly. "They were too rude to the colonel."

"Then how do you know?"

"I rang them this morning. I thought of it when we could find no other trace of you. I knew you knew I was going there and thought you might have followed me."

"Shadowing you, eh?" he said grimly. "There might have been other motives."

"I'm trying to find that out, Don."

Her voice was almost pleading, but he wasn't to be caught. He had something he had to find out first.

"So you rang them up and they told you I had been arrested. Did they tell you why?"

"They told me a foreigner answering to your description had been arrested. They didn't know why, they thought you had offended the S.S. man on duty there."

"I suppose it surprised you?" he said sardonically.

"In one way, yes, you are usually so circumspect; but any stranger on the streets ran risks yesterday."

"Particularly strangers with chalk marks on their backs," he shot at her.

Oddly, he got no reaction. Her face did not flinch so much as look bewildered. Was she a consummate actress?

"Chalk marks. I don't quite get that, Don."

"You know what chalk marks on a man's coat stood for yesterday. You remember what Knust said about them?"

"You mean they put them on the back of suspects," she began with such calmness that she bemused him. Then suddenly she grasped it. "Don!" she gasped. "On you!"

"Easy!" he cried springing up. "Sit down—you'll fall!"

She had gone paper white and began to sway. He helped her to an armchair, and she sat there trembling, her eyes glittering with horror as she fixed them on his face. It was only after a physical effort that she managed to say: "You're sure, Don? You saw the marks themselves?"

"I saw them."

"But—but who did it?"

Was that, he wondered, a question or a challenge—her voice had a strange agony, anyhow.

"Does any poor fool so marked ever know?"

"No—I suppose not But—you may suspect."

If that were the only cleverness, he'd let her have the truth.

"I only encountered four people, all strangers, between leaving this house and reaching 'The Snow Maiden,' he told her, and described what had happened.

"It might have been that surly one," she said in a dead voice. "But he doesn't sound very likely."

"Most unlikely," he agreed harshly, and wondered what she would make of that. But she faced it squarely, altho in her lap her hands gripped convulsively.

"And what happened before you left here, Don?"

"You know most of it," he said deliberately. "After seeing you out, I returned to talk to Hertha in here until I decided to go out, too."

He was surprised at the look on her face as she lifted it to glance at him. The old brittle audacity had returned. She spoke with her mocking coldness:

"It looks as if it rests between that surly man, and me."

"And Hertha," he met her in her own tone.

"And she's—unthinkable?"

"Judge for yourself; she sent me out. She feared that danger threatened you—from Otto Schmar."

Her eyes widened and glittered as she stared. It was a long time before she could answer. Then she said quietly:

"Yes, that is Hertha . . . and you, Don, went out to try and save me. That was like you, Don."

"At Hertha's desire," he said watching her.

"That was what I—feared," she sighed. But before he could ask what she meant by that, she said quickly: "I think I heard Knust come in just before you arrived. I'll see." She rang a bell near her. "He and Anthony Twysden have been searching for you—and other things."

Knust did not come in alone. Twysden was with him, a depressed and tragic Twysden who avoided Don Barron's eyes. Knust on the other hand, greeted him with sardonic satisfaction.

"So Fraulein Sigi found you and got you free. I knew she would. Into just what sort of trap were you lured, Herr Barron?"

Sigi said quickly: "Have you any news, Knust?"

"I, not a scrap, but Herr Twysden has more than he cares for."

Twysden gulped as Sigi looked at him: "Knust was right, they have left the town. They went west."

"That is certain?"

"Reinhard would not say if he was not sure," Knust put in. "He is not that sort. She has won, that innocent girl! She has beaten us tough plotters to nothing with her wistful smile."

The two men were looking at Don Barron; Knust with a ferocious pity, Twysden covertly, Sigi, carefully, did not look at him at all. Barron felt a queasy sickness, and yet no great surprise.

"You mean," he said evenly, "Hertha?"

"Ha, he did see thru her," Knust burst out. "I knew he was no fool."

GASOLINE ALLEY—ON THE CARPET

'Nice Girl' and No Question Is Miss Durbin

"NICE GIRL?"
Produced by Universal.
Directed by William A. Seiter.
Presented at the Palace theater.

THE CAST.

Jane Dana	Deanna Durbin
Richard Calvert	Franchot Tone
Hector Titus	Walter Brennan
Don Webb	Robert Stack
Oliver Dana	Robert Benchley
Cora Foster	Helen Broderick
Nancy Dana	Ann Gillis
Sylvia Dana	Anne Gwynne

By Mae Tinée.

Good Morning!

The beauties of rectitude and the simple life pall upon the lovely Miss Durbin in this movie and she yearns with a mighty yearning for SOMETHING TO HAPPEN.

What DOES happen is Mr. Franchot Tone.

During some episodes of "Nice Girl?" you will have the illusion that you're sitting thru "Four Daughters" again. For, as in that picture, you discover a devoted widowed father [Robert Benchley] with three—not four—darling daughters who are musically inclined. . . . Instead of an aunt to mother them and manage the household, as in the case of the Lemp sisters, the Dana girls have Cora, a devoted housekeeper. But, as you'll agree, the general home background is similar.

Sylvia Dana is a budding actress who practices on family and friends, often to their discomfort. Nancy Dana is an adolescent imp. Jane Dana is just a young girl "standing with reluctant feet [don't you believe it!] where the brook and river meet," practically engaged to a nice, inarticulate young man with a mechanical bent—and bored to death with it all. NOTHING ever happens!

THEN—happens along Mr. Franchot Tone as a young professor, materializing where an old professor with whiskers had been expected, to proffer Scientist Papa Dana a flattering position. . . .

All three sisters lay lures for the amused visitor who sees right thru 'em and who, due to circumstances over which he has not the slightest control, finds himself in the embarrassing situation of entertaining Jane in his city apartment on a dark and stormy night when his family is all away. . . . Further developments are interesting and smile provoking.

This story, while rather more sophisticated than former Durbin vehicles, is quite as clean an offering as any of the former and the talented young star was most fortunate in snaring for adult support Robert Benchley, Walter Brennan, and Helen Broderick. . . . Mr. Tone's all right, too, with his pixie smile and general know-what-it's-aboutness. You will like Robert Stack as the home town lover and Ann Gillis as the imp.

Deanna handles her rôle well, sings charmingly, and looks mighty pretty for herself.

See you soon.

The Esquire — Conrad Veidt and Valerie Hobson perform brilliantly in a spirited spy drama which is both timely and entertaining. Identities remain cleverly concealed until the last minutes of a picture which is contrived for suspense and skilfully shaded with comedy. The film is called "Blackout" which indicates only the time of the action; war scenes being totally absent. It's more fun if seen from the beginning at 2:22, 4:24, 6:26, 8:28 and 10:30 And THE ESQUIRE HOUR

Fish is one of our most healthful foods. Few of us eat it as often as we should, even during Lent. There's no reason for getting tired of fish, because there are so many kinds from which to choose, and so many different methods of preparation for them. Fresh, frozen, and canned, there's almost limitless variety. Frying, baking, broiling, steaming are the basic methods of preparation. Renewed interest in a familiar fish may be obtained by a different sauce accompaniment, too.

Cucumber Sauce
[for salmon or fish loaf or any boiled fat fish]
1 cup chopped cucumber
¼ cup water
2 tablespoons butter
2 tablespoons flour
1 cup fish stock or vegetable cooking water
½ teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon grated lemon rind
2 teaspoons lemon juice
½ teaspoon grated onion
¼ teaspoon paprika

Cook the cucumber in the water until barely tender. Drain. [Liquid may be used as part of stock.] Melt butter, add flour, and blend thoroly. Add fish stock and cook, stirring constantly, until mixture thickens. Add salt, lemon rind and juice, onion, and cucumber.

Mushroom Lemon Sauce
[for broiled fish]
¼ cup butter
1 tablespoon lemon juice
Few grains cayenne pepper
¼ teaspoon salt
Tiny can sliced mushrooms
¼ cup top milk or thin cream

Melt butter over a very low heat, add lemon juice, pepper, salt, and drained mushrooms. Add milk and bring to boiling point. Serve on fish with sprinkling of paprika and a garnish of watercress.

Mustard Mayonnaise
[for baked or broiled fish]
½ cup mayonnaise
⅛ teaspoon salt
1 tablespoon prepared mustard
¼ cup milk

Combine mayonnaise, salt, and mustard in the top of a double boiler. Gradually add milk, stirring after each addition until smooth. Cook over boiling water, stirring constantly for 5 minutes, no longer. Serve at once.

Tomato Mayonnaise
[for baked or broiled fish]

Combine ½ teaspoon grated onion, 2 tablespoons catsup, ¼ teaspoon salt, and a few grains of pepper with ½ cup mayonnaise and heat over boiling water, stirring constantly while adding ¼ cup water. When hot, serve at once.

Cranberry Horseradish Sauce
[any kind of white fleshed fish]

Crush ½ can of jellied cranberry sauce with a fork, add 3 tablespoons highly seasoned French dressing and 1 teaspoon fresh horseradish.

Olive-Onion Sauce
[for white fish]
¼ cup minced onion
¼ cup minced stuffed olives
6 tablespoons olive oil
1 teaspoon dry mustard
¼ teaspoon sugar
2 tablespoons finely chopped pecans
7 tablespoons vinegar
¼ teaspoon salt
¼ cup fish stock or water

Fry onions and olives in olive oil until brown. Add remaining ingredients, heat, and pour over fish.

THRU THE LOOKING GLASS

There's a grand new preparation to help you along in your search for the luminous, soft sort of makeup that is the face-fashion success of the year. It's a base, not quite like anything we've ever used before.

It isn't a solid cream, neither is it liquid—but it's more liquid than cream, if you can follow us. You use just a tiny bit, pouring it from the bottle into the stopper, where your finger can easily get at it. Don't coat the skin with it. Instead, place a couple of small dots on cheeks, nose, and forehead and then blend it in ever so gently until the skin is lightly and thickly veiled.

The effect is surprising. The skin is softly moist, but not shiny. "Velvety" is probably the word for it. It's the best kind of a skin surface to have if you want your makeup to look dewy, but not lumpy. You can blend in rouge with less danger of harsh streaks and the skin takes powder in a subtle film that clings for hours.

It's in only three shades, ranging from a pearly rose to soft hued bronze.

Today's Features

ON W-G-N.

The Chicago Symphony orchestra, with Rose Pauly, Metropolitan opera soprano, as soloist, will be presented in a program of Strauss' compositions over W-G-N and the Mutual Broadcasting system at 9:30 p. m. Dr. Frederick Stock will conduct the orchestra, and the concert will be broadcast direct from Orchestra hall. For her solos, Miss Pauly will sing Strauss' "Monologue," Elektra's Narration from "Elektra," and Ariadne's Monologue from Strauss' "Ariadne auf Naxos."

At 9 a. m. Mary Paxton will present the Wishing Well. This popular show, heard Mondays, Wednesdays, and Fridays at 8:45 a. m., and Tuesdays and Thursdays at 9 a. m., offers style notes and recorded music of famous dance orchestras. Once each week Miss Paxton grants the wish of one of her listeners.

Ralph Ginsburgh and his concert orchestra, playing from the Empire room of the Palmer House, will be heard at 12:45 p. m.

Mrs. Raymond Otis' Troth Is Announced

ert L. Scotts are relaxing in sunshine at the Inn-by-the-Sea in Pass Christian, which is not far from New Orleans and the azalea gardens of Natchez and Mobile. Mr. and Mrs. Michael Cudahy will start for the same resort today.

The George D. Everitts, Darwin Curtis, and Darwin Jr., also are at the inn. Two Highland Park couples enjoying a holiday there are the Munroe Fearings and the Franklyn W. Chaffees. The Brownes are expected at home on Friday next week.

The Calvin D. Trowbridges just have returned from a motor trip to Pass Christian. They stopped in New Orleans on their way north.

Easter Vacationists Find Relaxation in Florida.

Four young men who are having a gay Easter holiday in Boca Grande, Fla., are Eddie Swift, Billy Mitchell, Stuart Evans, and Jimmie Douglas. The latter two are with Jimmie's parents, Mr. and Mrs. James H. Douglas Jr.

Miss Nancy Wells, who attends Wheaton college, has gone to Fort Lauderdale, Fla., to join her mother, Mrs. Ellsworth Faris, and Dr. Faris, on her spring holiday.

From Sea Island, Ga., comes word of the many Chicagoans enjoying the early spring in that delightful spot. Sand sailing has caught on like wildfire, our correspondent continues, with the preparatory and college students who are having vacations at Sea Island. Races of the little three-wheeled sailboats are held every Sunday morning on Sea Island's hard packed beach. Subdeb Barbara McClurg has joined her mother, Mrs. Freeman Hinckley, and Mr. Hinckley, and Miss Eleanor McClurg at the resort. Miss Pamela Turner of Grosse Pointe Farms, Mich., is in the same party.

According to CULBERTSON

[Copyright: 1941: By Ely Culbertson.]

"Danger" at bridge often is an optical illusion. What appears to be a dangerous plan of play may, in reality and on sheer mathematical probabilities, be far less dangerous than the plan which would be selected by most declarers. Note today's deal.

The bidding:

South	West	North	East
1 diamond	Pass	1 spade	Pass
2 no trump	Pass	3 no trump	Pass
Pass	Pass

West opened the six of hearts, East played the jack, and South properly played low. East continued with the five of hearts, and South won with the king. Declarer could count on winning two hearts, two diamonds, and two clubs in top cards. Three additional tricks were needed for the contract. At first glance diamonds seemed to offer the best chance. Under ideal conditions, the suit might bring in the three extra tricks with no assistance from any other suit, but that would require a 3-3 break in the suit, and the queen would have to be in the East hand.

That seemed a lot to hope for, so South examined the spades. Three tricks could surely be produced in that suit, simply by giving up a trick to the ace and another to the queen. Here, too, there was a difficulty. To give up the lead twice might enable the opponents to establish and run the hearts.

On considering this danger, South saw that he would have no trouble if West had started with a four card heart suit. [He could well afford to let the opponents take two spades and two hearts.] If West had started with a five card heart suit, there still was no danger unless he had both the ace and the queen of spades. [If East had to win either of the spade tricks, he would be unable to lead hearts.]

It was a simple matter to compare the two lines of play. To go after the diamonds meant that only an improbable position of the cards could bring home the contract. To go after the spades meant that only an improbable position of the cards could defeat the contract.

Dummy had too few entries to enable declarer to lead the first spade toward the king, so South simply led the king of spades from his own hand. East permitted him to win the trick, and the next spade lead was taken by West's queen. A third round of hearts cleared the suit. Declarer then led a diamond to the king and returned a spade, knocking out East's ace. It then was an easy matter to regain the lead and collect nine tricks.

Scholarship Luncheon to Be Given by YWCA

Members of the cast of "Pins and Needles" will present skits at the annual summer school scholarship luncheon of the Chicago Young Women's Christian association today at the loop center, 59 East Monroe street. Frank E. McCulloch of the James Mullenbach Industrial institute will speak on "Workers' Education." Alumnae of the workers' summer schools held annually in five sections of the country will tell their experiences at the schools. The YWCA last year provided three young women with scholarships to the schools. Mrs. Glenford Lawrence is chairman of arrangements for the luncheon.

Religion in Schools to Be Topic at Mass Meeting

A massmeeting to discuss the Chicago plan for sectarian religious instruction, under which public school credit would be given for courses taken in accredited churches, will be held at 7:30 p. m. today in Mandel hall on the University of Chicago campus. Prof. William C. Bower and Father John Ryan Gleason will talk for the plan. Opposing them will be Evelyn Millis Duvall and Rabbi Morton M. Berman. The Rev. Norris L. Tibbetts will be moderator. The meeting is sponsored by the University of Chicago and Hyde Park branches of the Civil Liberties committee.

with a beige wool skirt, has a jacket with a fitted front and cape shoulders and back, the cape lined with the polka dotes. The hat worn with it is a large off-the-face tan felt with a scalloped brim and a huge veil swathed under the chin.

Another suit, a dressmaker suit of pale mauve herringbone tweed, has a long cape, complete with lapels, the tweed of the cape being in stripes ranging from pink to deep mauve. A large hat of purple baku is worn with this.

Many of the Easter coats are beige, cut along princess lines, with rather feathery collars of lynx or wolf. Daring hats are worn with them, such as a great flat one with a brim of green and brown Caribbean print and a shallow brown straw crown, ornamented still more by clusters of orange and green grapes in front.

The show will include every trend of the season, from the Chinese silhouette to the Grecian, termed "friendly nation fashions" by Mr. Stevens. Miss Virginia Williams will direct the showing.

Purdue Dads and Mothers.

Dr. F. B. Knight, director of the division of education and applied psychology at Purdue university, will speak at 7 p. m. tomorrow in the Merchandise Mart at a dinner meeting of the Chicago Purdue Dads and Mothers' association. Mrs. F. E. Laramore of Evanston is president of the association.

Illini Band Concert.

Both symphonic and band music will be included on the Illini concert band's program this evening in the Chicago Civic Opera house.

Women Executives to Plan Aid for Career Girls

Women executives will meet today to discuss means whereby they may assist girl students to equip themselves for careers. The luncheon meeting, planned in connection with Chicago's celebration of Youth week, April 21-28, will be held at the Merchants and Manufacturers club. Mrs. Anne V. Zinser, former president of the Alliance of Business and Professional Women of Chicago, will preside.

PRO OWNERS MEET; NOTRE DAME STAR SIGNED

OPEN MASTERS' GOLF TOURNEY TODAY; 49 TO PLAY

MOON MULLINS—A SIDE LINE

HOGAN, LITTLE, NELSON, SNEAD ARE FAVORITES

Chicago Furnishes 12 of Cast.

BY CHARLES BARTLETT.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Augusta, Ga., April 2.—The eighth annual Masters' tournament, most unusual show in competitive golf, will open tomorrow afternoon over the elegantly groomed acreage of the Augusta National club. A select field of 49 players of whom 12, or practically a fourth of the entire cast, are Chicagoans, will go to work on the first of four 18 hole rounds.

This afternoon, just when all on the premises were deciding to spend the rest of their lives here, a discordant note was sounded by the tournament's nemesis, the weather man. That party let on that rain was in prospect for tomorrow. This was received philosophically by the older competitors, however, for they have been used to whacking a golf ball around the Masters' battleground in everything up to and including snow. The newcomers can't yet quite understand how rain could dampen the perfect setting of temperatures in the 80's, a 100 year old clubhouse which has been completely refurnished, and a background of magnolias, wistaria, and dogwood.

Here are Favorites.

Heading the second guessers' list on the outcome of the battle was a foursome composed of Ben Hogan of White Plains, N. Y., Sam Snead of Hot Springs, Va., Lawson Little of San Francisco, and Byron Nelson of Toledo.

The man all would like to see up there Sunday is Robert Tyre Jones Jr., inspiration of the Masters. But it is doubtful if the whilom master of them all could bring off the trick against a field as fancy as this one. His best to date was a tie for thirteenth in the 1934 première of the tournament, and a tie for 16th two years ago.

Jones joined up with Tommy Armour in a stirring match this afternoon against Gene Sarazen and Walter Hagen in an unofficial replay of their recent Bahamas battle. Bob and Tom had won that, 3 and 2, over a 36 hole route, but today was another story, for Gene and Walter, after having been three down thru the ninth, rallied to win the 10th, 12th, and 14th, and square the match.

Hagen Matches Bobby's Birdie.

It appeared the Jones team would go 1 up again at the long 15th, but Hagen holed a 10 footer to match Bobby's birdie. They finished all square. Armour had the best medal, a par 72, against 73s for Jones and Hagen and a 74 for Sarazen.

Another impromptu match today saw Lawson Little and Dick Chapman put together a best ball of 63 in the course of a 2 and 1 victory over Craig Wood and Duff McCullough. Lawson had his second straight 68, while Chapman fired a 69.

Of course, the aforementioned foursome of favorites doesn't comprise the whole ensemble, for this is too fast a league to confine the choices to a quartet.

Demaret Seeks to Repeat.

There is, for instance James Newton Demaret, who last year won the title by four shots, largest margin in the history of the event. And there are such gents as Horton Smith, only two time winner of the Masters'; and Sarazen and Ralph Guldahl, also former victors.

The Chicago delegation is the strongest from any one city in the field. It includes Smith, Guldahl, Harry Cooper of Northmoor, Arthur Doering of Medinah, George Dawson of Glen Oak, Lloyd Mangrum of Oak Park, Johnny Bulla, unattached, Armour, who hails from Medinah, Dick Metz of Oak Park, Jim Foulis of Ruth Lake, Jock Hutchinson Jr. of Rockford, and Jim Ferrier, who presently reports to his new professional post at Elmhurst.

NOTRE DAME FIVE NAMES ART POPE 1941-'42 CAPTAIN

Notre Dame, Ind., April 2 [Special]. —Arthur W. Pope of Chicago, former Morgan Park High school star, today was elected Notre Dame's basketball captain for 1941-'42, succeeding Eddie Riska, also a Chicagoan. Pope won basketball and swimming awards at Morgan Park and also captained the basketball squad. Pope has a class average of 90 in the college of commerce.

Max Lenover Wins Mile Run at Loyola Meet

Max Lenover, Loyola university's star runner, last night won the Wilson open mile, feature event of the 9th annual intramural carnival of champions in Loyola gymnasium. Lenover covered the distance in 4:27.2, four seconds off the record he established two years ago. Bill Baker finished in second place and Dan Howe was third.

In the Wake of the News

BY ARCH WARD.

AL SIMMONS says he regrets having allowed sports writers to talk him into changing his name from Aloysius Szymanski and has urged his teammate, Felix Mackiewicz, former Purdue athlete, not to submit to the proposed alteration to "Mackie." . . . Science excerpt from a Los Angeles newspaper: "Here really is news. Sol [Elmer the Great] Slagle, the rubber man, is expected here next week. Sol is a giant in stature and is a double jointed contortionist. He can withstand the holds of his opponents without pain, due to the flexibility of his muscles and supple tendons and this ability makes him one of the sensations of wrestling science in America today." . . . Ain't nature wonderful! . . . The Pirates, long reputed to hate discipline more than any other major league club, are said to be in a state of near rebellion as a result of spring training fines assessed by Manager Frank Frisch. . . . Across the door of a North Platte, Neb., clinic is the name Clarke Shaughnessy, the result of a partnership between Drs. H. L. Clarke and E. J. Shaughnessy. . . . Walter Luther, wing back of Nebraska's Rose bowl football team, is a second lieutenant with the remount service at Fort Robinson, Neb. . . . Number One, which Manager Jimmy Wilson of the Cubs has taken unto himself, has been retired since Woody English wore it as Cub captain. . . . News item: "Fifty report for spring football practice at Michigan." . . . Overemphasis, eh? . . . Tell that to Fritz Crisler. . . . Reports to the contrary notwithstanding, Frank Leahy, Notre Dame's new athletic director and football coach, will retain his connection with the sales department of the United States Rubber company. . . . The real reason for the Yankees' sale of Babe Dahlgren to the Boston Bees was fear of Commissioner Landis' ruling that waivers would have to be asked on newly purchased men. . . . The Yankee management knew it had a few players who couldn't get past that restriction. . . . Desiring to be on the safe side when the 25 player limit was reached May 15, the Yanks did a bit of unloading. . . . The Landis ruling subsequently was withdrawn. . . .

Wisconsin's boxing teams haven't been whipped in their home ring since the sport was placed on an intercollegiate basis nine years ago. . . . The Badgers were tied in 1934 by West Virginia and since that time have won 37 matches in a row in the Wisconsin fieldhouse. . . . The university's nine year record is 45 victories, 4 defeats, and 2 ties. . . . President Alva Bradley of the Indians had his lessons last summer. . . . In discussing this year's prospects he said: "I won't predict our boys will win until they are ten games in front with one to play." . . . Myron Piker, Northwestern sprinter, holds all the Wildcats' dash records from 50 to 220 yards. . . . He set six new marks in his sophomore year and has improved on them each season. . . . Any time Notre Dame needs a new track coach it shouldn't have to look far. . . . Greg Rice ought to be able to teach younger men something about running. . . . Tom O'Connell, CYO boxing director, has returned to work after spending the winter in Miami, Fla., recuperating from an operation.

Extra! Extra!

After all these years it looks as if the answer to who is Yehudi has been found. In one of the news letters received by the state editor of the Burlington, Ia., Hawkeye Gazette a report of a band concert in Denmark, Ia., included the complete program. One item read: "By the band, 'Blowing Bubbles,' U. Hoodi.'"

A Lenten Reflection.

What difference will it make to me
on the day I come to die
That Fortune never smiled on me;
that Fame passed me by?
What difference that another had far more or less than I?
It won't make any difference on the day I come to die.
But what a difference it will make
on the day I come to die,
If I have kept the faith secure; my purpose true and high.
So, as each new day breaks for me in the quiet eastern sky,
Let me live it as I shall wish I had
on the day I come to die.

Once in April.

On a soft spring eve
In time gone by
I walked by myself
As the sun left the sky.
Alone as the dusk
Of night descended,
Alone—because of
A dream that ended.

Cowslips.

O, where are the cowslips that grew by the creek
In the shade of its waters so cool?
We picked them for teacher to heap on her desk
On our way to the old country school.
I hear of the flowers that bloom in the spring,
Of bluebells and trilliums fair,
But often I wonder when blossoms return,
If the cowslips are still growing
there.

Now, Aren't You Happy.

I'd give a million dollars to be in your place, Arch. Think how happy you can make people by discarding their contributions. When a poor critter does get an item into print here's what happens to him:

First he is besieged by thousands of autograph hunters who want to know what he did to make the Wake. Then he is offered movie and radio contracts. Theater operators offer him $10,000 a week for personal appearances. He is invited to dine with kings and queens. Upon his return to this country he is paraded thru the streets of New York where millions hail him as a national hero. He is then presented to the President of the United States who decorates him with a medal of honor.

Think what misery all this is. Therefore, I have taken the liberty of sending you this contribution, knowing full well it will reach your waste basket, thus sparing me all the unhappiness mentioned above.

SOX BREAK CAMP; PLAY PIRATES IN EL CENTRO TODAY

Mud Prevents Game with Cubs in Los Angeles.

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Pasadena, Cal., April 2.—The White Sox turned their backs on their spring training camp this evening and there were few regrets. They were a bit disappointed at being denied the chance, for the second afternoon in succession, to take a whack at the Cubs as scheduled. But they were sort of glad to wave an annual farewell to the spot that in other years nursed their conditioning in pleasing fashion but this spring furnished little else than rainfall and sickness. Sixteen of the players were ill at one time or another, with influenza taking the biggest toll.

The last day here, however, wasn't a total loss despite the cancellation of the Cub combat because of mud in Los Angeles. The sun was on the job in this locale, and the Brookside training park drains rapidly so there was only one order for Manager James Dykes to issue. That order summoned his hirelings into uniform for a final drill which stretched thru two hours and undoubtedly helped, among others, the alumni members of the flu brigade.

Play Pirates in El Centro.

Before resuming contact with the Cubs, the Sox will spend two days in the company of the Pirates. The two days involve combat with Uncle Frankie Frisch's mischievous boys in El Centro, Cal., starting tomorrow. For the first of these two exhibitions, Thornton Lee and Eddie Smith, two experienced left handers, will attend to the pitching. For the second of the two games the mound job will be entrusted to Ted Lyons and Bill Dietrich.

These four had the flu in one way or another and are behind in their training, but they'll be employed frequently within the next ten days. Other members of the regular staff will be given similar attention prior to the opening of the American league season April 15.

John Rigney, No. 14 and Coach Monty Stratton, No. 15 on the camp hospital list, weren't in the party which headed eastward tonight. Rigney, victim of a throat infection which has had him in bed for seven days, was feeling pert but will remain here for five or six days before proceeding to Chicago. Stratton, who has had only a mild flu attack, was left behind as company. No. 16 on the list is Walter Navie, the kid southpaw, who this morning reported ear complications. After examination by a specialist Navie was told there was no reason why he couldn't travel.

Tucker Released on Option.

Dykes today handed out his first release and there will be more in the near future. The notice went to Thurman Tucker, one of the two rookie outfielders. He was purchased from Oklahoma City and will return there under a stipulation he can be recalled upon 24-hours' notice. Tucker's release indicates Dykes is pretty sure he is going to land a fifth outfielder thru close attention to the big league waiver lists. He still thinks he has a chance to get Benny McCoy from the Athletics and turn him into a utility outfielder, but if this doesn't materialize, there will be others on whom the Sox boss will file claims.

ILLINI WIN, 9-0, IN LOUISIANA; DRISH PITCHES

Lafayette, La., April 2 [Special].—The University of Illinois baseball team scored a 9 to 0 victory over Southwestern Louisiana institute today, battering two pitchers for 12 hits. John Drish, senior from Cicero, who has played second base for the Illini for two years, pitched the first five innings and yielded two hits.

Cubs Move Eastward Today; Open Series with Athletics

BY EDWARD BURNS.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Los Angeles, Cal., April 2.—The Cubs will be out of this blessed state of California late tonight, and with a record of having played no games for three days. Tomorrow they will meet the Philadelphia Athletics in Yuma, Ariz., and they again will engage Connie Mack's boys in Tucson Friday. Saturday they will join up with the White Sox and it will be strictly a Chicago baseball circus the remainder of the way into the home port.

The two games with the Athletics will be played somewhat to boost Manager Jim Wilson's managerial prestige in his home town of Philadelphia. The Cubs lost their first four exhibition games to the Athletics this spring, and tho the lads have done quite well in subsequent games against the White Sox and Pirates, the memory of what Sam Chapman and his Athletic teammates did to the Cubs right off remains a matter of painful memory. Wilson thinks tomorrow and Friday offer opportunities to sweeten up these memories a bit.

Expect Passeau to Pitch.

Claude Passeau, who had been scheduled to quell the Sox for a third time this afternoon before wet grounds thwarted him, probably will pitch against the A's tomorrow.

The A's were a pain in the neck in most of the Philly-Athletics city series when Claude was a member of the Phillies, but this has caused no nervousness on the part of the Mississippi ace. And then, too, Claude recalls that on last March 16, Sam Chapman busted a first inning homer off him with the bases loaded. Passeau pitched three innings that day and went away with the Cubs trailing 5 to 1 in a game that ended in an 18 to 4 Philadelphia victory. By the way, the scores of the other Mack victories were 4 to 2, 12 to 11, and 11 to 9.

Pitchers Get Workout.

Tho today's game was called off early, a bright sun encouraged the Cubs to take a full workout on the borders of the field after two days of absolute baseball idleness. The pitchers got in a lot of throwing, and all in all Manager Wilson was well pleased with the net results of his first training season in California.

Aside from a few colds there was no illness in the Cub family during the California stay, which began on Feb. 26. The Cubs were inconvenienced somewhat by cloudbursts while on Catalina Island, but encountered perfect weather from the time they arrived on the mainland March 14.

Lee to Visit Chicago

PLAQUEMINE, La., April 2 [Special]. — Bill Lee, onetime ace of the Chicago Cubs' pitching staff, who has been engaged in a heated salary wrangle with his employers for several weeks, will go to Chicago next week in a final effort to reach an agreement, he said today. Lee originally was offered $12,500, but when he refused to sign, his document was cut to $10,000. Lee, in answer to a report the Cubs planned to send him to Tulsa of the Texas league, said it was his understanding they had obtained waivers on him from the other major league clubs.

RAY BROWN WINS NATIONAL AAU BOXING CROWN

Boston, Mass., April 2 [Special].—Ray Brown, Chicago Golden Gloves runner-up, tonight won a title by stopping Tony De Gregorio of Boston in the first round of their National AAU 118 pound bout in the Boston Garden. Another Chicagoan, Harold Dade, Golden Gloves flyweight champion, was shaded by Lawrence Torpy of Philadelphia in the 112 pound final.

Brown's victory was considered an upset, his second unexpected triumph of the evening. In the semi-final he defeated Charley Riley of St. Louis, who had been named a favorite because of his aggressiveness.

PIEPUL GIVES UP COACHING POST TO JOIN DETROIT

Switch Philadelphia, Pittsburgh Clubs.

BY GEORGE STRICKLER.

Owners and coaches of the National Football league began gathering in the loop yesterday for the most important professional football meeting since that historic session in the Latrobe, Pa., YMCA in 1895, when a group of college students, home for summer vacation, met to arrange the first game for pay.

After a rules committee meeting today, the owners will go into executive session tomorrow to induct Elmer Layden, former head coach and athletic director at Notre Dame, as commissioner for professional football. With this meeting, professional football will have taken its greatest step forward.

Today's rules meeting and the opening of the three day executive session tomorrow will be presided over by Carl Storck, president of the league, who has been a member of the official family since the league's inception in the summer of 1920. After Friday's meeting, Layden, as commissioner, will take over the affairs of the league with greater power and authority than any man has ever exercised in the sport.

Piepul to Join Lions.

The first development as the owners checked in was the announcement by Graham Smith, business manager of the Detroit Lions, that Milt Piepul, Notre Dame's great full back, has resigned as head coach at De La Salle institute to sign a contract with the Lions. Piepul, regarded as the outstanding full back in Notre Dame's history and one of the finest of all time, signed as coach at De La Salle last January. School officials released him when the Lions' offer was made. Terms of the Detroit contract were not made public.

Owners Bert Bell and Art Rooney of Philadelphia, and Alexis Thompson of Pittsburgh last night agreed to trade franchises. A four-fifths vote of the league is required to transfer or change ownership of a franchise, but Bell and Thompson have been assured of a unanimous vote when the proposal is brought before the owners tomorrow or Saturday.

No Action on Coach.

Under terms of the agreement, Thompson, who bought the Pittsburgh franchise from Rooney for $180,000 last December, will move the present Steelers to Philadelphia. Rooney, who became Bell's partner in the Eagles' franchise for $80,000 at the same time, will take his club to Pittsburgh. Each owner will keep his present personnel.

Bell said no decision had been reached on a coach for the new Pittsburgh setup. Earle Neale, who resigned at Yale on March 1 to sign as coach of Thompson's first Pittsburgh eleven, will now coach Philadelphia.

The signing of Piepul and the Pittsburgh-Philadelphia deal were the first of many important developments expected to comt out of the meetings. Eight rule changes are planned by the rules committee today, and after Layden officially takes over as commissioner other changes, including a 12 game schedule, are expected.

Plan Eight Rules Changes.

Action will be taken on several resolutions framed at the annual draft meeting in Washington last December, where the owners changed the rules of the draft and moved to bar newspapermen as officials, among other things. Definite action on the resolutions had to be deferred at the Washington meeting since under the old constitution, which goes into the discard tomorrow, rule changes could be made only at the annual spring executive session.

Owners present at informal meetings in the Palmer House yesterday included George Halas of the Bears, Charles Bidwill of the Cardinals; Fred Mandel, Detroit; George Marshall, Washington; Curley Lambeau, Green Bay; Edward Bruch, Cleveland; Tim Mara, New York; Rooney, Bell, and Thompson. Dan Topping, owner of the Brooklyn Dodgers, will arrive today.

Conzelman's on Hand.

Jimmy Conzelman, coach of the Cardinals, arrived from California yesterday. The lobby sitters were waiting momentarily for the arrival of Bill Edwards, who will attempt to bridge the gap between secondary college football and the major league by taking over Detroit in the fall following a highly successful career at Western Reserve in Cleveland. Edwards has been in the southwest contacting players.

Steve Owen, coach of the New York Giants, came in looking for trades and immediately cornered Dutch Clark, Cleveland coach. Conzelman also participated in trade talk, offering Ki Aldrich, veteran Cardinal center, as bait for several half back prospects. Neale evinced an interest in Aldrich.

CHAMPION BRUINS EXPECT TO BEAT TORONTO TONIGHT

Boston, Mass., April 2 (AP).—The battling Boston Bruins, who roared back from the brink of elimination to square their Stanley cup playoff series with the Maple Leafs in Toronto, arrived back in Boston today, ranked as favorites to win tomorrow's decisive battle in the Boston garden.

Finally ablaze with the spirit which carried them to a remarkable unbeaten string during the regular season, the champions will be a tough club to beat on their home ice, especially by a Toronto team which seemed last night to have lost the sharpness of its earlier edge.

Boston Plans Careful Game.

For the Bruins now are confident they hold the physical as well as mental margin on the Maple Leafs who had the series all but won when they pulled out of Boston last Saturday after defeating the Bruins in an overtime session.

Plans for the final game are not complete, but it seems likely the Bruins will continue the bruising, close-checking, careful type of hockey which brought triumph in Toronto.

Hill Stars at Center.

Most of the Bruin rejoicing was concentrated on the complete return of little Bobby Bauer, dynamic wing, to good physical condition and the amazing performance of Mel Hill in his new rôle as center.

Bauer was the spark plug of the Bruin attack, scoring the tying goal and harrying the Leafs at every turn.

MAROON NINE TO LEAVE TODAY ON SOUTHERN TOUR

Seventeen members of the University of Chicago's baseball team will leave this morning on a three day trip to warmer regions, with the first game scheduled against Millikin university at Decatur this afternoon. Tomorrow the Maroons will take on Murry State Teachers at Murry, Ky., and Saturday's game will be against Western Kentucky State at Bowling Green.

Bronko Nagurski pinned Gorilla Grubmyer in 19:10 last night in the Marigold Gardens wrestling show. Other results:

Gorilla Macias threw Al Williams [11:05], Friedrich von Schacht threw Abe Coleman [:45], Paul Bozzell and Bill Canny drew [30:00], Tony Falletti threw Kid Chapman [17:24].

Clark, Jacobs Discuss Conn, Louis Match

Mike Jacobs, New York boxing czar, yesterday conferred with Sheldon Clark, new chairman of the Illinois boxing commission, about the possibility of promoting a heavyweight title bout between Champion Joe Louis and Billy Conn in late June. Arrangements for the match have been set by Jacobs with the exception of the site and the exact date.

Clark said he'd like to see the contest held in this city, but is cognizant of the fact Jacobs is a resident of New York and consequently gives Manhattan first choice as the probable location. However, the commissioner attempted to convince Jacobs Chicago is the logical place for the match; that this city would outdraw New York.

Clark is aware that Jacobs may seek to offer ordinary contests for Chicago presentation, but he made it plain the commission would not tolerate any attempt to make this city a dumping grounds for matches New York doesn't want. The chairman said he didn't promise Jacobs anything except he would be given a square deal. Before returning to New York last night the promoter merely said "Clark and I had an understanding on matches I will promote here in the future."

START THREE DAY SALE OF BLOODED HORSES TONIGHT

Declared to be the biggest event of its kind in Chicago's history, a public auction of 275 blooded show horses valued at $250,000 will start tonight in the International amphitheater, Halsted and 43d streets. It will continue tomorrow and Saturday, with morning, afternoon, and evening sessions.

The first 37 horses of the group will be up for the highest bidders tonight. Their consignors include Linden H. Botkin, Waterman, Ill.; L. G. Purmort, Van Wert, O.; Dr. N. A. Balding, Lincoln, Ill.; Jack McGraw, Terre Haute, Ind.; George F. Keller, La Grange, Ill.; Mrs. G. L. La Boiteaux, Perrysburg, O.; E. R. Dail, Lansing, Mich.; H. M. Carmichael, Glen Ellyn, Ill.; Ed Canfield, Milwaukee, Wis.; Murphy Stables, Burlington, Wis.; J. D. Johnson, Monticello, Mo.; Jimmy Casson, Jackson, Mich.; George Montooth, Rushville, Ill.; and J. C. Brotzman, Elgin, Ill.

BARLUND ENDS HIS TRAINING IN CONFIDENT MOOD

Meets Conn Tomorrow in Stadium Ring.

Gunnar Barlund was seated on a chair in his dressing room in Trafton's gymnasium the other day while his trainer, Al Ramos, prepared him for a workout for his 12 round bout against Billy Conn, Pittsburgh heavyweight challenger, in the Stadium tomorrow.

"How do you feel about your chances to upset Conn?" Barlund was asked.

The big Finn was unable to reply immediately because Ramos was diligently absorbed bandaging his right eye and his nose, old injuries which were aggravated in his conquest of Altus Allen last month.

Feels Sorry for Conn.

Paul Damski, manager of the 28 year old slugger, came to the rescue by saying, "He is confident. He is so confident I feel sorry for Conn. The poor boy doesn't realize what he's up against."

The manager added that he wasn't trying to change the odds [one loop betting commissioner has made Conn a 15 to 1 favorite], but Barlund is showing more determination for the impending match than he has for any encounter in the last three years.

That's taking in a lot of territory, inasmuch as Gunnar scored some of his most notable victories in that span, including a seven round technical knockout over Buddy Baer and a 10 round decision over Tony Musto. The triumph over Musto, registered in the Stadium June 8, 1939, displaced Tony as No. 10 contender in the National Boxing association ratings.

Conn Works Five Rounds.

Barlund rested yesterday. Since opening drills in the loop a week ago Gunnar has indicated the type of battle he will wage against Conn by walking into his mates and letting fly with lefts and rights to the head and body without letup. Sometimes he varied his offensive by driving a right to the heart and then lifted both hands to the face. He also used a left jab to the nose with unusual accuracy.

Conn concluded his sparring yesterday. He will return to Trafton's gymnasium this afternoon for a series of loosening up exercises, as will Barlund. Bill worked two rounds each with Settimo Terracina, light heavyweight, and Bill Petersen and one with Henry Wacker, heavyweights.

M'CLURE WINS AS TABLE TENNIS TOURNEY STARTS

Holzrichter Also Moves Up in National Meet.

New York, April 2 (AP).—Led by Lou Pagliaro of New York and Sally Green of Indianapolis, the defending champions, the 16 seeded entries in the men's and women's divisions of the national table tennis tournament won all of their matches today as the meet moved into the fourth round with an opening day program of 101 singles matches.

Pagliaro drew a first round bye and then eliminated Bob Delery of Somerville, Mass., 21-6, 21-13, 21-19, and William Ablin of Chicago, 21-19, 21-14, 21-13. Second seeded Charles Schmidt, also of New York, disposed of Waldo Fielding, Hanover, N. H., 19-21, 21-15, 23-21, 21-18, and followed with a 21-15, 21-14, 21-14 triumph over Frank Dwelly of Boston.

Bill Holzrichter Wins.

Bill Holzrichter, third seeded Chicagoan ousted Milton Isserlis of Providence, R. I., 21-8, 21-12, 21-7, and Bill Cross of Belleville, N. J., 22-20, 21-13, 21-17, while Ed Pinner of New York, No. 4, won from Thor Sanger of New York, 21-12, 21-17, 21-12, and Calvin Fuhrman of Hamilton, O., 21-17, 21-16, 22-20.

Other seeded winners were Jim McClure of Indianapolis, who dropped only one game in defeating Thomas Doherty of New York and Carl Manley of Chicago; Tibor Hazi of Hungary, who turned back Frederic Borges of Brooklyn and Bob Green of Columbus; Garrett Nash of St. Louis, who smothered Dick Morgan of Chicago after advancing by default, and Sol Schiff of New York, who conquered Lloyd Shepardson of Newton, Mass., and Max Hersch of Detroit, with the loss of only one game.

Leah Thall Advances.

Others in the fourth and quarter-final round of the women's play were Leah Thall, a straight game victor over Mildred Payne of Cranston, R. I., and Willa Gant of Chicago; Mrs. Reba Monness, who disposed of Peggy McLean of Hollis, N. Y., and Gladys May of Toledo; Mrs. Mae Clouther of Arlington, Mass., victor over Genevieve Ehlenbeck of Milwaukee, and Henrietta Wright of Philadelphia.

RED SOX AGAIN GET PITCHING; BLANK REDS, 3-0

Ryba, Dickman Turn Back Champions on 5 Hits.

Fort Benning, Ga., April 2 [Special]. —The Boston Red Sox, who didn't get much pitching to go with their hitting last year, gained further promise of more effective work on the mound this season when they shut out the champion Cincinnati Reds, 3 to 0, today. The triumph followed in the wake of their 10 to 4 victory over Cincinnati yesterday.

Old Mike Ryba, who worked the first six innings, and Emerson Dickman, limited the Reds to five hits. While this total equaled the Red Sox's five safeties, Boston reached Elmer Riddle for a run in the second when Manager Joe Cronin scored on an error and Odell Hale's single. The Red Sox got two more off Joe Beggs in the ninth when, with one out, Eddie Joost fumbled Pete Fox's grounder, Paul Campbell doubled, Tom Carey walked, and Jim Tabor doubled. Score:

Batteries—Ryba, Dickman, and Peacock; E. Riddle, Beggs, and J. Riddle.

WARNEKE GOES 9 INNINGS.

Albany, Ga., April 2 (AP).—Veteran Lon Warneke pitched the entire nine innings as the St. Louis Cardinals defeated Albany of the Georgia-Florida league today, 18 to 3.

St. Louis [N. L.]	312 234 120—18	16	3

Batteries—Warneke and Mancuso, Padgett, W. Cooper; Dixon, Pfund, Weaver, Hopp, Goonan, Kliene and Rowley, Bolton, Distasio.

PHILS BLANK SYRACUSE.

Miami Beach, Fla., April 2 (AP).—With big Frank Melton whizzing his fast ball past the Syracuse Chiefs most of the afternoon, the Phillies captured their last exhibition game of the season here today, 3 to 0. Melton, in his six innings on the mound, yielded two hits and struck out two. His successor, Roy Bruner, gave the International leaguers one hit. Score:

Syracuse	000 000 000—0	3	1
Philadelphia	000 201 00*—3	6	0

Batteries—Hinckle, Pezulio and Hartje, Bottarini; Melton, Bruner, and Warren.

BUFFALO TOPS NEWSOM, TIGERS.

Lakeland, Fla., April 2 (AP).—Buck Newsom was just another pitcher today as the Buffalo Bisons of the International league defeated the Detroit Tigers, 2 to 1. Newsom yielded both runs and all but one of the nine Bison hits in the six innings he toiled. Score:

Buffalo	001 100 000—2	9	1
Detroit	000 000 100—1	9	0

Batteries—Roscoe, Trexler and Bunoski; Newsom, Benton and Sullivan, Tebbetts.

THE GUMPS—THE OPTIMIST

Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.: Copyright, 1941, by The Chicago Tribune.

Lodigiani Got His Start in Noted District

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Pasadena, Cal., April 2.—Dario Lodigiani, the squatty, muscular Italian who learned his early baseball in the North Beach district of San Francisco that produced such as Ping Bodie, Babe Pinelli, Frankie Crosetti, Tony Lazzeri, the DiMaggios, and others, may prove a very handy fellow before the White Sox complete their share of the impending 1941 American league race.

Dario Lodigiani.

Because the Athletics optioned him out twice before handing him to James Dykes in trade for Pitcher Jack Knott, the wise guys didn't think the Sox manager, famed for his skilled swapping, had made much of a move. The final answer on that will not be available for at least a few months, but meanwhile Dykes remains satisfied that he did pretty well in the transaction, at least so far as his immediate purposes are concerned.

Got What He Wanted.

Dykes took Lodigiani because he wanted protection on the infield and he got it in more ways than one. Lodigiani can play second base. He can play third base even better, and in a pinch he can operate at short. He can even hit, at least he always has done faily well against big league pitching.

Lodigiani isn't one of those cream puff athletes satisfied to stand on his feet while hard hit grounders are slipping past. He gives everything the Die for Dear Old Rutgers try. He'll dive if there is no other way of making a connection. He doesn't depend solely on his hands to defend his position. He's in there like old man Dykes used to be in his palmy days around the bag. Dykes would use his chest, his shin bones, even his head to beat down a drive, making up for this loss of time with a powerful throwing arm.

Started as Catcher.

Lodigiani broke in with Oakland of the Coast league in 1936 and at the time was a catcher, probably explaining to a certain extent how he learned the value of getting in front of a ball and stopping it one way or another, just so it is stopped.

Lodigiani hit .280 for the Athletics in 1938, but spent part of the season at Williamsport. He was with the A's thruout '39, playing second base and batting .260. But for the 1940 season Connie Mack made his costly venture in the Benny McCoy case so there was no room at second for Lodigiani and he was shipped away to Toronto under option. Now the expensive McCoy is on the market at a reduced price, so maybe the wily Mack made a mistake in both instances.

Indians Win Again from Giants, 3 to 1

Selma, Ala., April 2 (AP).—The Cleveland Indians captured their fourth victory in five games with the New York Giants, 3 to 1, today as Al Smith and Ken Jungels collaborated in a hurling duel against Harry Gumbert.

A home run by Gee Walker gave Cleveland its first score in the second and an error by Joe Orengo helped the Tribe tally twice in the third. After that Gumbert was invulnerable. He became the first Giant hurler to go nine innings. Score;

Cleveland	012 000 000—3	7	0
New York [N. L.]	010 000 000—1	5	2

Batteries—Smith, Jungels and Hemsley; Gumbert and Hartnett.

YANKS ROUT OKLAHOMA CITY.

Oklahoma City, Okla., April 2 (AP).—The New York Yankees overpowered Rogers Hornsby's Oklahoma City Indians today, 10 to 4, with a barrage of five home runs and five doubles. Joe DiMaggio hit two of the circuit drives and George Selkirk, Joe Gordon, and Tom Henrich each hit one. Score:

New York [A. L.]	213 100 300—10	18	2
Oklahoma City	102 010 000— 4	13	1

Batteries—Borowy, Murphy and Dickey, Rosar; Mallory, Touchstone, Lade and Hegan.

BEES, 12; BROWNS, 5.

Houston, Tex., April 2 (AP).—The Boston Bees walloped the St. Louis Browns, 12 to 5, today, evening the 12 game series at six all. Score:

PIRATES WHIP A'S.

Hollywood, Cal., April 2 (AP).—Bob Johnson's ninth inning home run with a mate on base saved the Philadelphia Athletics from a shutout today as they lost to Pittsburgh, 8 to 2.

Philadelphia	000 000 002—2	5	1
Pittsburgh	400 031 00*—8	9	1

Batteries—Ross, Vaughan and Wagner; Sewell, Butcher and Lopez.

DODGERS, 6; FORT WORTH, 4.

Fort Worth, Tex., April 2 (AP).—Joe Medwick and Curt Davis sparked the Brooklyn Dodgers to a 6 to 4 triumph today over Fort Worth. Medwick hit successive home runs over the 20 foot wall in left field, 400 feet from the plate, and added a single for good measure. Davis in seven innings kept seven hits scattered and drove in two runs with a single and a double. Score:

Batteries—Davis, Sherer and Owen; Donelly, Mehrens, Bauer and Linton, Easterwood.

WYATT PITCHES SHUTOUT.

Valdosta, Ga., April 2 (AP).—Whitlow Wyatt, counted upon as one of the mainstays of Brooklyn's pitching staff this year and the first hurler to go the route in spring training, shut out Valdosta of the Georgia-Florida league, 3 to 0, on three hits today for the Dodgers' second stringers. Brooklyn made 13 hits, among them home runs by Alex Kampouris and Jim Wasdell. Score:

Brooklyn	230 012 000—8	13	3

Batteries—Wyatt and Franks, Gillespie; Jones, Persoskie, Behrman and Zimmerman, Johnson.

WASHINGTON, 3; KANSAS CITY, 2.

Orlando, Fla., April 2 (AP).—Catcher Rick Ferrell's single with the bases loaded gave Washington a 3 to 2 ninth inning victory over Kansas City today. Al Gearhouser, rookie Kansas City southpaw, yielded three walks and two singles in the ninth. Sid Hudson of Washington hurled one hit ball for six innings until he turned over the mound to Alex Carrasquel. Score:

Kansas City	00 000 011—2	3	2
Washington	000 000 201—3	5	2

Batteries — Candini, Gumpert, Gill and Kearse, Geerhauser; Hudson, Carrasquel and Ferrell.

RIGGS, M'NEILL RESUME TENNIS FEUD TONIGHT

Don McNeill and Bobby Riggs will resume their tennis feud tonight in the University of Chicago fieldhouse, University avenue at 56th street.

Seymour Greenberg, Big Ten champion, will play James Evert, national junior indoor champion, in the opening match at 8 o'clock. Following their singles encounter, Riggs and McNeill will team in doubles against Evert and Bob Smidl, Chicago's No. 1 junior team undefeated in winter competition.

All matches will be best of three sets. The entire receipts will benefit the junior development committee to finance the training of promising young Chicago players.

SWIFT & CO. PUTS 25 MILLION ISSUE ON MARKET TODAY

Debentures End Mortgage Liens on Properties.

Salomon Brothers & Hutzler, exclusive selling agent, today will offer $25,000,000 of debentures of Swift & Co. Of the offering on behalf of the big Chicago packing company, $12,500,000 of 20 year 2¾ per cent debentures will be priced at 99½ and accrued interest, and $12,500,000 of serial debentures will be offered at 100 and accrued interest.

The serials will mature $1,250,000 each May 1, 1942 thru 1951, and will bear interest ranging from 0.35 to 2.05 per cent, according to maturity.

Proceeds will be applied to the redemption on May 15 of $25,000,000 of outstanding 3¾ per cent first mortgage sinking fund bonds, due May 15, 1950, at 102 and accrued interest.

Eliminates Mortgage Liens.

The refunding program, together with the redemption of $1,000,000 of first mortgage bonds held in the company's treasury, will eliminate mortgage liens on Swift properties for the first time in the company's history.

The refunding operation will make possible the elimination of the company's entire funded debt during the next 20 years.

Swift's capitalization, after giving effect to this financing and redemption of the treasury bonds, will consist of the $25,000,000 of debentures, representing 14.28 per cent of the capitalization, and 6,000,000 shares of $25 par value stock, representing 85.72 per cent.

Offer Los Angeles Bonds.

A banking syndicate headed by Lehman Brothers yesterday offered on a "when, as and if issued" basis $3,108,000 of City of Los Angeles electric plant refunding revenue bonds dated May 1. The bonds were priced to yield 0.30 to 2.20 per cent for maturities ranging from 1942 to 1958.

The American Brake Shoe and Foundry company, New York, filed with the Securities and Exchange commission a registration statement covering 43,706 shares of 5¼ per cent preferred stock and 87,412 shares of common stock, to be held for conversion of the preferred.

The preferred is to be offered to present holders of common stock on a basis of four-fifths of one share for each share held. Shares not thus subscribed will be offered to the public thru a group of underwriters headed by Morgan Stanley & Co., and Mellon Securities corporation.

The company said the proceeds would be added to general funds for possible use in connection with the company's participation in the armament program.

WHEAT FUTURES CLIMB NEARLY 3 CENTS A BUSHEL

Rally Leaves Grain Men Searching for Cause.

Wheat prices soared in the last half hour of trading on the Chicago Board of Trade yesterday to new seasonal high levels, advancing over 3 cents from the early low and closed slightly under the top with gains of 2½ to 2¾ cents a bushel. May sold at 92½ cents at one time, the best price on any delivery since last July.

Brokers said there was nothing in the news to account for the upturn. They said short covering and commission house buying of wheat futures started after the lard market had turned upward.

Other Grains Follow Rise.

Strength in wheat started short covering in corn and other grains. Corn advanced 1½ cents from the early low and finished ⅞ to 1 cent higher. Oats gained ¾ to 1 cent and rye was ⅞ to 1¼ cents higher on the active deliveries. Soy beans had a range of over 3 cents and closed 2½ to 2¾ cents higher. Lard, after dipping early on selling induced by an increase of about 5,000,000 pounds in stocks in cold storage at western packing centers in March, advanced rapidly later on buying by cash interests and speculators and closed 20 to 22½ cents per 100 pounds higher.

Forecasts Have No Effect.

Estimates on the winter wheat crop issued by Chicago statisticians forecasting a yield of 616,000,000 bushels against 589,000,000 bushels harvested last year had no effect on the market.

Indicated yield of winter wheat, with the condition and the acreage remaining for harvest as given by statisticians, follows:

BONDS REMAIN UNDER CLOUD OF PROFIT SELLING

New York, April 2 (AP).—The bond market remained under the cloud of profit selling in the rails today and, while there were numerous firm spots, the majority of active issues tapered off for losses of fractions to a point or so.

Brokers said the ability of some issues to turn around in the afternoon, when there was a flurry of buying in stocks, indicated offerings came principally from "quick turn" traders who had accumulated profits in the last few sessions.

Bearing out this theory was the action of some of the leaders on the recent rise, including Missouri-Kansas-Texas 5s, Baltimore & Ohio convertibles of '60, Seaboard Air Line stamped 4s, and Milwaukee railroad 5s, all of which sold off fractions to more than a point but mostly ended up from the day's lows.

United States governments were quiet both in the stock exchange and over the counter. Prices were generally a shade improved.

COTTON

Cotton was easy in early trading yesterday, but soared as much as .30 cent a pound from the low, putting prices into new 1941 highs. Mills were active buyers and found offerings small until late trading, when hedging pressure and profit taking caused a decline from the top. Closing trades were .06 to .22 cent a pound higher.

Cash cotton closed .05 to .06 cent higher, with New York, 11.54 cents; Houston, 10.95 cents, and Galveston at 10.89 cents a pound. Futures prices follow:

CHICAGO LIVE STOCK

Hogs met broad demand yesterday at higher prices as supplies fell abruptly at all packing centers in the country. Only 13,500 hogs arrived at the Chicago yards.

The majority of offerings advanced fully 10 to 15 cents, with some sales 20 and 25 cents above Tuesday's low point. Prices averaged 15 cents higher, at $7.75. Best loads reached $8.15.

Further gains of 10 to 15 cents were registered in steers and yearlings. Heifers held steady. Beef cows were firm.

Lambs sold steady.

DAY by DAY on the FARM by GAIL COMPTON

Greenhouse Is Busy

April 2, 1941.

THE greenhouse is one of the busiest spots on the farm these days. The long aisles are packed with soil flats filled with sprouts, the shelves are laden with flowers and pots of plants being made ready for the gardens, and the cold frame outdoors is being filled with plants for the hardening off process that will make them hardy and ready for planting.

Among the flowers that have been started are delphiniums, flowering peas, snapdragons, shasta daisies, and petunias. The Japanese double flowering petunias were started in soil flats in January and are about ready to blossom. The practice of starting these plants early has given excellent results. A certain amount of the seed is apt to give undesirable plants. Thus the early start allows the gardener to eliminate the plants of poor quality before he sets them outdoors. A uniform selection for border use is thus available.

Peas Placed Outdoors.

The flowering peas are in the outside cold frame going thru the hardening off process. They were started as seeds in February. The flowers get a good growth in the warmth and shelter of the greenhouse, and when they are large and hardy enough, they move out to the frame for a taste of colder weather.

Begonias fill several of the soil flats, showing a nice growth. The plants are of the fibrous rooted type and were started around Christmas. Because they are extremely slow in growing the first inch they were given an early start. After the first inch is past, the plants grow rapidly, and their long blooming qualities make them excellent for shady borders.

Another favorite border annual that is getting careful attention is the nirenbergia hippomanica. Dahlia tubers were started in sand flats to avoid root rot, and cuttings were taken from the resulting plants and placed in soil. The gardener gets the best blossoming qualities from them thru this process, as the old tubers are done away with and a start is made with fresh stock. The late flowering shrub, philadelphus virginalis, will be used this summer, and a few cuttings now stand in two inch pots.

Outdoor Frame Valuable.

The outdoor frame is proving its value, as it has done year after year. Pots and flats of plants placed in the frame gradually are oriented to more natural weather. The frame is filled with about two feet of manure. On top of this sand is placed to separate the manure from the plants. The manure serves as a heating unit and prevents the temperature inside the frame from falling to killing levels. At night, however, the temperature will range downward to 50 degrees.

Vegetables for the summer garden have been started indoors, and the tomatoes are 10 inches high and showing excellent growth.

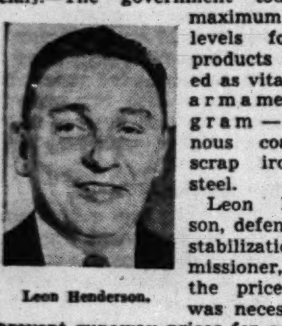
U. S. FIXES TOP PRICES ON COAL AND SCRAP IRON

Acts to Prevent Rise During Strike.

Washington, D. C., April 2 [Special].—The government today set maximum price levels for two products regarded as vital to the armament program — bituminous coal and scrap iron and steel.



Leon Henderson.

Leon Henderson, defense price stabilization commissioner, said the price fixing was necessary to prevent runaway prices for coal, due to strikes in the producing fields, and for scrap steel, attributable to "speculative activity."

The ceiling set for coal sales was the price which sellers received on March 28, and applies to all producers, wholesalers, and retailers. If no similar sales were made by the company or individual on that date the seller is limited to the price he received on the latest sales day before the 28th.

Make Three Scrap Classifications.

Iron and steel scrap was classified in the order on three bases. The maximum for scrap other than that of railroad origin was fixed at $20 a ton at Pittsburgh and $18.75 in Chicago, with differentials for each point of major consumption. The railroad scrap price [No. 1 heavy melting] was fixed at $21 a ton for Pittsburgh and $19.75 for Chicago.

[Federal price pegging planned to increase meat and poultry production also was disclosed yesterday. Details on page 33.]

Export prices from Atlantic ports were set at the maximum for domestic consumers at the nearest consuming point, less freight to the export city and plus $1 a ton to cover exporting expenses.

Unprepared yard scrap quotations are to be $2.50 a ton less than the price on each grade of prepared scrap, and brokerage commissions were fixed at 3 per cent of the maximum prices.

Admit Lack of Authority.

Henderson's coal order, issued after consultation with the interior department's bituminous coal division, gave no authority for the edict, and government officials said there was no specific power to back it up.

The commissioner said that persons who refused to coöperate would face publicity. The defense commission, he said, would use every effort to see that "congress, the various federal, state and local agencies, and the public are fully informed of the instances of such profiteering and noncoöperation, and that the powers of the government are fully exerted to protect the public interest in the maintenance of fair prices."

He added that the defense commission was keeping an alert watch on other fuel prices and would take appropriate action to prevent excessive price raises in those.

Asks for Local Reports.

All state and local defense commissions were asked to report violations of the soft coal order and to inform coal dealers of its provisions.

Senator Homer T. Bone [D., Wash.], chairman of a subcommittee considering a two year extension of the bituminous coal act, said that if the order was disregarded and prices climbed congress would undoubtedly be asked for drastic controls.

Explaining the scrap price fixing, Henderson said that the industry had in general observed a request for reasonable prices, issued in January, but that a few speculators had put on inflationary pressure at the expense of the coöperators. He promised that the price schedule would be rigorously enforced.

The steel and iron scrap schedule was the fifth issued by defense officials. Coal was the fourth. The other price freezings were in second hand machine tools, aluminum scrap and secondary aluminum ingots, and zinc scrap and secondary zinc scrap.

Employers' Group to Hear Mertz on Training Plans

The national coöperative program of government and business to train 4 million additional skilled workers for armament production will be discussed at a luncheon meeting of the Employers' association today by Paul A. Mertz, district representative of the Office of Production Management. The meeting will be held in the Chicago Norske club, 2346 North Kedzie avenue. C. R. Dooley, national training director, and Michael Kane, director of training techniques, will also speak.

Buying Wave Sends Eggs to Higher Peaks

While representatives of the dried and frozen egg trade met department of agriculture officials in Washington yesterday to discuss exports to Britain, egg future prices shot ahead more than 1½ cents a dozen in the most active April trade in the 21 year history of the Chicago Mercantile exchange. Prices established new three and four year peaks.

Among the most active buyers and perhaps the most aggressive of all buyers at country points this spring were the egg breakers, seeking supplies for processing. A buying wave at the opening of the Chicago market swept prices up 1.65 cents a dozen, the October delivery reaching 24.95 cents.

New offerings poured into the market thruout the session, but buying was unabated, final gains being 1.25 to 1.35 cents. Sales of the October contracts involved 543 carloads and of April contracts, four cars, or approximately 6,500,000 dozens for the day.

Wholesale Prices Advanced.

As predicted Tuesday by traders after they learned of Federal Surplus Commodities corporation purchases of eggs at country points at prices higher than the Chicago wholesale market, wholesale prices were lifted ½ cent a dozen despite heavier receipts than a year ago.

Butter futures closed more than ⅛ cent higher, with the November contract at 34.50 cents a pound. The cash market advanced ¼ cent on less than carlot quantities of 90-score or better.

With the army and navy buying increasing amounts of powdered eggs daily, and Britain's normal supplies of dried eggs from China shut off by the war, rumors have persisted recently that the government may take over the entire production of the egg dryers.

The United States and Britain want the dried eggs because little or no refrigeration is required to keep them in condition.

Army Uses Powdered Eggs.

The army, according to trade sources, has found dried powdered eggs satisfactory at new training camps where refrigeration has not yet been provided.

While refrigeration is necessary for keeping frozen eggs, they too have come in for increased demand from the armed forces and from Britain because they are a concentrated product. Trade reports are that the government may operate its own drying plants, but market experts claim this seems unlikely for most egg breaking plants producing frozen eggs can be turned into drying plants without difficulty.

The dried and frozen eggs are used extensively by bakers, confectioners and ice cream manufacturers. In England, dried eggs are used for general food purposes. They have been mentioned as one of the foods that Britain will need first.

Trading in egg futures on the Chicago exchange during March was the largest for the month in 12 years, Lloyd B. Tenny, business manager, announced. Sales involved 34,212,000 dozens. Butter futures sales reached a four year peak at 28,435,200 pounds.

MILITARY WORK CUTS NUMBER OF IDLE IN FEBRUARY

New York, April 2 (AP).—The National Industrial Conference board today reported that the number of unemployed workers in February dropped 317,000 to a total of 7,039,000. Compared with a year ago, said the board, a private research organization, the total was 2,318,000 smaller.

The board forecast even larger decreases than in February as spring and summer activity in farming and construction combine with the armament program in employing additional workers.

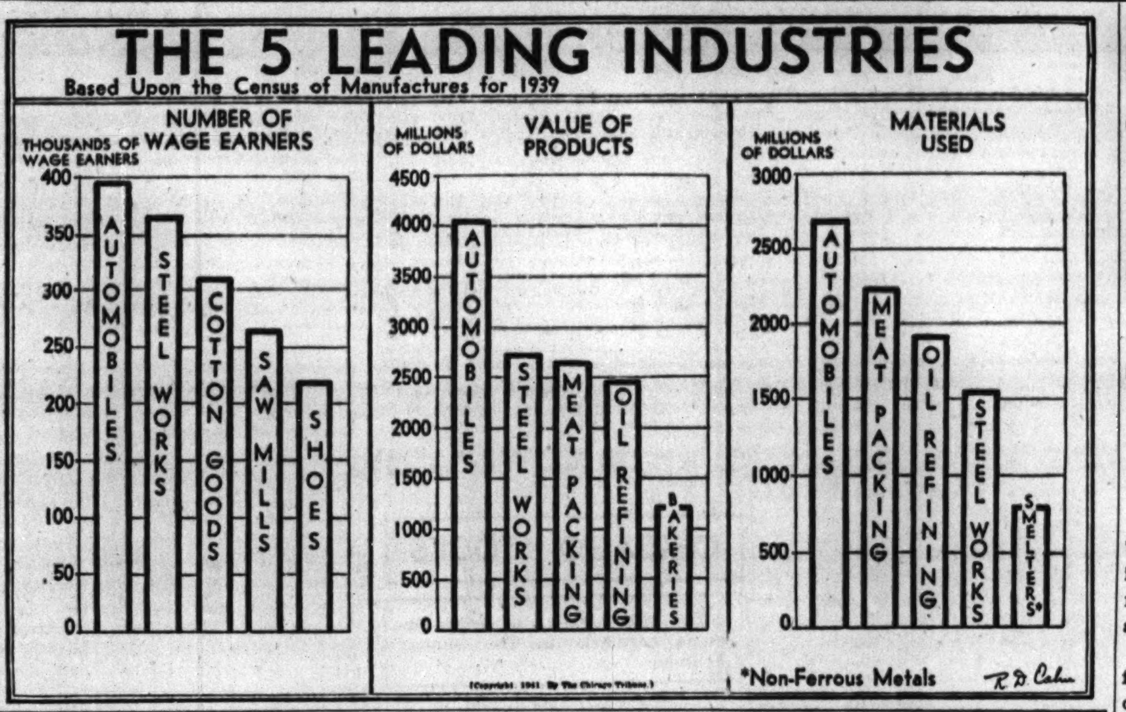
"Expansion in the armament industries and in the armed forces," the board said, "accounted in large part for the increase in the number of persons employed in February. Manufacturing added 198,000 workers to its pay rolls and the service industries 227,000, of which 187,000 represented additions to the armed forces."

STOCK AND BOND DEALERS ASKED TO VOTE ON CODE

New York, April 2 (AP).—The National Association of Securities Dealers, Inc., announced today a uniform practice code designed to facilitate over the counter trading in all parts of the country was being submitted to its membership.

The code covers such matters as trade terms, deliveries, payments, dividends, rights, interest, reclamations, exchange of confirmations, stamp taxes and claims.

If approved by the membership and by the Securities & Exchange commission, the code would be put into effect by the association's board of governors.



E. A. TRACEY NAMED AS CHAIRMAN OF NEW MAJESTIC RADIO CORP.

E. A. Tracey has been appointed chairman of the board and general manager of the Majestic Radio and Television corporation, company officials announced yesterday. He had been a vice president of the Zenith Radio corporation since 1933.

E. A. Tracey.

The appointment of Tracey, company officials said, completes the executive staff of the company which last August emerged from reorganization proceedings. Besides his regular duties he will direct sales and distribution of the company's products.

It was announced that in May the company will introduce a new line of radio sets and launch a sales and merchandising drive.

ELECT TWO NEW DIRECTORS TO MANDEL BOARD

Stockholders of Mandel Brothers, Inc., yesterday elected two new directors. Sidney J. Natkin replaces John L. Coyne, who is retiring, and John F. Groff replaces Henry N. Wyzanski, who resigned during the year. Both Natkin and Groff hold executive positions and have been with the company for many years. All other directors were reëlected.

Leon Mandel, vice president and general manager, said that the directors after the stockholders' meeting reëlected the officers of the company. The directors also declared a dividend of 25 cents a share, payable April 18 to stockholders of record April 12. The dividend, together with 50 cents a share paid in December, brings to a total of 75 cents the amount paid out of earnings in the fiscal year ended Jan. 31, 1941. A like amount was paid out of earnings in the fiscal year ended Jan. 31, 1940.

LONG DISTANCE TELEPHONE RATE INQUIRY ORDERED

Washington, D. C., April 2 (AP).—The Federal Communications commission ordered today an investigation of long distance telephone rates of the vast Bell system.

The commission directed the American Telephone and Telegraph company and 21 associated companies to show why long distance rates should not be reduced.

The order also will be served on each state governor and all state public utility commissions. A hearing will be held June 9.

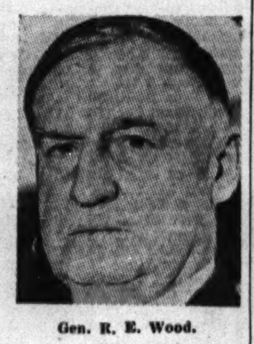
The commission called attention in a statement on today's action to the fact that A. T. & T. had increased its net income from $20,160,763 in 1938 to $27,217,438 for the 12 months ended last Jan. 31.

Donnelly Heads Midwest Idle Insurance Group

James L. Donnelly, executive vice president of the Illinois Manufacturers' association, has been appointed chairman of a special committee of the Midwest Manufacturers' Associations, Inc., it was announced yesterday. The committee will oppose further centralization of control over unemployment compensation machinery.

Wood Renews No. Amer. Car Proxy Appeal

Gen. Robert E. Wood, chairman of the board of Sears, Roebuck & Co., yesterday renewed his effort to replace two directors of the North American Car corporation with men of his own choice. In a second letter addressed to stockholders of the company, he asked proxies for the election of William M. Spencer of Chicago and Ernest L. Nye of New York. He urges that Spencer be elected chairman of the board.



Gen. R. E. Wood.

Wood last week had sent stockholders a similar request. He is seeking to oust as directors L. H. S. Roblee, president of the company, and R. M. Jenkins of Orleans, Ind.

North American Car is a 14 million dollar company with headquarters in Chicago. It owns and leases more than 8,000 tank, refrigerator and poultry cars.

Calls Record Unsatisfactory.

In yesterday's letter Wood said that in his opinion the company's record of the last few years has not been satisfactory and his interest in the matter is that "of securing the election of a board of directors which, in my opinion, will best serve the interests of the company and all of its stockholders."

"Under more capable and aggressive managerial direction," the letter continued, "the operating performance of the company should be improved, and the way paved for the elimination of preferred dividend arrearages and the resumption of common stock dividends."

Commenting on his two candidates, Wood said they will bring to the company "thoro knowledge of and experience in the type of business" it conducts. He said that Spencer has had years of experience in the owning and leasing of tank cars and that on March 25 he owned more common stock of record than any other single stockholder. He said that Nye formerly served on the board of directors and is "recognized as an authority on matters relating to the business of the company."

Deny Plan to Sell Company.

A news release covering the Wood letter stated:

"Flat denial that Gen. Wood's proposed realignment of the board contemplated either the sale of the company or its liquidation, as has been charged, was made by associates of Gen. Wood in connection with the mailing of the second letter to the stockholders. The sole purpose of the proposed change, they stated, is to make the company a stronger independent factor in the business."

Gen. Wood has been a director of the company since 1930. Together with members of his family, he owns or has a beneficial interest in 15,730 shares of common stock.

Opponents Ask Proxies.

Late last week four directors of the company solicitated proxies favoring the reëlection of Roblee and Jenkins. Signers included Charles G. Frank, Chicago; R. C. Jenkins, also of Orlean, Ind.; R. M. Jenkins, and Charles S. Davis, Chicago, president of the Borg-Warner corporation.

The directors' letter said they were "entirely satisfied with the existing operating management of the corporation which has succeeded in increasing its earnings so that the earnings for the year 1940 are more than double the earnings of the year 1938."

The annual meeting will be held at the company's headquarters at 327 South La Salle street next Tuesday afternoon.

18 LOCKHEED BOMBERS FLYING EASTWARD FOR DELIVERY TO BRITISH

Burbank, Cal., April 2 (AP).—Eighteen Lockheed Hudson bombers departed today for the east coast, bound for service with the coastal command of the British Royal Air Force.

Lockheed officials said it was the largest mass delivery flight of bombing planes yet made. Total value was placed at almost $2,000,000.

R. A. von Hake, company vice president, said Lockheed manufactured 143 airplanes and airframes and sold and delivered $9,000,000 worth of aircraft during March, the first time its monthly plane production had exceeded 100.

"Our record figures for March," he said, "brings the total for the first quarter of 1941 to $20,848,000 as compared to $44,000,000 for the entire year of 1940."

Lockheed has 20,000 employés.

President Asks 38 Million California Project Fund

Washington, D. C., April 2 (AP).—Appropriation of $38,750,000 to speed work on the California central valley project during the fiscal year starting July 1 has been recommended to congress by President Roosevelt.

MARCH INCOME TAX COLLECTION SETS A RECORD

Total About Double That of Year Ago.

Washington, D. C., April 2 (AP).—The treasury announced today that income tax collections during March reached the record-breaking total of about $1,100,000,000.

Closing its books for the month it found that combined income and excess profits tax collections were $1,207,512,891. Reports were not available on exactly how much of this represented excess profits taxes, but because most corporations were permitted to postpone payment of this levy, at least $1,100,000,000 of the total was believed to be income taxes.

Nearly Double Year Ago.

The month's total was nearly double the income tax collections of March last year. It was learned the collections exceeded budget estimates by about $300,000,000.

The rise in collections was due both to better business and sharply increased rates. As business improved under the stimulus of the armament program many persons and corporations made more money and had to pay higher taxes. At the same time congress reduced personal exemptions, increased many surtax rates, boosted the corporation rates, and imposed an overall 10 per cent supertax.

Deficit Is Still Growing.

In spite of the unprecedented collections the $5,372,101,790 revenues during the first nine months of the fiscal year, which began last July 1, lagged $3,398,527,162 behind the expenditure total of $8,770,628,952.

This deficit was about $500,000,000 more than in the corresponding period of the preceding fiscal year.

The main reason for the larger deficit was that while revenues doubled, military expenditures trebled. In the first nine months of the year these costs totaled $3,641,638,923, compared with $1,092,000,000 in the similar period of the preceding year.

DOUBLE STOCK TAX IS ENDED BY N. Y. LEGISLATURE

Albany, N. Y., April 2 [Special].—The state legislature today completed passage of a measure to eliminate double taxation of odd lot sales on the New York Stock exchange. A saving of more than $1,000,000 yearly in taxes on odd lot sales has been forecast by backers of the measure, long advocated by stock exchange spokesmen on the ground that business was being driven to other states.

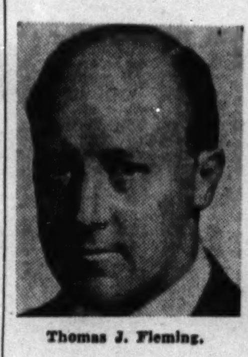
The measure now goes to Gov. Herbert H. Lehman. His attitude toward the proposal has not been disclosed, but advocates of the bill think it has at least an even chance of winning executive approval. Both houses voted to end the double taxation in 1938 and 1940, but the governor vetoed the bill both times.

Under the present system, a transaction involving less than a full lot of 100 shares is taxed twice. The full lot seller pays a tax on the sale to the odd lot dealer, and the latter in turn pays a tax on the sale to the customer.

Elect Fleming President of Realty Board

BY AL CHASE.

Thomas J. Fleming of Ross, Browne and Fleming, last night was elected president of the Chicago Real Estate board, succeeding Morgan L. Fitch. Fleming was vice president during the Fitch administration, has been active in board affairs for several years, and has been identified with the development of the near north side. Frank C. Wells, former secretary, was elected vice president. Irving T. Gillick is the board's new secretary, and Hugh C. Michels is treasurer.



Thomas J. Fleming.

The following were elected directors: Roy E. Knauer, Samuel R. Rappold, James J. Curtis, Donald F. Moore, Albin R. Hult, and Ronald J. Chinnock.

Name Group Chairmen.

Elected chairmen of the various divisions of the board of governors were: Frank Stanley, Torrens division; Harry Salk, mortgage and finance; H. O. Walther, savings and loan; Stanley Roe, appraisers; Rudolph W. Bramberg, home builders and land developers; Roger Minwegen, brokers; Lester W. Porter, industrial, and Tighe Woods, renting and management.

After the election Charles T. Stewart, administrative secretary of the Urban Land institute, a subsidiary of the National Association of Real Estate Boards, told the realtors that blighted areas surrounding the central business districts of large cities should be developed for residential purposes by private enterprise. They are not needed for commercial or industrial uses, he said.

Fail to Control Growth.

"During the period of greatest expansion American cities failed to control their development," Stewart said. "The period was marked by overcrowding of population, by industrial dislocation, by uncontroled and indiscriminate uses of land. Cities became dingy, noisy, smoky, crowded, and unpleasant.

"These are the things from which the residents of the older parts of the city sought escape, and these are the things which remain to make the central areas disagreeable and unlivable places."

Stewart said that studies of Boston, Cincinnati, and New York have been made by the institute. When the entire program of city surveys has been completed suggestions for solving the problem of blighted areas will be made, he said.

Inland Steel Reports Its March Output Set Record

The Inland Steel company, one of the largest steel producers in the Chicago district, yesterday reported that it established a new record in ingot production in March with a total of 301,386 tons. Operations for the month were at 107.5 per cent of the rated capacity of 3,300,000 tons a year. The rated capacity is arrived at after making allowance of approximately 10 per cent for periodic closing down of mills and machinery for repairs and improvements. Shipments during the month also reached a new peak.

GASOLINE PRICE BOOST ORDERED FOR TEN STATES

Standard of Indiana Announces Rise.

Automobile drivers thruout the middle west face a general increase in gasoline prices, it was indicated yesterday when the Standard Oil Company of Indiana announced a blanket advance of one-half cent a gallon for ten states.

As the aftermath of boosts in crude oil prices for fields in a number of states, Standard Oil of Indiana will apply the increase on all normal and special tank wagon prices to consumers and dealers on the three grades of motor gasoline in Illinois, Indiana, Michigan, Wisconsin, Minnesota, North Dakota, South Dakota, Iowa, Missouri, and Kansas. The new prices will become effective Saturday.

In the Chicago area, it was reported that the new average retail prices on Standard gasoline will be 13 cents a gallon on the third grade, 17 cents for the regular and 19 cents for the premium or top grade. With the price rise, prices [including tax] to Chicago area dealers will be 11.4 cents for third grade, 13.1 cents for regular, and 14.6 cents for premium.

Expect Others to Follow.

In accordance with the usual procedure followed when one major producer effects a price change, other gasoline producers are expected to boost their prices in regions affected by Standard's increase.

Meanwhile, the Pure Oil company yesterday raised its gasoline prices ½ cent a gallon in Cincinnati and other parts of Ohio where the Sohio corporation, subsidiary of the Standard Oil Company of Ohio, had effected the same increase.

The price rise by Standard was termed one of the most "unusual" changes in gasoline prices in the last two years, inasmuch as the change affected such a large territory. It was said that price changes are often frequent for small localities where local competition plays an important part in the changes. The last general change occurred Oct. 17, 1938, when prices were reduced ½ cent a gallon.

Crude Oil Up 5 Cents.

Standard's action followed price increases of 5 cents a barrel or more for crude oil in a move which it has been estimated will touch two-thirds of the national crude oil output and add possibly $150,000 a day to the income of producers in seven states.

The price increase for crude oil, it was said, came as a result of a growing demand for petroleum products because of the armament program, greater use of automobiles and trucks and the general pickup in business. Last year the domestic demand for all petroleum products showed a gain of 7.5 per cent over 1939, while it was estimated that the upturn in demand thus far this year has been 10 per cent.

STOCKS FOLLOW RISE IN STAPLES WITH LATE RALLY

Most of Early Setbacks Are Wiped Out.

New York, April 2 (AP).—The stock market swung into step with a late rally in grains and cotton today after a minor setback in the forenoon. Mail order, rubber, oil, motor, and miscellaneous shares showed a touch of the "inflationary" spirit exhibited in commodity markets.

Many stocks recovered all or most of the earlier declines and small gains outnumbered losses at the finish. The Associated Press composite price of 60 stocks was up .1 of a point at 41.7, the third consecutive advance of that size.

Steels Dip, Then Rise.

Steels and motors, shadowed by strike troubles and threats of more wage disputes, led the way down in the forenoon selling but recovered with other groups in the final hour. United States Steel closed ⅝ higher.

Rails likewise mostly made up earlier losses to show fractional increases at the last. These included Santa Fe, New York Central, Southern railway, and Great Northern preferred.

Prolongation of the Allis Chalmers' dispute dropped that company's stock to a 1941 low, around 28, off 1⅛.

Among senior shares, top 1941 prices were recorded in Continental Baking A, American Car and Foundry preferred, and Chicago Great Western preferred.

Dealings increased on the rally, making the day's turnover 445,510 shares against 433,730 yesterday. Two memberships were transferred at $22,000 each, equaling yesterday's lowest price since 1898.

CHICAGO PRICES AHEAD.

Stocks on the Chicago exchange ended on a slightly higher plane yesterday after following an unsteady course from a weak opening. Volume increased to 23,000 shares from 18,000 Tuesday. Thirty-seven issues advanced, 25 declined, and 36 were unchanged.

Lindsay Light & Chemical, one of the trading favorites, moved up ⅛ to a new 1940-'41 high at 8. Commonwealth Edison, the leader, was off ¼ at 28⅛ in turnover of 2,400 shares.

HIDES SET PRICE PEAK; OTHER STAPLES MIXED

Rubber, Copper, and Wool Futures Decline.

Some commodities for future delivery pulled themselves out of Tuesday's slump yesterday, but buying interest continued slow. Hides advanced to a top 1941 price and domestic sugar, silk, cocoa, and cottonseed oil posted gains. Rubber, tin, copper, and wool tops declined, and Santos coffee was narrowly uneven.

Hides rose 0.08 to 0.15 cent a pound, the June delivery reaching 14.18 cents before closing at 14.17 cents. Domestic sugar came back from early losses with demand that reflected renewed refiner interests in cash raw sugar. Final prices were unchanged to 0.01 cent a pound higher, with May futures at 2.45 cents bid.

Coffee Topples, Steadies.

Santos coffee went into a dive on a government announcement that recent advances in the wholesale staple were "unjustified," but recovered to end in a 0.02 cent range. The May position was 9.07 cents a pound bid.

Rubber dropped 0.15 to 0.24 cent a pound to 22.06 cents for May contracts and the cash price lost 0.18 cent at 22.12 cents. Selling depressed wool tops 0.3 to 1 cent a pound. The May position ended at $1.24 3/10 bid and the cash price eased slightly.

Metal Markets Weak.

Tin futures were unchanged to ¼ cent lower. Copper dipped 0.05 to 0.08 cent a pound, with May futures 11.55 cents. There were no lead futures sales. With the exception of tin, cash metals were firm.

The Commodity Exchange administration reported that futures trading in cotton totaled 3,883,700 bales during March compared with 1,721,250 in February and 2,355,200 in March, 1940. Trading in wool top futures dropped 50 per cent in March to 6,655,000 pounds.

TAX PREJUDGING MEASURE HAILED AS MONEY SAVER

Toman Lists Advantages in New Bill.

John Toman.

County Treasurer John Toman said yesterday that millions of dollars in needless expense to Cook county taxpayers will be saved by the proposed tax prejudication law.

The bill, introduced last month in the state assembly by Senator Richard J. Daley [D., Chicago] would require courts to decide what tax levies are illegal before tax bills are mailed. Under present laws court rulings on tax levies are not obtained until after the bills are payable and only those taxpayers who have paid under protest share in resulting refunds.

Lists Three Advantages.

Toman listed three major advantages to taxpayers that he said would result from prejudging tax levies:

1. The expense of making tax refunds, which Toman estimated will amount to more than 4 million dollars for the tax years 1935 thru 1939, would be eliminated in future years. He said that for 1935-'39 a total of 1,300,000 tax bills was paid under protest and the same number of refunds will eventually be made because of illegal levies. On the basis of refunds that have been made for the tax year 1934, Toman estimated the refund expense in his office at $3.50 for each item.

2. Taxpayers would be in effect receive their refunds in advance, instead of having to wait as much as five years, as under the present system. The treasurer's office is starting to make refunds of illegal levies for 1935. This delay results from the involved court litigation over the levies and the backlog of refunds for prior years that had to be cleaned up first by Toman's office.

3. All taxpayers would receive the same treatment, inasmuch as levies held illegal in the courts would be deducted from all tax bills instead of only bills paid under protest.

Protests on Increase.

Toman made public figures showing that an increasing number of taxpayers have been protesting their bills every year, thus getting the right to refunds, but adding to the refund expense which must be billed back to taxpayers.

The number of taxpayers protesting and the approximate amounts of refunds to be made, by tax years, follows:

	Protests.	Estimated refunds.
1935	113,000	$1,000,000
1936	117,000	1,200,000
1937	120,000	2,800,000
1938	[illegible]	[illegible]
1939	[illegible]	[illegible]

*Levies not yet ruled upon by courts.

The treasurer's office has 57 men employed in the tax objection and refund departments to deal with contested payments and refunds. Toman said many taxpayers who own small bills pay a fee of $3 or $5 to attorneys to handle their protests and that this in some instances exceed the amount of the refund.

Laws to prejudge taxes have been passed twice by the state assembly but have been held invalid on constitutional grounds by the Illinois Supreme court. Senator Daley believes his bill meets the high court's previous objections.

CANADIAN MONEY DIPS ON DENIAL 'PEG' IS PLANNED

Denials by President Roosevelt and Canadian Finance Minister James L. Ilsley of reports that negotiations were under way to peg the Canadian dollar at par with the United States dollar yesterday ended the speculative play that on Tuesday had boosted the dominion currency 2¼ cents in New York foreign exchange dealings. The Canadian dollar slipped 0.43¾ cent to a closing quotation of 87 cents.

Bankers reported that Tuesday's turnover of Canadian exchange was one of the heaviest in months. Estimates of the volume ranged as high as $200,000, or 20 times as large as the recent slow daily trading.

SEC Calls United Gas Hearing on Stock Sale

Washington, D. C., April 2 (AP).—The Securities and Exchange commission today ordered a hearing April 7 on the United Gas Improvement company's proposal to sell 701,253 shares of common stock of the Connecticut Light and Power company. It was believed that the question of arm's length bargaining in connection with the underwriting of the securities by Drexel & Co. would be raised.

People and Events

Kenneth E. Armstrong, controler of Marshall Field & Co., resigned yesterday after 22 years in the executive offices of the firm. He had been assistant treasurer and secretary. Armstrong made no announcement of future plans. A successor is expected to be named after the board meeting Friday.

More than 1,000 registrations have been made for the forum sponsored by the Illinois Manufacturers' association this evening in the La Salle hotel on obtaining and keeping an adequate labor supply. C. R. Dooley, national director of the government's training in industry program, will be one of the speakers.

The 19th annual midwest safety conference, sponsored by the Greater Chicago Safety council and coöperating agencies, will be held in the Hotel Sherman May 6 thru 8.

CATERPILLAR TRACTOR TO GIVE PAY INSTEAD OF 2 WEEK VACATIONS

The Caterpillar Tractor company, Peoria, yesterday notified its employés that because of the arms program it will be necessary to suspend vacations this year. However, on Aug. 1 employés will receive a check covering the vacation period to which they would have been entitled under the company's vacation plan put into effect on Oct. 29, 1939.

Even the employment is now at its highest point in the company's history, the announcement said, production is not enough to satisfy requirements for the armament program. "Nationwide sentiment calls for uninterrupted effort in supplying the military needs," it added.

The company said it is hoped it will be able to restore the vacations next year. Under its plan hourly workers as well as others received two week vacations with pay.

DEPOSITS BREAK RECORDS OF TWO NEW YORK BANKS

New York, April 2 (AP).—The quarterly condition statements of the Chase National bank and Guaranty Trust company of New York, the first and third largest of the nation's commercial banks, disclosed today a rise in deposits to the highest levels on record.

The Chase bank reported deposits as of March 31 of $3,617,530,000, compared with $3,543,338,000 on Dec. 31. Total resources increased to $3,890,245,000 from $3,824,403,000 on Dec. 31. Investments in United States government securities rose to $1,252,185,000 from $1,098,108,000, and loans and discounts to $690,342,000 from $664,189,000.

Guaranty Trust disclosed deposits of $2,520,172,054, against $2,423,223,952 on Dec. 31. Total resources expanded to $2,813,930,185, highest in the bank's history from $2,718,966,014. Holdings of United States government issues declined to $1,104,851,361 from $1,137,212,693.

J. P. Morgan & Co. showed deposits of $695,330,859, against $719,913,403 three months earlier. Total assets were $750,893,473, compared with $772,864,192. United States government securities rose to $399,394,521 from $361,333,144.

Fewer Reporting Mines Produce More Coal in '40

Last year's coal output reported by 136 shipping firms in Illinois totaled 45,977,479 tons, compared with 42,994,107 tons produced by 146 mines reporting in 1939, the department of mines and minerals announced yesterday. The average number of days per month worked by miners in 1940 was 15.6, compared with 12.3 days in 1939. Ten mines—seven of which were deep and three strip mines—produced more than a million tons during the year.

BELL SYSTEM.

What does the Bell System include? Please furnish me with a report on the system.—C. M.

Answer: The Bell system is made up of the American Telephone and Telegraph company, the parent firm, and its 19 major operating subsidiaries. A. T. & T. also owns more than 99 per cent of the Western Electric company, largest telephone equipment maker, and controls Bell Telephone Laboratories and other companies.

The system is the world's largest public utility organization. It operates 17,484,000 telephones, representing about 80 per cent of all phones in the United States and 40 per cent of the world total.

The parent company operates the network of long distance lines and maintains cable and radio connections thru which in normal times 93 per cent of the world's telephones can be reached. A. T. & T. also furnishes technical and financial services to its operating subsidiaries and three other companies which it has licensed to use its patented equipment.

The earnings record of the last five years follows:

	Operating Revenues.	Net income.	Earned per share.
1936	$ 994,852,000	$184,745,000	$ 9.89
1937	1,051,379,000	182,343,000	9.76
1938	1,052,658,000	155,543,000	8.32
1939	1,107,188,000	190,281,000	10.18
1940	1,174,323,000	210,497,000	11.26

A. T. & T. has paid dividends of $9 a share each year since 1921, altho earnings in 5 of the last 10 years did not cover the dividends. From 1900 thru 1921 dividends ranged from $7.50 to $8.50 a share.

Capitalization of the company consists of 18,686,794 shares of $100 par common stock which is held by 631,000 stockholders, and funded debt of $1,130,262,000. Current assets at the end of 1940 amounted to $399,113,093, including cash of $189,546,973, against current liabilities of $260,573,026.

INVESTMENT ADVISERS.

Can you tell me how many investment advisers are registered with the Securities and Exchange commission? —R. J.

Answer: The SEC has reported that as of Feb. 18, 709 investment advisers had registered under the investment advisers act of 1940.

AIR CARGO.

Who organized Air Cargo, Inc.? —G. M.

Answer: The company was formed by American Airlines, Eastern Air Lines, Transcontinental and Western Air, and United Air Lines.

PLAN U. S. PRICE PEGGING TO LIFT MEAT SUPPLIES

Prepare for Lend-Lease Boost in Demands.

Washington, D. C., April 2 (AP).—A broad program to encourage increased production of meat, dairy, and poultry products to meet larger needs anticipated under the lend-lease program will be announced probably tomorrow by the agriculture department.

The program contemplates pegging prices of these products at levels which would encourage expanded production. The price pegging mechanism would be government operations in the commodity markets.

Approved at White House.

Officials said the program was approved at a White House conference yesterday attended by Secretary of Agriculture Claude Wickard and Leon Henderson of the defense commission. It will be submitted tomorrow to the national agricultural advisory council, composed of representatives of the food processing and distributing trade, farmers, the public, and labor.

Under the program, the department would assure producers that the price of corn, principal live stock feed, would not advance beyond current levels. The department would also take steps to make government owned corn available to producers at about current market prices.

Aim at Higher Hog Prices.

Production of hogs has declined during the last year, largely because of the unfavorable relation of corn prices to hog prices. The new program, officials said, probably would be designed to boost hog prices somewhat above present levels.

Meanwhile the senate, considering the $1,340,610,744 agriculture supply bill, reached the controversial parity item after approving, mostly without dissent, numerous other committee amendments. Parity payments are designed to raise farmers' purchasing power to a level comparable with the years 1909 to 1914.

PHONE INCREASE BRINGS NEW BELL SYSTEM RECORD

Principal operating subsidiaries of the American Telephone and Telegraph company had a net gain of 123,700 telephones in service during March, bringing the total number to 17,854,800, a new high record, the company reported yesterday. The first quarter's gain was 371,500, against 260,200 a year ago.

The Illinois Bell Telephone company reported that 1,043,952 telephone were in service in Chicago at the end of March, representing another all time record, a gain of 2,998 during the month and an increase of 11,050 since the first of the year.

VULTEE AIRCRAFT COMPLETES ITS NASHVILLE PLANT

Nashville, Tenn., April 2 (AP).—Officials of the Nashville division of Vultee Aircraft, Inc., claimed today completion of the first new major airplane factory between the Rocky and Alleghany mountains under the armament program.

W. V. Bogart, plant engineer, said 4,600 tons of steel framework was placed in less than nine weeks.

Expansion of the plant, started last October, cost approximately $5,000,000 and brought the total floor space to 900,000 square feet.

IMPORTS OF BEEF REACH HIGHEST LEVEL SINCE 1919

Meat Exports Decline More in February.

Beef imports by the United States last month were the largest for any February in 22 years, the department of commerce reported yesterday. Most of the volume consisted of fresh and frozen carcasses from Cuba, and canned meat from Argentina. The total, at 9,275,081 pounds, compared with 6,868,303 pounds a year ago, and 3,356,678 two years ago.

Imports of beef for the first two months of 1941 were the heaviest since 1919, totaling 17,830,457 pounds.

Exports at All-Time Low.

Owing to this flood of beef from the south, and another drop in exports, the trade balance for United States packers in foreign markets was the most adverse for February on government records. Total exports of all meats, exclusive of lard, aggregated only 3,852,319 pounds, a new all-time February low.

Imports of all meats last month totaled 10,887,928 pounds, an increase of 47 per cent over the 7,392,869 pounds received a year ago. The country received 7,035,609 pounds more meat than was shipped out, whereas during February last year exports exceeded the imports by 22,056,315 pounds.

REPORT BRITAIN ASKS TO DELAY STEEL DELIVERY

With British steel production exceeding expectations, that country has suspended its orders in the United States for all carbon steels for two months, or "until further notice," Iron Age said yesterday. While steel alloys were not affected, the suspension has eased the intense pressure on steel mills but will make no difference in the rate of steel production, according to the trade publication.

"Other orders on mill books will replace the British tonnage and some consumers may obtain shipments a little sooner than they expected," the magazine said.

"Should there be work stoppage at the mines, the iron and steel industry would not be immediately affected because of coal and coke stocks on hand. Some tight spots might develop within a week, however, at certain beehive coke ovens which are serving merchant blast furnaces."

BANK STOCKS

Northern Trust shares declined 5 points and La Salle National a point yesterday in Chicago bank stock trading. Industrial National preferred advanced ½ point and Continental Illinois eased ¼ point.

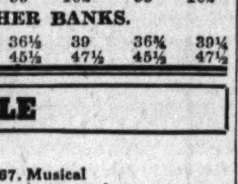
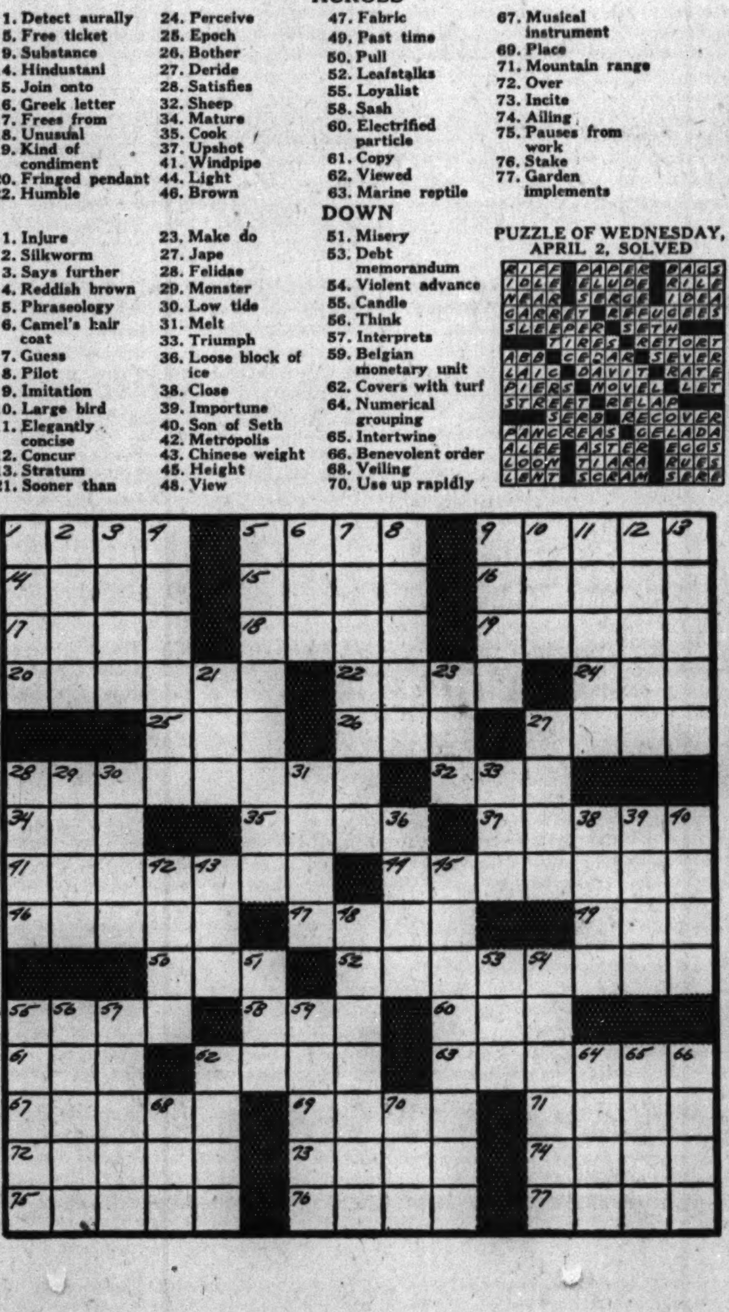
PUZZLE OF WEDNESDAY, APRIL 2, SOLVED

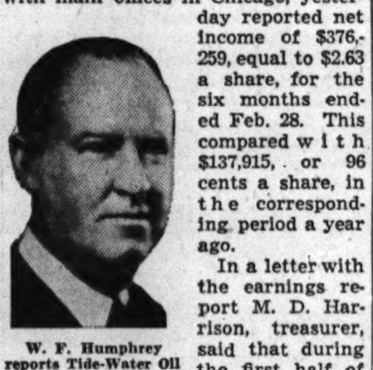




PROFIT OF UNITED SPECIALTIES FOR 6 MONTHS RISES

Official Reports Selling Prices Will Drop.

The United Specialties company, with main offices in Chicago, yesterday reported net income of $376,259, equal to $2.63 a share, for the six months ended Feb. 28. This compared with $137,915, or 96 cents a share, in the corresponding period a year ago.



W. F. Humphrey reports Tide-Water Oil earnings rise.

In a letter with the earnings report M. D. Harrison, treasurer, said that during the first half of the company's fiscal year the billing prices were considerably higher than those which will apply for the last half. The company is principally a manufacturer of automotive products and parts. Its fiscal year will end Aug. 31.

Tide Water Profit Rises.

Consolidated net income of the Tide Water Associated Oil company in 1940 amounted to $9,519,083, equal to $1.14 a share, against $8,958,971, or $1.05 a share, in 1939, William F. Humphrey, president, announced.

Reporting that the industry in general attained new high levels in production of crude oil and the manufacture of petroleum products during the year, Humphrey said that the price situation stood as a barrier to improvement in earnings for the industry.

The Nachman Spring-Filled corporation, maker of springs for furniture and mattresses, reported net income of $148,534, equal to $1.70, for the six months ended Dec. 31, compared with $138,870, or $1.59 a share, in the corresponding period a year earlier. The company's main offices are in Chicago.

MEN

THIS IS YOUR BUSINESS

We make a straight from the shoulder statement of a business possibility that will cost you money to ignore, and nothing to investigate.

Our deal is a brand new and an entirely new invention and amazingly different.

Now we are not spending money to kid any one and I am not interested in men answering this ad who are just trying to get work. I want men who really want work.

We have 60 men in this organization who are happy making money. Absolutely no investment on your part. We pay rent, light, heat, stenographer, etc.; place you where the business is and pay you weekly. Earnings will average $50 to $100 a week on a commission and bonus basis.

I want good men, others stay away. I will prove that you can make $50 a week on sales now if you really want a job.

Investigate this profitable business and this new amazing electrical unit, which is financed by the U. S. government thru the F. H. A.

Apply Thursday, 11 a. m. sharp. No other time. Come prepared to spend balance of day if selected. 510 North Dearborn-street. Room 528.
